Job Survey To Be Held Locally

A sample of households in Garrett County will be visited by Bureau of the Census interviewers during the work week of April 14-19, 1980, to conduct the Bureau's monthly survey of employment and unemployment, Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced this week.

Households in this area are part of a sample of 84,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U. S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The February survey indicated that of the 104.3 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 98.0 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate 6.0 percent, compared to 6.2 percent in January.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Local Students To Be Checked For Scoliosis

Scoliosis, a curvature of the spine, is a problem that exists in about three percent of all teenagers and persists into adulthood, frequently becoming progressively worse, according to the Garrett County Health Department. At first, the curvature of the spine may be mild and unnoticeable without careful examination. However, without treatment, this curvature can increase and cause heart, lung and back problems in later life, in addition to the obvious affect on one's appearance, according to the Department. Treatment is most effective if the curvature is detected at a young age. This spring, the physical education teachers and the physical therapist from the Garrett County Board of Education along with the public health nurses from the Garrett County Health Department, will be screening all students in sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade for scoliosis. The screening involves examining the child's back while he/she stands in certain positions. If any abnormalities are observed, a form will be sent home to the parents advising a further examination by a physician. This is the first year a joint program for screening scoliosis has been initiated in Garrett County. Other states have had similar programs which have been quite beneficial to the children detected with scoliosis, the Department said. The success of this program requires the support of the parents and the students, the Department concluded. SWANTON There will be an old-fashioned praise and hymn sing at the Otterbein United Methodist Church this Saturday, April 12th at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Covered Dish Dinner Planned The Annual Spring Covered Dish Dinner for the St. Paul's United Methodist Women will be held in the church Fellowship Hall on Wednesday, April 16, at 6:30 p.m. The speaker will be Rev. Heather Elkins of Buckhannon, W. Va., who will present "The Parables of Jesus." All women are invited to bring a dish and attend. Subscribe to The Republican

Sales Tax Revenue Below Estimates

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced that Retail Sales and Use Tax revenues for March 1980 totaled $50,353,812. "That's 5.2 percent more than the $47,862,037 collected during March 1979, but is approximately $550,000 below the estimated sales tax revenue for March 1980," Mr. Goldstein said.

Sales tax revenue for February 1980 was approximately $1.2 million below the revenue estimate and below actual collections for February 1979. The declines are reflective of tightening consumer credit and high interest rates.

"We are continuing to monitor the sales tax collections closely because there are four months of sales tax revenue remaining Fiscal Year 1980. The actual collections for the first eight months of this fiscal year are now less than one percent over estimates. A continued falloff in the remaining months of the fiscal year could mean that sales tax revenues might finish the year below estimates, lessening the anticipated General Fund Surplus for Fiscal Year 1980," Comptroller Goldstein said.

For the first eight months of Fiscal Year 1980, sales tax revenues total $475,798,392.

Last Minute Tax Help Offered

"The deadline is inching closer and closer for those individuals still working on their Maryland income tax returns, and this weekend presents the last opportunity for extra taxpayer assistance," Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced.

All 12 regional offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will remain open on Saturday, April 12, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. to offer extra assistance for taxpayers who haven't filed their State returns yet.

In addition, State income taxpayers will also be able to call in for help during evening hours on Monday, April 14, when the telephone lines in all of the offices will be open from 4:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m.

All of the offices will also remain open on Tuesday, April 15—the deadline for filing returns—from 8:30 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. to offer additional help for last-minute filers.

"It is not uncommon for taxpayers to make mathematical errors, forget to attach W-2 forms or checks, and even forget to sign their returns while they're rushing to meet the April 15th deadline," Mr. Goldstein added. "So be sure to double-check all of your information, and feel free to call or visit any of our offices and our courteous tax experts will be glad to help you in any way."

Mr. Goldstein also reminded taxpayers that, for the first time this year, the Maryland income tax packet contains a Homeowners' Property Tax Credit Application which should be mailed in its own separate envelope to the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation.

"It's important to remember that there are two separate envelopes in your tax packet—one for your tax return and one for the property tax form," Mr. Goldstein added. "Please be sure to keep these two forms separate, and mail each in its proper envelope."

SATURN'S DENSITY
The ringed planet has a mass or weight equal to 95 Earths. Its volume is 815 Earths. This computes to a density less than that of water. This means that if an ocean of water large enough could be found, Saturn could be floated in it.

MOON
Monday, the Moon will be 358,289 kilometers (222,678 miles) from the Earth. This perigee is the closest that Earth and Moon will be during April. Moonset will be at 34 minutes past noon 1:39 p.m. today. Next Tuesday moonset will be at 7:42 p.m. The New Moon will occur on Monday at 10:46 p.m.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible to the unaided eye this week. Venus will pass near the Hyades star cluster in Taurus and will set about 4 hours after the Sun sets. Mars and Jupiter remain near the sickle of Leo. They will set about 2 hours before the Sun will set. Saturn will set shortly before sunrise with the stars on the east side of Leo.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

By next Tuesday there will be 16 minutes more daylight than there will be today. The sun rose at 5:49 this morning. Sunset will be at 6:49 p.m. Next Tuesday, sunrise will be at 5:40 a.m. followed 13 hours 16 minutes later by sunset at 6:56 p.m.

Today is the 101st day of 1980. At noon, the sun will be in the same place in the sky today that it will be next September 1st.

Specialist Offers Lawn Care Tips

You're not really helping your lawn if you bombard it each spring with grass seed, lime and fertilizer, says Dr. Thomas R. Turner, Extension turfgrass specialist at the University of Maryland in College Park.

A proper spring lawn care program should aim to control or prevent insect or disease infestation and the growth of unwanted vegetation such as chickweed, crabgrass and wild onion.

For controlling crabgrass, Dr. Turner encourages the use of pre-emergence herbicides. These chemicals can be found in most garden stores, and they should be applied each spring between mid-March and mid-April. Broadleaf weeds, like chickweed and dandelion, can be controlled with the use of 2, 4-D, MCPP, or dicamba.

While most herbicides are relatively safe, caution should be observed when applying them to a lawn, he says. "Remember to follow directions on the container labels closely, especially when using dicamba, which can harm shrubs and trees," Turner said.

Grubs, which are the larvae of Japanese beetles, are another lawn pest. They live beneath the soil and feed on grass roots. One of the most effective control measures for grubs is the application of milky spore disease powder to the lawn. Milky spore is a bacterial disease that kills grubs without harming other insects, vegetation or animals—including humans. It is extremely safe and should be applied to your lawn once, in either late spring or summer, Turner said.

Leaf spot is another lawn pest. It is a fungus that may cause a browning or thinning of grass. Adding nitrogen fertilizer to the lawn in the spring only promotes its growth, according to Turner. Leaf spot can easily be controlled with the use of Dyrene and Daconil. Both of these chemicals are available at most garden stores.

For further information on lawn care, persons should contact the county Extension Service office for a free booklet, Lawn Care in Maryland (Extension Bulletin 171).

Robesons Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robeson, Star Route, Frostburg, were honored at a surprise 40th wedding anniversary celebration March 28 at the Mt. Zion United Methodist Church. The party, held in the social hall, was given by Misses Clara and Leanna Layman, sisters of Mrs. Robeson, and the ladies of the Mt. Zion Church.

Edwin and Zeola Robeson were married March 23, 1940, in Winchester, Va. Mr. Robeson is the son of the late Enoch and Lillie Blocher Robeson, who were residents of Avilton. Mr. Robeson is a retired self-employed business man, member of the Grantsville Lions Club for 18 years, member of United Commercial Travelers, Cumberland for 35 years, and past lay leader and trustee of the Mt. Zion United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Robeson is the daughter of the late Charles and Naoma (Otto) Layman, and a native of Frostburg. Mrs. Robeson retired in 1971 with 41 years of service with the Garrett County Board of Education. She is a member and past officer of Eta and Alpha Alpha of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, member of Frostburg Hospital Auxiliary, Frostburg, Homemakers, Route 40 Homemakers, Eastern Garrett County Auxiliary and the Garrett County Republican Club. She is also a member of the Mt. Zion W.S.C.S., chairperson of the Administrative Board of the Mt. Zion Church, secretary and treasurer of the Sunday School.

A corsage of white and ruby cymbidiums was presented to Mrs. Robeson by Mrs. Carolyn Gano, and a white boutonniere to Mr. Robeson by Mrs. Lois Rowe. The flowers were a gift from Misses Clara and Leanna Layman. A ruby and white floral centerpiece, given to the couple by the United Methodist W.S.C.S. group, adorned the couple's table.

Mrs. Connie Burdock and Mrs. Lois Rowe sang The Anniversary Song, When You and I Were Young, Maggie; Love's Old Sweet Song, and O Perfect Love. Remarks and congratulations were given by Rev. Sadie Triplett. Mrs. Jennie Stark read a poem "Remember These Words." Rev. Triplett provided the prayer for the evening.

Decorations of ruby and white were carried out in the social room. Candles and floral wreaths adorned the guest tables. The three-tiered cake was made by Mrs. Lois Rowe. Miss Nancy Hater assisted with the cake decorations. Mrs. Rowe and Mrs. Sheila Baker served the cake. The ladies of the church prepared and served refreshments.

Mrs. Carol Bowen and Mrs. Patsy Pope attended the gift table. A message written by Mrs. Gladys Durst, a former classmate of Mrs. Robeson's, was read by Mrs. Pope.

Approximately 115 guests attended.

H-P Closes Loch Lynn Warehouse

The H-P Stores, Inc. warehouse in Loch Lynn will be permanently shutting down operations in the next two months, in order to relieve the retail business of mounting distribution costs due to inflation, announced Irvin Feld, company president.

The closing, announced Thursday, will result in the furlough of 22 of the 27 full-time warehouse employees. The remaining five will be employed elsewhere in the company.

Feld stated the company management offices, also housed in the warehouse, will not be affected by the shutdown, nor will the 20 H-P retail stores located in Maryland, West Virginia or Pennsylvania.

The move is in line with the trend among most chain stores similar to the H-P Stores, Inc., who have found that direct shipment of goods from manufacturers to the stores is more efficient and economical than transporting the manufactured goods to the stores from the warehouse, said Feld.

Feld noted one of the reasons the company has waited so long to convert to direct shipment was because of the furlough of workers which would result. But with trucks and rail service transporting goods to stores within a 225-mile radius, the costs became too high, stated Feld.

He emphasized that the shutdown would add the company in keeping its costs down which would "keep the prices of our merchandise in line and as competitive as it has always been."

"We are attempting to secure other employment for those workers who had to be terminated," stated Feld who has been actively involved with management of the company since 1979.

He added that the company is actively seeking a buyer for the 60,000 square foot warehouse which has direct rail service. The company plans to keep its offices which comprise an additional 6,000 square feet of space at the warehouse.

"We regret very much the loss of jobs," said Feld. "But if we are successful in securing an occupant for the warehouse, it could result in more jobs for the county."

Accident Secures Family Doctor

By Kathy Bailey

After years of working, waiting and hoping, the town of Accident has taken down its sign and its plea for help, having found a doctor for the area. Dr. Walter K. Naumann, 35, who now resides in Minneapolis, Minnesota, has been chosen for the position from eight doctors interviewed and a host of others who were considered not sufficiently qualified by the Accident Community Health Board.

Dr. Naumann was born in Southern Indiana and spent most of his childhood there. His father is a former missionary who raised a family of six. Dr. Naumann's family lived in Indiana, but returned to the United States on furlough every five or six years. His schooling was obtained at a boarding school for American children of missionaries, keeping with American culture and customs. Dr. Naumann graduated from this school in 1963, at the head of his class. He said, "my early goal in life was to be a missionary," and he attended Concordia College in St. Paul and Concordia Senior College in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, for three years. "Gradually," he said, "I became aware that I could not be satisfied in the ministry, and transferred to the University of Minnesota for premedical training.

Dr. Naumann's undergraduate work was interrupted when he was drafted into the United States Army and served three years. Flying, aeromedical evacuation and air crash rescue helicopters. During his military service he met Sandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maier, formerly of Garrett County, who is now his wife. At one time Sandy attended Southern High School in Oakland, and her family now lives on a farm near Tunnelton, WV. They were married in 1972 and moved to Minnesota where Dr. Naumann completed his undergraduate work, with a major in psychology and a chemistry minor at the University of Minnesota. He received an M.D. degree in 1977.

Since that time Dr. Naumann has been in the Family Practice Residency of University of Minnesota Hospitals and will complete his residency this June, granting him Continued on Page Four

Garrett County Playhouse Lists Season Offerings

The Garrett County Playhouse will open its doors on Tuesday, July 8, for its 20th Season on Deep Creek Lake, according to Gene Yell, producer.

The opening production, "The Fantasticks" by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, will open on Tuesday in order to play five nights, but the remaining six shows will play Wednesday through Saturday as usual.

In addition to "The Fantasticks" the 1980 Season will include "Murder in Company" by Philip King and John Boland; Alan Ayckbourn's "Table Manners" from "The Norman Conquests"; "Nadine Needs a Nightie" by Neil and Caroline Shaffer; Jean Kerr's "Marty"; Neil Simon's "Barefoot in the Park"; and "A Thousand Clowns" by Herb Gardner.

"The Fantasticks," based on Rodard's "The Romanians," has by now carved itself a place in American History as well as in theatre lore. Yell said. Still playing at the Sullivan Street Theatre in New York City after more than 20 years, it is also the most popular show ever produced at the Garrett County Playhouse, he said. Because of the many requests for it over the 12 years since its first production here, Mr. Yell and musical director Carolyn Lambert-Witt stated they now feel that they have assembled a cast to undertake the difficult show.

Season tickets for the playhouse, which provide eight admissions, may be obtained from Robert Stanton, Oakland.

Heavy Rainfall Causes $400,000 Damage To County Roadways

Many days of work by Garrett County road crews have resulted in the partial reopening of several county roads heavily damaged by the severe wind and rain storm of April 1, which produced much widespread washout, mudslide, and debris hazards, totaling $400,000 in loss estimates. Application has been made for federal disaster assistance.

Herbert F. McCrobie, Garrett County Roads Administrator, cited three major trouble spots, including Savage River Road, from Westernport to Dry Run Road; Big Run Road, from New Germany Road, and portions of Pea Ridge Road. Approximately 12 miles of the Savage River and Big Run Road were eroded by the heavy rains, measuring nearly three inches in the affected area.

Fifteen permanent families were stranded for some time, but now have partial access to their homes via one-way traffic. McCrobie also reported water damage to more than 75 summer homes, cottages, and cabins in the Savage River area.

A report given by the Road Administrator's office on Tuesday morning revealed that much has been done to improve the situation in recent days, but the department expects complete repairs to take a month or more.

A spokesman for the Garrett County Civil Defense department stated that office was called in to examine the county and help evaluate the predicament. No emergency calls were received by Civil Defense, but it remains on constant stand-by.

Commissioners View Dumpster Site Conditions

County citizens' abuse of dumpster sites was the major topic of discussion for the county commissioners Tuesday when they met with Herb McCrobie, administrator of the County Roads Department and solid waste department.

The commissioners and McCrobie tried to come up with solutions to improving the conditions of the dumpster sites, which are used by citizens as a dumping ground for items which the solid waste department says should be taken to the county's landfill site.

The only solutions suggested would mean additional costs to county taxpayers. McCrobie thought the purchase of more equipment and employment of more workers to clear the dumpster sites more often would help. The commissioners recognized that the acquisition of more landfill sites would also help.

The commissioners took no immediate action.

In other commissioners' business, Ernie Metz of the Maryland Forest Service requested the commissioners make a proclamation designating the sugar maple tree the official tree of Garrett County.

He told the commissioners a program had been conducted in county schools in which the children voted to select the sugar maple as the county tree. Official ceremonies to designate the sugar maple as the county tree will be held Wednesday, April 23, at Camp Hickory. The commissioners agreed to support the children's vote.

Metz stated that a sugar maple seedling will be given to every school in the county.

Dr. William Pope, director of the Garrett County Health Department, presented the department's proposed FY1981 budget to the commissioners and reported that the department was able to operate on less money in FY1980 than had been locally appropriated. He asked the commissioners to sign a contract with the state for a state-local matching fund program for FY1980. The commissioners had not previously signed the contract because they had not formally adopted a budget.

Pope also informed the commissioners that a three-gallon donor and Olen Yoder completed his fourth gallon. The volunteer nurses were Audrey Kinsinger, Mildred Beachy, Helen Dice, Sara Wenger, Pauline Fawcett, Blaine Must, Marvin Yoder, Cora Anna Yoder, Barbara Schunk, Freda Must, Dottie Gilpin, Rachel Miller and Alice Wendell.

Other volunteers were Lois Bender, Glenda Yoder, Lois Darg, Ella Rice, Hazel Kutz, Alice Younkis, Mabel Breneman, Kathryn Bower, Nellie Breneman, Jean Rembold, Sue Leachy, Joyce Lapp, Esther Durr, Carol Warnick and Ruth Stanton.

Organizations and businesses which contributed in various ways were Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department and Auxiliary, Yoder's Locker Plant, Buckel's Market, Potomac Farms Dairy and radio station WYH.

Mrs. Philip Bender and Mrs. Wayne Durr were coordinators for the VHS.

State Aid, Teachers' Salaries Present Prospect Of Change In School Budget

Two new developments, of funds being requested locally," he is not willing to state exactly how those funds will be used or how much of an effect the money will have on the Board's local request until he has received official directives from the state how the money is to be used. "I don't know how much is categorical or how much is open," he commented.

The commissioners are expecting the aid to reduce the state sub-committee recommendation increase by the Board of $1,319,075 over FY1980 which would make the total local share $5,478,578, part of the reason for requested increase was to partially make up for ground lost in the past school year when the school system was forced to survive an over $1 million cut in the budget.

Traditionally, the commissioners have never funded the total request by the Board of Education, according to Dr. Continued on Page Five

Appeals Court Upholds Local Court Decision Declaring Tax Rate Illegal

The Maryland Court of Appeals Monday ruled that the Garrett County Board of Commissioners acted illegally in adopting a county tax levy and it would have to operate the county under a lower tax rate than wanted for Fiscal Year 1980.

The ruling upheld the August 2 decision of Judge Fred A. Thayer, of the Garrett County Circuit Court, that the commissioners had failed to adopt the tax rate as they should have.

"I am pleased to hear the results," said Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Garrett, Allegany) who filed the suit challenging the commissioners' action June 29, 1979.

His suit charged that the commissioners had failed to comply with state law concerning procedures for setting a tax rate above the constant yield tax rate when they did not announce the date, time and place the rate would be adopted during the June 11, 1979 public hearing to present the county budget and tax rate.

The high court ruled with Judge Thayer that the June 19, 1979 adoption of a tax rate was invalid because of the commissioners' violation of the law and that their attempt to rectify the situation by advertising in The Republican that public hearing on July 10, 1979 would be conducted to adopt the tax rate was also invalid because it was after the state mandated deadline of midnight June 30 to adopt a tax rate.

Though Hunter had hoped the Court of Appeals ruling would be different he stated he had never had any intention of sending out another tax bill to make up the difference if the court had overthrown Thayer's decision.

The decision came two and one-half months before the end of FY80, a year beset with financial difficulty for the county. Besides the $797,000 shortfall caused by the reduced tax rate from $2.66 (which includes a $0.40 allocation for fire departments) per $100 of assessed value to $2.37, the commissioners have had to grapple with other revenue shortfalls and unexpected expenses not to mention the $500,000 deficit the county had as it entered the 1980 fiscal year.

The commissioners have borrowed $750,000 from two local banks but state law prohibits them from borrowing more because they can only borrow against unpaid taxes. As those unpaid taxes come in, the county must pay back the loan.

Commissioner Lester Hunter, who was disappointed with the outcome of the appeal but has said he will "probably live with it," has changed his previously optimistic outlook on the county's financial situation by predicting the worst is still to come. The county was just now able to pay off 90 day old bills for the county roads department after a $300,000 revenue sharing check arrived Friday. It was also able to pay a $300,000 bill to the Board of Education, due since the first of the month. Hunter says another $300,000 is due to the Board of Education in another two weeks.

The appeals court disagreed with lawyers for the county commissioners who claimed that the legal requirements of notice and timing of public budget matters were "directory" not mandatory, allowing some flexibility in the law. In an unanimous opinion written by Judge Lawrence F. McKenzie on Page Four

Funds Allotted For Finzel Park

A recreational grant for eastern Garrett County to develop a local park in the Finzel area was approved on Thursday, April 10, by the Maryland Board of Public Works, according to Edgar A. Lotz, president of the Eastern Garrett County Recreational Association.

Residents of Finzel, Avilton, and Long Stretch will be served by the Eastern Garrett County Recreational Area.

An allocation of $20,308 has been approved by the Board of Public Works. The area to be served has to provide matching funds of $5,000.

The association now has $1,300, but will have to raise the difference in order to obtain the state grant, Mr. Lotz said.

The recreation area will include a family pavilion, a softball field, tennis courts, the parking lot entrance road, and an appropriate sign.

The community organization was formed to develop the park. The Garrett County Board of Commissioners and the association have a joint agreement to cooperate in maintenance of the park and recreational facilities.

David Woodland of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources announced approval of the grant at a meeting of the association at the Eastern Garrett Community Hall in Finzel.

NO JOKE — People have often said jokingly that Garrett County has two seasons: winter and the Fourth of July. A peek out the window this morning might lead one to believe that it's no joke, as over two inches of snow hit the mountaintop last night. Thirteen State Road trucks and 26 men went into action during the night and were joined by county crews at 7 a.m.

One Hospitalized After Recent Auto Accident

William James Fazanbaker, 31, Bloomington, was injured in a one car accident on April 7. Fazanbaker was operating his vehicle southbound on Hammill Avenue in Bloomington when he apparently fell asleep, and proceeded through the intersection of North Branch Road, coming to rest on an embankment, according to Maryland State Police reports.

The Tri-Towns Rescue Squad responded, transporting Fazanbaker to the Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser, W. Va., where he was admitted with a back injury. He has since been released. There was no damage to the auto, a 1977 Chrysler Newport.

Several persons escaped injury in an accident Saturday evening along Md. Route 135 at approximately 9:20 p.m.

According to police reports, Stuart Fairfax Hamill, 63, of Mt. Lake Park, was traveling eastbound in the westbound lane before striking a car operated by Clement B. Hardesty, 20, of Deer Park.

Hardesty had pulled his vehicle onto the shoulder of the roadway and stopped in a futile attempt to avoid being struck by the Hamill auto. Passengers in the Hardesty vehicle were identified as Clifford Paul Tasker, 39, and Judith Louise Tasker, 36, of Mt. Lake Park.

According to Maryland State Police, Hamill was charged with operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol, and failure to keep to right of center. Hamill was arrested for driving while intoxicated and released on his own recognizance. There were no injuries, although the 1973 Dodge Dart driven by Hardesty and the 1979 Dodge Colt driven by Hamill were both disabled.

Health Fair '80 Set For Weekend

Health Fair '80, sponsored locally by the Garrett County Health Department and Garrett County Memorial Hospital, will offer free health screening to county residents this weekend. Two fairs will be held, the first at Grantsville Health Center, Friday, from 2 to 8 p.m.; the second at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Numerous screening tests will be offered, as well as educational booths and demonstrations on health care. Participants may have a large series of blood tests taken for a minimal charge, and those taking the blood tests must fast for a period of four to eight hours prior to the tests.

Garrett Bus System will provide free transportation to and from both fairs. Friday bus stops will be the Friendsville Post Office at 5 p.m. and Accident Zion Lutheran Church at 5:30 p.m. and on to Grantsville. Saturday bus stops will be Hutton at 12:15 p.m. and Crellin Community Center at 12:30 p.m., then on to Oakland. The bus stop times are approximate, and drivers will wait until all passengers have completed the screening process before departing from the fairs.

Persons 18 years of age and older are eligible to take the screening tests. The Health Fair is not a substitute for a physical examination by a doctor, but a series of tests designed to detect diseases before they become serious, according to the Health Fair committee.

Persons attending the fair may choose the tests they wish to take. Health Fairs are being held this week throughout the state in recognition of National Health Fair Week. They are entirely voluntary on the part of every community and are designed to provide tests and education for the promotion of good health.

The Preservation Of Life — Part IV

Editor's note: the following is the final article in a four-part series concerning the nursing profession. The series will examine problems in the nursing field and the contributions and sacrifices made by nurses. The series will include personal interviews with Garrett County nurses in various institutions and work situations, and will explore the progress made by the nursing profession and its possible future.

By Kathy Railey

The Golden Nursing Rule
Whenever you feel unable to respond to a client;
Whenever you do not know what to say;
Whenever you want to help but do not know what would be helpful...
Place yourself in the client's world;
Be in that time and space;
Ask yourself the question asked by you:
Feel what you think he feels...
Then say what you would like to hear;
Do what you would like to have done.

Elaine L. LaMonica

Nursing in a hospital requires, in many institutions, furthering education and specialty training. The workload is heavy and emergencies arise daily. Nurses in hospitals are employed in various units or wards, all geared toward various specialties, but total nursing skills are utilized, and hospital nurses must be equipped and prepared to do everything, to be able to deal with emergencies and adapt to many ages, conditions and crises.

Hospital nurses act as liaisons between patient, family, physician, hospital personnel and community agencies. The type of care is personal, medical and emotional, providing each patient with individual needs in the encouragement of well health. Most hospital nurses have the opportunity to see their patients recover and be discharged.

There are many nursing roles within a hospital. All administrative positions are held by registered nurses, and general staff nurses may be RN's or licensed practical nurses. The non-professional staff of a hospital is comprised of nursing assistants and orderlies, who perform most of the "hands-on" manual tasks, such as emptying bedpans, feeding and bathing patients, and providing patients with personal comfort care and sometimes grooming.

According to Charlotte Bock, RN, Director of Nursing at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the hospital has "an adequate staff of fine nurses." Charlotte and Laurie Grant, RN, Assistant Director of Nursing, are nurse administrators. Theirs is a 24-hour responsibility, as both are "on call" at all times. Nurse administrators establish nursing policies and procedures, direct all patient care activities, purchase and up-date equipment, and serve on various in-house committees. Other duties include budgeting, financial management, and personnel management for seven hospital units.

There is a formal chain of command within the local hospital nursing structure, and head nurses are responsible for staff nurses, and are required to make daily decisions regarding patient care and problem areas on a floor or unit. "The hospital nursing staff works as a team to provide full patient care," said Ms. Bock.

Joyce Andrews, RN, is Head Nurse in the hospital's emergency room, a job which requires nurses "who can tolerate crises and pressures more than nurses in other areas," she said. "Emergency room nursing is more geared toward initial life-saving procedures," she added, and nurses in this area must be trained to use equipment for these procedures. Emergency room nurses never have an "average" day, as they must deal with "whatever case comes in," said Ms. Andrews, who is trauma, acute heart problems or emergency medical problems. Emergency room nurses must "dabble in a little bit of every department in the hospital," she added. Their responsibility is in initial treatment and stabilization, after which patients are either transferred to another ward or released from the hospital.

Martha Sanders, RN, is Head Nurse on the Medical-Surgical unit. Nurses in this area provide medical, emotional and preparatory services to patients before and after surgery, and contend with a wide span of illnesses and conditions. Some patients in this unit, for instance cancer patients, are long-term patients, while others return frequently and are well-known by the nurses. Personal care is administered in this area, as well as medications, IV's and treatments, and the head nurse makes patient rounds with the physician.

Doris Swartzentruber, RN, is a staff nurse in the operating room. Ms. Swartzentruber sterilizes appropriate equipment and supplies in preparation for surgery. "This is the area where you see the quickest recovery," she said. Ms. Swartzentruber stated that operations have never bothered her, and she enjoys her work, which utilizes more technical skills and provides little direct patient contact. Nurses in this area must always be educated in new surgical procedures.

Jarlah Fitzwater is Head Nurse on the Medical-Surgical unit and Pediatric ward. She must daily gear to each individual patient, ranging in overall age from three days old to 100 years and older. Patient conditions are varied, and nurses in this area must have a wealth of knowledge to treat individual patients. "Children and the elderly require much more attention," said Ms. Fitzwater. Nurses in this area are kept quite busy providing personal care for their patients.

Georgia Matlock, RN, is Head Nurse of the Coronary-Intensive Care unit. "Her's is a high stress area," said Ms. Bock. Ms. Matlock every day holds lives in her hands. Up to four patients are cared for in this unit at one time. These patients must be constantly watched, never left alone, and are not permitted to do anything for themselves. Nurses who work in this area must complete in-house training courses and attend specialized seminars. They deal with life and death situations every day and use more sophisticated life-saving equipment.

In the intensive care unit nurses must take over in the absence of a doctor when a crisis develops. Even though the doctor is minutes away, she has the authority to administer medications and procedures in the event of a cardiac arrest or other emergency. She saves people's lives and, at times, loses patients. "There are several unexpected emergency situations (in this job)," said Ms. Matlock, "and these patients receive tender loving care... many don't want to leave!" "It is rewarding also depressing... many people don't realize how close they came to death," she added. "It is very rewarding when you save a life," she said.

Bonnie Snyder, RN, is Head Nurse in the Obstetrics-Maternity ward. Her work is practically the opposite of Ms. Matlock's. "It is cheerful because of the type of patients you're working with... you're not dealing with life and death," she said. Ms. Snyder assists in the delivery of babies. Emergency procedures are used at times during deliveries, but her work is generally consistent and pleasant. She cares for patients from the time they're admitted until their release, and is involved in the family setting, providing emotional support and care for mother, child and family. "She experiences a miracle every day as each child is born," said Ms. Bock. "We are fortunate because we can see the whole process and get to know each patient," Ms. Snyder said.

"A hospital nursing staff has to be comprised of 'jack of all trades' nurses," said Ms. Bock. She added that, "in an acute care facility nurses treat what the problem is, and hope that patients get better... we are very involved in the healing of people." "People come back and the care is personal, particularly in a small town hospital," she added.

Hospital nurses must gear to several different approaches to administering medications and treatments, as prescribed by many different doctors. They must also deal with all types of patients and conditions. "They must be meticulous in details, have a vast memory system, be able to make decisions and to handle all kinds of stimuli," said Ms. Bock.

Hospital nurses are required to work shifts and irregular hours.

Why would anyone want to be a nurse?

"The demands are unbelievable, the pressures are unending, the responsibility is awesome, the work is difficult... and I love it!" said one nurse. "People who go into nursing are people who want to serve, who are concerned and want to help other people," said another.

In some institutions working conditions are poor, with inadequate equipment, and many are under-staffed and nurses are under-paid. The work is messy at times, personal and people-oriented. Some nurses give to the point of "burn-out." One nurse said, "who fills my cup?" "Nurses are now faced with more decision-making and technical training than ever before," said another. And the paperwork load appears to be overwhelming. For many years, most nurses have felt little appreciation from doctors, particularly when nurses feel they should be, and want to be, a part of the health care team.

Most nurses interviewed feel that the role of nursing is changing. "Registered nurses will be administrators, giving no bedside care and losing contact with patients," said one nurse. One nurse attributed this change to the women's liberation movement, saying that, "things started changing when we realized that we can think and make decisions and contribute to overall patient care, not just act as handmaidens."

Nurse practitioners are increasing in force, working independently at times, with consultation and referral to doctors, and others work under the direction of doctors. Nurse practitioners have special training in addition to usual nursing tasks, which qualifies them to add some of the traditional doctoring skills to patient care. Many provide invaluable services overseas and in sparsely-populated areas where doctors are few and far between. Some nurses feel that the nurse practitioner program is fine, as long as nurse practitioners stay within the realm of their training.

One nurse said of the present nursing field, "There seems to be an identity crisis now, and jealousy on different levels of education." The growing trend toward two and four-year nursing education, eliminating one and three-year programs, is met with a wide variety of attitudes by nurses. Most agree that clinical experience is very important, as increased training responsibilities are placed on the employer today, due to more theory-oriented programs. And most agree that a nurse should be employed according to her education, experience, capabilities and skills.

The health care field has recently indicated the medication aide, one who trains for 12 weeks to administer medications to patients, thus relieving the charge nurse. This role is also met with mixed feelings, as many nurses feel that the education is not adequate for qualification to perform these duties.

There is talk of a law which would require continuing education units for each yearly nursing license renewal, a law which pleases some nurses and frightens others. Most feel that if courses are readily available and offered locally, it is a good policy. If not, this law could place a considerable burden upon practicing nurses in Garrett County.

On the local level many changes are taking place in the nursing field. According to Ms. Bock, Garrett County Memorial Hospital has made great strides in providing for its nurses. "The pay rate at this hospital is competitive with Cumberland hospitals," she said, "and in many ways benefits are better, having increased during the past four years." "A functional nursing team has been established," she said, "and the hospital has established a unit secretarial program, hiring non-professionals to assist nurses with paperwork." "Nursing stations have been renovated to provide more space for all workers, and procedures have been up-dated to save time and efficiency," she added. Ms. Bock said that "nurses do a lot of things here that interns and resident do in other hospitals... there is an atmosphere and attitude that we're all important, no matter what we do." Nurses in all areas of the hospital attend general and specialized seminars and workshops, as do nurses in other areas of Garrett County. Seminars and "burn-out" workshops are becoming increasingly available in the Frostburg and Cumberland areas.

George Dailey of Garrett

Community College stated that a pre-nursing transfer program should be approved this year by the college. The courses are available at this time, and the transfer program would enable GCC students to major in nursing, begin their education at GCC, and later transfer to the University of Maryland in Baltimore. The GCC program would be prescribed and determined by the University of Maryland, and prospective nurses could begin accumulating credits locally. The program would lead to a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Many nurses agree that the attitude of doctors in changing, and nurses are more appreciated, recognized for their contributions to medicine. Nursing has come a long way, over the years providing a service that no society can do without. Nurses are people serving people, and are taught in many cases to put themselves in the patient's position to provide the best care possible. Most nurses are only concerned for the patient, and act in his best interest. What would happen if the patient put himself in the nurse's position? This contradicts the entire nursing philosophy, but one can't help thinking that these giving and caring people need some recognition, words of kindness and certainly praise for their humanitarian efforts. Where would we be without them?

Sunday Sales . . .

Among the significant questions which will appear on the May 13 primary ballot is the question of Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages in Garrett County. Presently, Garrett County is the only county in the state of Maryland which does not allow Sunday sales.

Many persons will consider the issue from a religious standpoint, claiming that selling booze on Sunday is sacrilege. However, we should remember that in a free country, persons may choose any day of the week as their Sabbath.

Perhaps eying the question from a social viewpoint would be easier. It is refreshing to have one day a week when the police don't have to be called to calm a disturbance at a local tavern; when the sometimes annoying music and clamor emanating from such establishments is silenced; when the father who visits the bar too often doesn't go home and kick the kids; and when the rescue squad doesn't have to be called out to gather up bodies as a result of the drunk who leaves the local bar and crawls behind the wheel of an automobile.

On the other hand, there seems to be nothing sinful nor harmful for a family to share a bottle of wine with their Sunday afternoon dinner at a local restaurant. Tourism is Garrett County's number one "industry" and restaurant owners naturally want to cater to tourists who are used to being able to buy drinks with their meals on Sunday. Not everyone indulges alcohol at a high level, and the problem drinker will most likely purchase sufficient ale on Saturday and be just as dangerous on Sunday even if sales are prohibited.

While this newspaper tends to lean slightly towards opposing Sunday sales, it also recognizes that a strong case can be provided in support of such sales. Perhaps the best course of action would be to strive for compromising legislation which would allow Sunday sales under certain conditions or by specific business establishments only.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

At our Primary Elections on Tuesday, May 13, we have two important issues to vote upon.

One is for Sunday liquor sales, and of equal importance is the question of a bond issue of six million dollars to build a hospital that we can well do without.

We certainly do not want the liquor sales, and we cannot afford the bond issue. It is foolhardy to even consider such a project at this time. Due to free spending by our county officials, the county is in a critical financial situation already. Yet a group of county officials, plus some few individuals, are busy propagandizing for a "yes" vote on the bond issue.

Nothing could be more destructive. Our County budget is out of balance. The ill-advised Courthouse project is not completed. Fuel and light bills are running into thousands each month. Our commissioners are still taking on new bureaucrats and planners. When the new budget is completed for next fiscal year we will be required to pay still higher taxes. The federal government hand-outs amounting to a million dollars each year will be reduced or eliminated. Income from gasoline taxes will be reduced.

To borrow any money we would pay the highest rate of interest ever heard of. A bond issue now would bind us down for another thirty years. Expensive gas will reduce our tourist trade. A general depression will bring on a higher unemployment rate. Common sense, reason and prudence will tell our thoughtful citizens not to take such a hazardous step now.

Any plans drawn up now for a six million dollar building program will not be completed when the money is all spent.

and it may take another six million dollar bond issue to finish the job. The officials who are pushing this bond issue know that.

Clifford Friend

Mr. Friend,

It is obvious that you are totally ignorant of the facts concerning the hospital project. It is because of misinformation such as this that we could find ourselves without any hospital at all in Garrett County.

It will be the hospital that will be borrowing the money for the project, not the county. There will not be one cent of county tax money used for the project. We welcome letters to the editor. However, we appreciate it when the writer has at least a vague idea of what he or she is talking about.

P.S. Sometime before the May 13 primary, this newspaper will publish the facts concerning the hospital project.

Dear Editor,

We, the laundry and house-keeping employees of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, would like to take this opportunity to inform the people of our community of the importance of the hospital building and renovation project, and what it really means to us, the employees.

There has been a big change since Mr. Richmond and Mr. Earley came to our hospital. They have made it better for the patients, for the doctors and for the employees.

So please, we are urging everyone to get out and vote May 13 and support the hospital project. Please vote yes!

Sincerely,
Laundry and Housekeeping Personnel
Garrett County
Memorial Hospital

Dear Editor:

Being an employee at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, I wish to express my feelings on the expansion and renovation project.

My daughter has been a patient at the hospital five times since last April. Believe me, we need the addition. We need the modern equipment here in our hospital, so we don't have to go to Morgantown or Cumberland for tests or special treatments. It really gets expensive when you have to run down there to have tests done or visit someone in the hospital.

Garrett County is growing. Our hospital has already exceeded the 1983 estimated usage. One example of our usage is that in 1979 the laundry department processed 10,059 more pounds of linens than in 1978.

So, Garrett Countians, please vote Yes at the May 13th elections.

Thanks,
Thomas E. Dunbar, Sr.

Dear Editor:

What is happening to our teachers' image? No longer can students look up to their teachers for such qualities as honoring their word.

The teachers in Garrett County supposedly bargained in good faith and signed a three-year contract in 1978 pledging to educate our children for a certain salary with guaranteed salary increases each year.

Barely half way through this agreement, the teachers now want to break the contract and not live up to their word. Regardless of inflation or other considerations that make them want to break their contract, the principle of honoring one's word seems to have been thrown out along with teaching the three R's.

This type of "labor" action is the main contributor to our nation's inflationary economic situation. Maybe we ought to apply learning to pay increases. GCTA: Are all your students performing on grade level?

eligibility to take the National Boards in Family Practice. This will be his first private practice position and is the type of family practice he has been searching for, he said. Dr. Naumann had determined to seek employment in the Maryland-West Virginia area, and he has been particularly interested in setting up practice in a small community. He is interested in a family-type service and preventative medicine, as opposed to doctoring just the individual, he said. He and his wife went to Laverne, Minnesota on the Rural Physicians Associate Program, where he learned medical problem solving in a smaller city from several family physicians. In his words, "this reinforced my interest in caring for people and considering their needs as human beings and members of families."

In Minnesota, Dr. Naumann and Sandy are active members of Mt. Zion Lutheran Church. They have no children.

Dr. Naumann became familiar with the Accident position through an acquaintance of Dr. Stoltzfus, Friendsville. He was interviewed last September by John Breneman, Accident Community Health Board. Dr. Naumann said he likes the area and feels that this position is a good opportunity for him to practice complete family care.

The town of Accident worked very hard to find a doctor, and received considerable publicity and interest in its efforts. Members of the Accident Community Health Board have been interviewed on talk shows as far away as Australia. In addition, the town's plea for help received a write-up in Family Practice News, a magazine for family practice physicians. Local institutions and groups also helped considerably, said Mrs. Robeson. She said that Dr. Naumann's background is similar to many people in Garrett County, and feelings toward medicine and family practice matched those of the board.

Dr. and Mrs. Naumann plan to move to Garrett County this July, and the office will open in October in the Accident Professional Building. This summer the couple plans to visit India, including the places where Dr. Naumann spent his childhood and various tourist attractions in the country.

Dr. Naumann said that the office equipment will be provided through the Appalachian Regional Commission grant, as well as salaries for three employees for the first year or two. During the first year Dr. Naumann's practice, as well as the Accident Community Health Board, will be working toward the grant to hopefully raise a sum of $5000 in matching funds, said Mrs. Robeson. Dr. Naumann will then enter into a private practice.

At one time, Dr. Naumann had received three to four letters per week regarding offers for work. "I decided first on this area, and then looked for opportunities available," he said. Mrs. Robeson said that the board hopes to serve a large part of northern Garrett County through Dr. Naumann's practice, which will not be limited to Accident residents.

Two-Story House Near Friendsville Damaged By Fire

A house owned by Harry VanSickle, located along Trap Run Road near Friendsville, was severely damaged by fire yesterday afternoon. The cause of the blaze remains under investigation, according to Robert H. Shimer, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties.

Shimer said the rear section of the two-story frame house was totally involved in flames when firefighters from Friendsville, Accident and Deep Creek were dispatched by Garrett Central Alarm at 1:30 p.m.

The house, which was built in 1932, was vacant at the time of the fire. Some furniture was in the house and sustained severe heat and smoke damage.

Firefighters remained on the scene for about three hours. Garrett Central Alarm also dispatched the county air cascade truck and Northern Rescue Squad to the scene. Crews from Bittering and Oakland fire departments were put on stand-by.

There were no injuries. County fire departments also responded to several flue fires over the past week, most of them being related to wood burning stoves. There was little or no damage reported, however, at any of the residences involved.

Court Upholds

Rodowsky, the court declared that the laws were "intended by the General Assembly to be mandatory."

The commissioners expect the tax rate will exceed the constant yield rate of $2.34 for FY1981, but at varying degrees.

Commissioner Truman Paugh has predicted as much as a $3.00 tax rate while Hunter says at least an additional 30.5 cents will be added to the $2.34 rate.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg, who says he has resigned himself to the fact that the rate will have to be increased, stated the rate "will have to be a judicious increase."

Gregg's reaction to the outcome of the appeal was one of relief. "I'm glad that it has been resolved and that we can go on with the business at hand."

He contends that the county would not be in its present financial bind had the budget he proposed in late August been adopted. "We could have gone on with the business at hand and the county would have survived." This year he hopes the commissioners as a group will develop a fiscal policy before drafting a budget.

Gregg had supported Delegate Bolden's suit against the county commissioners. Bolden, who believed the county's financial problems cannot be blamed on the tax suit, stated he filed the suit "on behalf of the county taxpayers." "The taxpayers now have been listened to," he said.

CASA Director Conducts Tests

For Homemakers

The Garrett Community College Homemaker Career Opportunity Program, under the direction of Sue Hillen, announced today the completion of the information visit introducing the Displaced Homemakers Program, on Tuesday, April 15.

Vicki A. Sadehuan, executive director of the Citizens Assisting and Sheltering the Abused program, Hagerstown, conducted a screening session to determine the eligibility of those who qualify for the many opportunities offered by the displaced homemaker program. Yesterday's session dealt mainly with the tuition program available to continue educational benefits.

Ms. Hillen stated this morning that the screening went very well, with several interested persons signing up for the tuition assistance program.

Another visit is planned in early May to afford more interested persons, who meet the eligibility requirements, the opportunity to meet with Ms. Sadehuan and her financial representative, as well as GCC financial aid personnel.

Eligibility requirements include persons 35 years of age or older who have been primarily a homemaker, and have lost either part or all income as result of separation, divorce, death, or disability of a spouse; have depended on government support; and is not employed and having difficulty securing employment.

Applications are available in the office of Sue Hillen, and interested persons should call 334-9184 for complete information.

School Budget

Buser. But he has warned that any cuts could hurt the school program.

The uncertainty of the commissioners' actions and the realization that the Board will have to live with whatever the commissioners' handout—which could mean a shifting of money within the budget at the expense of some programs—has made the Board proceed cautiously with the second development.

That development is the request by the Garrett County Teachers' Association (GCTA) to reopen negotiations on the annual salary increase as set in their three-year contract which was approved last year before the 1979-80 school year. The GCTA presented their request during the March meeting of the Board of Education which not only included discussion of the salary raise but also fringe benefits and the establishment of a dental plan.

Dorris "Buz" Updyke, GCTA president, acknowledges time is rather late to enter negotiations but the increasing inflation rate scared teachers into seeking a higher percentage increase. Presently, the contract allows for an annual six percent increase, two-thirds behind the current inflation rate.

The Board will decide Thursday in executive session whether to grant the GCTA its request to reopen negotiations or not.

Two Arrested By State Police For Car Theft

Tfc. Charles Hinnant, Maryland State Police, McHenry, is continuing his investigation into a car theft ring apparently based in the Kitzmiller area. Numerous pieces of equipment and vehicles have been recovered and several arrests have been made to date in connection with the case.

James R. Riggelman, Jr., 18, Kitzmiller, was arrested April 3 and charged with the theft of a tractor and falsifying a serial number. He is still incarcerated and the original $25,000 bond has been reduced in District Court to $7,500, police said.

Also arrested was Brit E. Carpenter of Elk Garden, who is charged with four counts of theft and four counts of falsifying serial numbers. Stolen property recovered in connection with this case include a log skidder, owned by Eugene Hanlin; a flat-bed truck, owned by James L. Holler of Oakland; a Chevrolet Corvette, owned by Ashly Liller of Mt. Storm; and a GMC truck, owned by Edgar Miller and stolen in Ohio.

Carpenter's bail was at $22,000 cash bond. Tfc. Hinnant stated that the investigation is continuing.

YACC Constructs Steps At Muddy Creek Falls

On page 39 of today's Republican, a story appearing with the construction photo and headline actually concerns damage to Garrett County roads.

Both stories, with correct headlines appear elsewhere in this issue.

We regret the error.

Members of the Young Adult Conservation Corps are constructing wooden steps alongside Muddy Creek Falls at Swallow Falls State Park. The construction began last week and is designed "to enable people to walk safely from the top of Muddy Creek Falls to the bottom," said Mark Wheeler, Assistant Park Manager of Herrington Manor-Swallow Falls State Parks.

Wheeler stated that the area was cited as a safety problem, and he feels the construction will be "a real improvement." The stairs will be made of natural wood with a hidden rock base, and when completed will provide a "rustic, natural look, so as not to upset the environment," Wheeler said. Trail travel for senior citizens will be greatly improved through this construction, he added.

Young Adult Conservation Corps is a federal-funded program under the administration of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources. It is a "work intensive" program for recreation areas to provide enrollees with skills to seek employment, Wheeler said. Ten enrollees and one foreman work at Herrington Manor-Swallow Falls State Park, providing many improvements in the parking area and trails, Wheeler said. Due to their work the Swallow Falls parking lot now has defined parking spaces with natural wood fences and bumpers, as well as traffic direction for trails which wind through virgin pine and hemlock, designed to protect the land, Wheeler said.

Ways to Save

- Where two or three members of the family work, it is sometimes possible to build savings rapidly by saving one entire paycheck, with a fair sharing arrangement between family members on the remaining income.
- Hanging onto some money that you plan to spend for a car, appliance, piece of furniture, etc.? Don't keep the money around the house—let it earn for you in a savings account until it's time to pay for your purchase.
- Save with a purpose. You can, for instance, build up a strong determination to send your children to college, or to own your own home. Determine to save a definite amount each payday for this purpose, and then let compounded earnings work for you to build savings faster.
- Build a reserve equal to at least three months (preferably six months) income as an emergency fund. One way to make some headway. Adopt a short-term "austerity" program in which you save as much as possible. Your family won't mind so much if it's for a reasonably short time.
- Use credit wisely if you use it at all. Borrow the smallest amount, for the shortest period of time, making the largest possible payments, and don't borrow until you need it.

WRAP BOTH YOUR HOME AND CAR IN ONE BLANKET OF PROTECTION

We have an innovative policy called PCP—Personal Comprehensive Protection—from The Continental Insurance Companies. And if you own a home and a car, PCP offers you exceptional value.

Separate policies often mean differing amounts of protection for your car, for your home and for its contents. And separate policies often cost you more, in time as well as money.

PCP, on the other hand, gives you one amount of property protection for your home and its contents. And one amount of liability protection for your car and home. Plus, PCP gives you the option to include your hospital, disability income and mortgage life insurance in the same plan.

PCP is easy to understand, efficient and time-saving, and in many cases, more economical.

Come see us or call. We'll be glad to show you what PCP can do to make you—and your property—more secure.

IN MEMORY OF TINA BEITZEL — Oakland area Girl Scouts purchased a paperback book rack for the children's room of Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, dedicated in memory of Tina Beitzel, an Oakland area Girl Scout who died approximately one year ago. The scouts raised the funds for the purchase, wanting to do something in memory of Tina. A walnut dedication plaque was placed at the top of the rack. Pictured left to right, back row, are Deanie Johnson, Neighborhood Girl Scout Chairman; Rayetta Beitzel, Tina's mother; Edith Brock, Ruth Enlow Library; Chris Teets, Senior Girl Scout, Troop 5053; and Laurie Fleming, Cadet Girl Scout, Troop 5613. Special Olympics Set For May 8

The Garrett County Local Special Olympics for 1980 will be held on May 8, 1980 at the Garrett Community College gymnasium, according to a release from the Appalachian Adult Activities Center. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a representative from the Maryland Special Olympics and a representative from Garrett Community College opening the ceremonies.

The Garrett County Special

Olympic's coordinators are Mrs. Dorothy Leuba and Donald Richard DeWitt. The public is invited.

The Maryland State Special Olympics will be held June 13 and 14 at the Towson University, Towson.

Sugar Maple Is Voted Official County Tree

For the first time, Garrett County has an official county tree: the sugar maple.

The decision to select the sugar maple was not made by state foresters, county officials and arborists, but by Garrett County elementary and secondary school students who voted the tree their favorite from a field of six county species.

In a contest sponsored this month by the Garrett County Forest Conservancy District Board, students in all 17 public schools were asked to select their favorite tree. The sugar maple won the contest by an overwhelming margin. Second in popularity was the cherry, followed by the red oak, white pine, hemlock and hickory. All county schools favored the sugar maple, with the exception of Route 40 School, where the sugar maple tied with the Red Oak.

Arbor Day in Maryland is the first Wednesday in April, but due to the school system's spring vacation this year, Arbor Day activities have been scheduled for April 23, beginning at 10:30 a.m., at Camp Hickory near Accident. Students, school officials, the county forestry board, Garrett County commissioners and other state guests have been invited to participate in the program, which includes (of course) planting a sugar maple.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

Center Stage Comes To County

Four members of the AIS Theatre component recently travelled to Garrett County to perform and supervise workshops for Southern Middle School and Southern High School drama and English students.

The group was hired for the first time by the Garrett County Board of Education to enrich the schools' curriculum in language arts and drama. The Center Stage Young People's Theatre Company of AIS Theatre has developed a format for secondary schools which consists of lecture-demonstrations by two professional actors, followed by intensive workshop classes conducted by the same team.

The program was expected to last one full week, but due to severe weather and the cancelling of school days, the actors met with the students only Monday through Wednesday.

Approximately 28 eighth-graders participated in the classes conducted at Southern Middle School. These students are part of an advanced class at the school, taught by Wes Lovelace. Other groups of students viewed the first presentation by the Center Stage actresses, but did not attend the two workshop sessions.

Two women, Harriett Lynn and Lenore Blank, began the presentation simply by reading through the lines of a play, then added actions, feelings and partners. Finally, the play was presented in its entirety, with all previously specified components being utilized.

Mr. Lovelace stated that the students "were overwhelmed and really enjoyed the entire program." He said the actors worked with the children as teachers would, and he added that "they motivated and inspired the children and built up their confidence in expression." Exercises for concentration were introduced to the students and projects initiated involved monologues and improvisations, said Mr. Lovelace.

The monologues were presented by the students in their regular classroom, due to the snow days, and Mr. Lovelace said the students "were very enthusiastic about the ideas presented by the Center Stage actresses."

The program at Southern High School was very similar to the one presented to the Middle School students. Approximately 150 students observed the first day presentation. Jane Avery, drama instructor at the high school, said the presentation was unique in that, once the students were seated in the cafeteria, no introduction was made and the actors simply began running through their lines in a sort of monotone voice, totally void of feeling or expression. The actors then depicted character development and scene development, along with improvisation, she said. Expression was added to the readings and development of characters was identified through emotion, improvisation and physical attributes of the characters, as well as variation in volume, said Ms. Avery.

The students who observed the presentation were chosen on the basis of interest through questionnaires distributed in English classes. Approximately four students were chosen from each English class. The two workshop sessions were attended by about 27 students from the drama class and some participating in the Junior and Senior class plays.

The workshops centered around the actor and his focus on concentration, body control and relaxation. Students were asked to present short dialogues and presentations during the last two workshops, which fell on the snow days.

The students did, however, present their dialogues to their regular classes the following week. Ms. Avery said some of the exercises practiced by the class during the Center Stage workshop were frozen statues, when the student would be arranged in a position and must remain in that position while others tried to make him lose concentration; and the students worked with noisy brown wrapping paper and concentrated to keep it quiet.

Ms. Avery said this was a pilot project for the schools, and was enriching for the students and herself, presenting "Many fresh and good ideas."

Southern High Cheerleaders Place Second In State Tournament

The Southern High School varsity cheerleaders traveled to Atholton High School in Columbia on March 22 and placed second in the first All-State Cheerleading competition. Ten squads participated and were judged on precision, unity and execution, degree of difficulty, enthusiasm, pep and spirit, originality and incorporation of words and movement, voice projection and clarity, appearance, crowd appeal and poise.

Each squad was required to perform three cheers, one being a "Hello" cheer not to exceed three minutes, and two others of their own choice lasting only one minute each.

The first place trophy was awarded to Elizabeth Seton High School, while third place went to Brooklyn Park High School. Trophies were awarded to the first five places and each squad received a certificate of participation.

Judges for the competition included a representative from the National Cheerleaders Association, a University of Maryland cheerleader and a Towson State College cheerleader. Squads participating in the competition were chosen by a tabulation of ballots which had been mailed to 258 public and private schools in the state, asking cheerleading squads to vote for their favorite squad. Atholton High School cheerleaders were hosts of the competition.

Among the awards achieved by the Southern squad over the past season are the Award of

The SHS cheerleaders will be competing against squads from the tri-state area this Saturday, April 19, at 2 p.m. in a competition to be held at Frostburg State College.

Huskies Defeat Beall To Even Record At 1-1

Dick Bender fired a four-hitter and Northern High scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning for a 5-4 victory over Beall last Friday at Northern. The Huskies are now 1-1.

Beall took a 4-3 lead into the seventh, but a pair of errors put two runners on. Greg Beachy gave the Huskies the win when he singled home both runners.

Bender struck out five, while Beall loser Dennis Shippe allowed only four hits and struck out 11.

Lakers Drop Two To ACC

by Todd Liller

The Garrett Community College baseball team continued to have its early season problems as the Lakers dropped a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-0, to the Allegany Community College Trojans last Wednesday in Cumberland. Garrett is now 1-7 on the season.

Phil Whetstone threw a four-hitter to lead the Trojans to the win in the opener.

Allegany cracked the run column in the first inning when Ken Klosterman singled, stole second, moved to third on a passed ball, and scored on an error.

The lead stayed at 1-0 until the fifth when Jeff "Murray" Taulton's two run single gave Garrett a short-lived 2-1 edge.

The Trojans countered quickly in their half of the fifth, though, as RBI singles by Lloyd Day and Kevin Kline sent Allegany to victory.

Steve "Rudy" Butler, who allowed only five hits, absorbed the loss for Garrett.

In the rain-shortened nightcap, John Holshey tossed a five-hitter and struck out 12 to propel the Trojans to their sweep.

Allegany got the only run it needed in the first when Klosterman walked, stole second, moved to third on an error, and scored on a balk.

Jim Houghton took the loss.

County Places Two On Times All-Area Team

by Todd Liller

Two Garrett County basketball standouts were recently named to the 1980 Cumberland Times All-Area team, as selected by the area high school coaches.

Named to the first team were Northern's Bill Bender and Southern's Jeff Ryscavage.

Bender, a 6-4, 195 pound senior, finished second in the area in scoring, his 26.8 average second only to Valley's Dave Hobel. He connected on 242 of 493 shots for 49 percent, and 154 of 238 foul shots for 64.7 percent. He averaged 13.4 rebounds, and he also led the Huskies in steals with 40. His 616 points eclipsed the Northern single season scoring record of 598 held by Gary Reichenbecher.

Ryscavage, a 6-3, 185 pound junior, scored 486 points for a 20.3 average. He finished fifth in the area scoring race. He finished as the area's top shooter as he hit 213 of 340 attempts for 62.6 percent. His field goal percentage actually was better than his free throw percentage.

From the charity stripe, he converted only 60 of 97 shots for 61.8 percent. Ryscavage also led Southern in rebounding with 8.5 per game. He already holds the school sophomore and junior scoring records, and with another productive season next year, he should become the top scorer in Southern history.

Three other county players also finished among the area leaders in scoring and foul shooting.

In scoring, Southern's Brian Selders' 11.7 average placed him 35th on the area scoring list, while Northern's Dick Bender averaged 10 per game, placing him 46th.

In foul shooting, Southern's Doug Devlin finished third in the area, hitting 80.8 percent. Dick Bender finished 12th at 74.3 percent.

Lakers Scorched By Red Devils

The Community College of Baltimore Red Devils took advantage of 15 walks by the Garrett Community College pitching staff to down the Lakers 5-1 last Friday at Garrett.

Six walks in the third inning led to Baltimore's first runs. In the fifth, Baltimore used two walks and singles by Mark Little and John Hawkins for its final two runs.

Garrett, now 1-8, scored its only run in the seventh when Lawrence Nesselrodt singled, stole second, and scored on Mark Guthrie's single. Nesselrodt had three hits, and teammate Brian Turley had two.

Bud Smith went the distance for the win, while Garrett starter Valin Yaw took the loss.

Frankfort Falcons Rip Rams, 13-0

Eric Dersin hurled a three-hitter and helped his own cause by driving in five runs as the Frankfort Falcons romped to an easy 13-0 win over Southern last Saturday.

Frankfort scored three runs in the second on a solo homer by Keith Martin and Dersin's two run single.

Jason Flanagan's bases loaded double and another single by Dersin accounted for four more Falcon runs in the third.

Bill White added a solo homer in the fifth, and Dersin clouted a tremendous homer one inning later.

The Falcons pounded two Ram Pitchers for 16 hits. Jeff Colaw, the Ram starter, was tagged with the loss.

Southern, now 1-1, got hits from Delbert Liller, Ron Coddington and Dave Sweitzer.

Forestry Board Discusses Arbor Day Activities

The Garrett County Forestry Board met on April 10 in the Forest Service office north of Oakland on U.S. Route 219. The Board members discussed the county tree program sponsored by the Forestry Board and conducted in the county schools. Charles Strauss, Sr., and Cindy Stacy reported the students had overwhelmingly voted for sugar maple as the county tree.

Board members discussed the upcoming Arbor Day activities, scheduled for April 23 at Camp Hickory. A Wye Oak sapling will be planted at Camp Hickory by Forestry Board members as a part of the Arbor Day program.

The members also discussed the use of state forest land for snowmobiling and the work the Forest Service would have to do to be adequately equipped to provide this service to the public. A second informal public hearing sponsored by the Forest Service is scheduled for April 30, 1980, at 7:30 p.m., at the Garrett Community College auditorium to gain more public input into this issue.

The Forestry Board's main function is to act as an advisory group to the Forest Service and to provide the Forest Service with recommendations.

The next Forestry Board meeting will be on Saturday, May 10, to review Savage River

State Forest's work plan and goals.

Mandel Will Not Lose Pension

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Former Gov. Marvin Mandel, who is expected to begin serving a four-year prison term within 30 days, will not lose his state pension, Attorney General Stephen Sachs said Tuesday. Sachs' opinion, initially requested last November, was made public just one day after the Supreme Court turned down Mandel's request for further review of the appeal of his conviction for mail fraud and racketeering.

"In view of action taken yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States, our research indicates that the pension entitlement of employees and officials of the state of Maryland are in the nature of contractual rights, which are not subject to forfeiture upon conviction of a crime," Sachs said in a brief prepared statement.

"This has been the state's longstanding administrative practice and we believe it to be legally correct," he said. "Legislative attempts to amend the pension laws to require such a forfeiture have not been successful. Consequently, the conviction of former Governor Mandel does not, in our judgment, affect his pension rights," he said.

City Mayor Denies Reported Lay-Off

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Mayor William Donald Schaefer Tuesday denied a report that up to 1,500 city employees, most of them in the school system, may be laid off this year because of budget constraints.

But he conceded that some employees will lose their jobs so the city can hold the line on taxes.

"I am not considering that many layoffs. I don't know how many people will be laid off," he said.

But asked if he would prefer layoffs to raising the tax rate above $5.95 per $100 of assessed value, he said, "We are not going to substantially increase the tax rate." He said the tax rate will not go above $6.00.

Schaefer, who is to complete his budget proposal next week and send it to the City Council in three weeks, said he will cut some funds from all departments, which will result in reductions in services.

"We are not going to be able to do all the things we have done in the past," he said. "But I don't think we are going to drop programs."

A preliminary $1.28 billion budget released March 19 did not include pay raises for city employees, most of which are expected to be 7 percent. Officials said then adjustments might require layoffs or service reductions.

Schaefer has allowed no increases in departmental budgets and cut school funds from the requested $303.6 million to $297.3 million, which prompted about 400 teachers to protest Monday night at City Hall.

Underlining problems the mayor faces in budgeting for fiscal 1981 was a report by budget chief George Piendak that this year's deficit remains at $11 million despite efforts to reduce it.

Piendak said many departments, particularly Public Works, are running short of funds to continue operations until the fiscal 1981 spending plan takes effect July 1.

"We haven't been able to reconcile so far where we will get the money," he said. "This is really serious." The city charter requires a balanced budget.

In an unrelated item, Schaefer appointed George Musgrove as director of the Department of Social Services, a post vacated last February. Musgrove is to begin work May 19.

Musgrove is the human resources administrator for New Haven, Conn., and said his goal is to meet the needs of city residents before a crisis arises.

A written version of the opinion is expected within a few weeks, a spokesman for Sachs said.

Mandel was convicted in U.S. District Court in Baltimore in August 1977 of accepting gifts in exchange for efforts to influence race track legislation beneficial to his five codefendants, who secretly owned an interest in a now defunct Maryland track.

Those convictions were overturned by the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Jan. 11, 1979, and Mandel reclaimed his office for the last two days of his second four-year term.

The following month Mandel applied for and began receiving $1,575 monthly pension for his nine years as governor and 16 years in the House of Delegates.

Mandel was also awarded $31,931 in back pay that was withheld during the period he was suspended from office, but Sachs' opinion did not indicate if the back pay must be returned.

In July 1979, the full 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed its own three-judge panel and reinstated the convictions against Mandel and his associates.

City Officials Discount Report That New Library May Sink

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UPI) — Carroll County officials have discounted reports that the county's new $2 million library could sink into the ground because there is a river underneath it.

An anonymous citizen recently told a local newspaper the building might sink because the land on which it is built is subject to large sinkholes created by the underground river.

But Gadruan Inc., the architect for the library, said it tested the area before construction and could find no holes large enough to cause the building to sink.

Only one hole was found, under what is now the library's reading area, and that was filled in, the firm said.

The two women were stabbed and bludgeoned to death. Their bodies were found in Mrs. Zisser's home last Nov. 25.

Michael Schindler, former senior class president at Patapsco Senior High School in Baltimore County, and David Robertson, 18, are charged with two counts of murder, robbery and use of a deadly weapon.

Robertson is free on $100,000 bail. Schindler pleaded innocent by reason of insanity and was sent to Clifton T. Perkins State Hospital for a psychiatric evaluation.

A court medical examiner said Schindler suffered a blow to the head several months before the crimes occurred and the injury may have had a long-term effect on his mind.

Police said Robertson was arrested after Schindler signed a five-page statement about the killings, in return for a promise that prosecutors would not seek the death penalty.

Man Pleads Guilty Of Conspiracy To Commit Murder

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A man pleaded guilty Tuesday to hiring two teen-agers to kill his wife and her grandmother and was sentenced to life imprisonment as a relative of one of the victims yelled, "I hope you burn in hell."

Anthony Thompson, 27, pleaded guilty to two counts of conspiracy to commit murder and was sentenced to two life terms by Criminal Court Judge Paul Dorf.

Thompson admitted he hired a 17-year-old Patapsco High School senior and an Essex Community College student to kill his wife, Mary, 23, and her 83-year-old grandmother, Maria Zisser.

Association Says Building Industry Could Collapse

BALTIMORE (UPI) — High interest rates could cause the home building industry to collapse, an industry spokesman said Tuesday.

Robert Brown, executive vice president of the Maryland Home Builders Association, said unless interest rates decrease soon it may be impossible for the industry to recover from recent losses.

"If interest rates stay at 15 to 20 percent for the next five to six months, there won't be any business to start up later," he said. "We're going to have one hell of a mess, the likes of which this country has never seen."

Brown's prediction was supported by Robert Sheehan, an economist for the National Association of Home Builders. He said, "This is the worst year for the housing industry since World War II. The housing industry can almost be described in depressionary rather than recessionary terms."

Only 10,000 housing starts are expected in the city and five nearby counties this year, Brown said. He said he could not remember a year when the number of housing starts was expected to be so low.

Realtors say area home sales in March were 30 percent lower than normal, even though prices were only 2.5 percent higher than last year.

Statistics gathered by federally-insured lenders show the average price of a new home purchased in the Baltimore area in March was $81,700, compared to $83,200 in the previous month.

Brown also said he is worried because only 372 building permits were issued in the area in February, a month in which an average 860 permits have been issued during the past 10 years.

"What's happening is extremely serious," he said. "There is a freeze on the market because people cannot move (into as expensive a home) as they should be able to. A lot of dollars that could go to something else are going to interest."

Brown said if builders continue to have trouble selling homes, they will be forced to declare bankruptcy and many of the 40,000 state residents employed in the housing industry could be out of work.

Response To Census Better Than Expected

By United Press International. Census offices across Maryland reported Tuesday that response to the 1980 census has been much better than expected.

District offices in Annapolis, Hagerstown and Baltimore County reported 95 percent of the questionnaires sent out had been completed and sent in, which is considered a complete return.

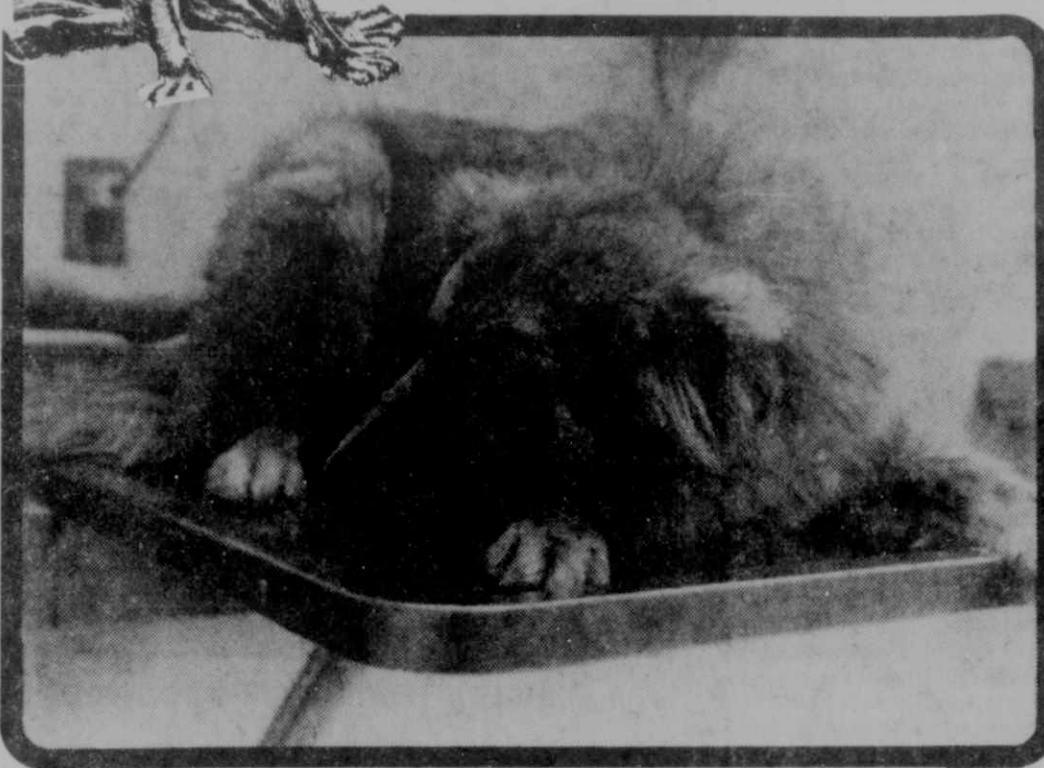

In Baltimore City, where only 50 percent of the forms were expected to be completed, almost 80 percent of the questionnaires had been returned, a census official said.

Prince George's County reported 79.8 percent of its forms have been sent back and in Montgomery County 85.7 percent of the forms had been returned.

Later this week census officials are to begin visiting those who have not completed forms.

Last Minute Tax Returns Total About 500,000

BALTIMORE (UPI) — State and federal income tax officials geared up Tuesday to handle the 500,000 tax returns that Maryland residents were expected to complete in time for the midnight filing deadline.

The U.S. Postal Service in Baltimore assigned six mail carriers to stand outside its main downtown branch between 6 p.m. and midnight to collect tax returns from passing motorists.

Motorists will be able to drive past the building and hand their forms to mail carriers, said spokeswoman Meg Ausman.

All 12 offices of the state Income Division Tax Division stayed open until 9 p.m. to help last-minute tax payers meet the deadline. Marvin Bond, a spokesman for the division, said about 500,000 state income tax forms were unfilled as of Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Internal Revenue Service officials handled more than 12,000 telephone calls and helped 620 taxpayers in Maryland complete federal income tax returns on Monday, spokesman Dominic LaPonzina said. The 15 IRS offices in Maryland stayed open until 7 p.m. to help taxpayers.

LaPonzina said a similar number of taxpayers were expected to seek assistance either by telephone or in person in the last 12 hours before the deadline.

"Most of the returns outstanding are probably on taxpayers who own money," LaPonzina said. But there are always a few stragglers who discover they are entitled to a refund after they finally get around to filing their forms, he said.

"Then they're sorry they didn't file earlier," he said. Refund checks were sent to taxpayers four weeks after returns were filed in January, but people who filed on the last day will have to wait nine or 10 weeks for their refunds, he said.

Cases Of Child Abuse Reach New High In State

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The number of suspected child abuse reports in Maryland reached a new high of 4,615 last year, state Social Service Administration officials said Monday.

The number was a 22 percent increase from 1978, due in part to increased public awareness and concern about child abuse, said project director Linda Heisner.

"However, actual incidents of domestic violence and child abuse have been shown to increase in communities where unemployment and financial hardship place even greater stresses on families," she said. "While it is difficult to determine the exact impact of these factors, a further consequence of our current economic crisis is curtailment of social service programs specifically designed to help troubled families."

"We might well begin to experience a trend where there is a growing need for such services and a diminishing capability to provide them," Ms. Heisner said.

She said the 1979 figures on reports of suspected child abuse include eight suspicious deaths and 679 instances of suspected sexual abuse of children.

Baltimore Cabbies May Carry Guns

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A city judge has ruled that cab drivers who own their own vehicles have the right to carry a handgun without a permit.

District Court Judge James Welsh ruled Monday owning a cab is equivalent to owning a business and under the Maryland Constitution business owners do not need a permit to carry arms.

Cab drivers, however, would still be required to register the guns, Welsh ruled.

The case involved Eddie Estes, of Baltimore, a driver who had been arrested for carrying a .38 caliber revolver.

New Ethics Law Requires State Bureaucrats To File Statements

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Legislators and top state bureaucrats still working to complete their income tax forms Tuesday contended with another deadline—the last filing day for state Ethics Commission financial disclosure statements.

The forms are being filed under the Maryland's new ethics law that took effect last July 1. About 80 percent of the people filing forms this year have never done so under previous ethics laws, said John O'Donnell, the commission's executive director.

Employees and officials covered by the law must report their financial holdings to the commission. Persons who have not filed their forms by Tuesday at 5 p.m. will be considered in technical violation of the state ethics law, O'Donnell said.

O'Donnell and his staff fielded telephone calls from harried bureaucrats who wanted to know if they had to hand deliver their forms to avoid a violation. Many opted to take their forms to the commission's Baltimore office even though the violation carries no penalty.

About 3,000 forms have been returned, O'Donnell said. Only persons who file after the deadline because they were late receiving their form will not be considered in violation, O'Donnell said. But he conceded that many people did not receive their forms until recently because the commission and other state agencies were slow in distributing the forms.

Top-paid state employees, legislators and courthouse workers across Maryland must file the financial disclosure statements. The form requires a list of all real property, stock in corporations, and holdings in businesses that are regulated by or sell goods to state agencies.

"Ethics is a very hot subject, because it doesn't involve anything criminal," O'Donnell said. "There is a lot of differing opinions in the legislature about ethics," he said.

Some officials have extensive investments and land holdings while others do not. Gov. Harry Hughes, for example, told the commission he owns $6,240 worth of stock in the Denton National Bank and a $56,100 townhouse in Baltimore.

Hughes lists no gifts he received from persons who do business with the state.

Delegate John R. Hargreaves, D-Caroline, meanwhile, lists ownership of eight parcels of land as well as about 40,000 shares of stock. The form indicates Hargreaves also owns 24,425 shares of stock in Preston Trucking Co.

Hargreaves, chairman of the House Budget Committee, pushed a bill this year that raises the limit of weight that can be hauled by trucks. The bill was favored by trucking companies. He has emphatically denied his support for the measure constituted a conflict of interest.

Hargreaves' form states he accepted $750 worth of food and lodging from the Maryland Bankers Association and $400 in food and lodging from the state Chamber of Commerce. Baltimore Gas and Electric gave Hargreaves $50 worth of refreshment during a fishing trip, the form states.

The law requires that any person, including news reporters, who wish to examine the forms must sign a log before inspecting the documents.

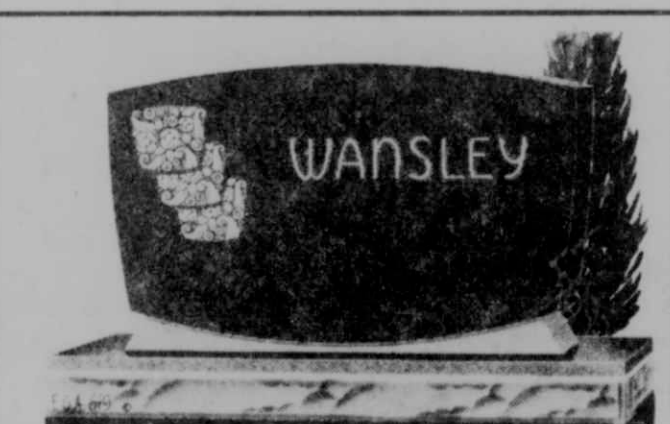

A number of state employees have requested they be notified when someone inspects their file, O'Donnell said.

Man Convicted Of Killing Derelict

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A former male go-go dancer has been convicted of killing a derelict in the city's red light district despite his plea of innocence by reason of insanity. A Criminal Court jury Monday convicted Lawrence DeFalco, 31, of murder in the 1973 fatal stabbing of Patrick Cosgrove, 33.

DeFalco had admitted to murder in two fatal stabbings but won a trial when a judge found prosecutors had falsely promised him he could obtain a sex-change operation in prison.

DeFalco was sentenced to 50 years for the two stabbings last year, but this time he was tried for just one killing. Jurors deliberated 10 hours before convicting DeFalco, despite the testimony of two psychiatrists who said he was legally insane.

Law Enforcement Commission Is Awarded Grants

Grant awards for shelter-care homes for youths in Western Maryland were among over $400,000 in grants awarded recently by the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, according to the Commission.

One award, in the amount of $119,848 will provide for a shelter-care home to serve male and female youths ages 12 to 18 who are alleged delinquent or children in need of supervision from the Carroll/Fredrick/Howard County area. All youths will be referred from the Juvenile Services Administration. The home will provide residential care for periods of up to 30 days; individual, group, and family counseling where appropriate; and educational and recreational activities.

A similar award in the amount of $136,146 was also granted to Juvenile Services Administration to implement a temporary shelter-care service for males and females referred by Juvenile Services offices in Garrett, Washington, and Allegany Counties.

Also in the juvenile area, a grand award of $18,306 in third year funds was made to Juvenile Services Administration for continued development and implementation of the Maryland Automated Juvenile Information System. The system, when completed will provide a complete tracking of events on each juvenile served; more immediate access to the historical data on the juvenile; improved information on the service programs utilized; and improved case management reports and timely statistical reports.

A grant award to the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services in the amount of $40,887 will be used to hire a Sheriff's Training Coordinator, whose function will be to develop and implement a viable training program for deputy sheriffs at both the entrance and inservice levels. Training will be provided based on a needs assessment in all 24 sheriffs' departments in Maryland.

Also at the State level, an award to the Administrative Office of the Courts in the amount of $54,000, will be used for the upgrading and expansion of that office's circuit court management and statistical information system. The system currently maintains statewide circuit court information on two separate data bases—the Maryland Judicial Information System (MJIS) and the Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS). Project activities would be directed at both modifications to the existing data collection instruments, as well as system programming activities to improve the deficiencies which currently exist.

Another award for $5,940 to the Administrative Office of the Courts will provide second year funding to continue statewide implementation of a juror orientation/slide presentation for the circuit courts. During the first year of the project, the jurisdictions in which the program was used experienced an improvement in jury operation and a reduction in juror orientation time. The program also reduced the judge's involvement in the orientation by at least 25%, according to the Commissioner.

The Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice is the State agency responsible for comprehensive criminal justice and law enforcement planning for administering anti-crime funds made available to Maryland under provisions of the Crime Control Act of 1976 and the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 and its 1977 amendments.

Anti-Buttlegging Conference Opens In Annapolis

It's a time when most of us are thinking about the April 15th Income Tax deadline, but for 40 law enforcement officers from Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia, the week of April 14th will revolve around tobacco tax laws and how to enforce them, according to Maryland Comptroller, Louis L. Goldstein.

The first in a series of nationwide cigarette smuggling seminars opened in Annapolis on Monday, hosted by the Maryland State Comptroller's Office, Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division. The seminars are sponsored by the U. S. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration and the U. S. Treasury Department, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms.

In opening the conference, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein noted this isn't the first time Maryland has been first in the area of combating cigarette bootlegging. "Back in 1966, I called the first interstate conference on cigarette bootlegging, which was held in Baltimore," Mr. Goldstein said.

The Comptroller noted that cooperation remains the key to combatting the smuggling problem and reported that he had recently attended the first national meeting in which State tax administrators, Federal law enforcement officials and representatives of the tobacco industry met together for an exchange of views.

The current seminar is familiarizing State and local law enforcement officials with the latest methods in combating cigarette smuggling. Maryland law enforcement officials attending the seminar include representatives of the Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Enforcement Unit, Maryland State Police, Toll Facilities Police, Port Administration Police, Natural Resources Police and local law enforcement agencies.

Maryland, because of its location, lies in the path of cigarette smugglers traveling from low tobacco tax southern states to high tax states to the north, Goldstein said. Because of its mid-range, 10 cents per pack tobacco tax, there is little revenue loss in Maryland traceable to smuggling activity.

"If we are not vigilant in combatting the smuggling activity, however," Mr. Goldstein said, "Maryland could well be turned into a distribution point for smuggling activity."

Federal law now permits the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms to help handle cases involving cigarette bootlegging. "We worked for many years, through our interstate group and in other meetings, and we were finally successful in getting legislation passed by the U. S. Congress to make much of this bootlegging activity a Federal crime," Goldstein said.

Bike-A-Thon To Be Held May 5

A bike-a-thon to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital will be held in Oakland on May 5, according to Mrs. Mabel Jones, local chairman. Riders will be asking local citizens to pledge a specific contribution for each mile they ride.

Mrs. Jones said that much of the research which is done at St. Jude's involves childhood cancer.

Riders will be given lap cards upon registration, which begins at 1 p.m. the day of the race at Bradley Manor. Each time a rider completes a lap the card is checked as proof of how far each participant rides.

The route will begin at Bradley Manor and consists of a five-mile course. Prizes will be awarded to top bikers and refreshments will be served to all participants.

Sponsor sheets may be picked up at Southern High School, Garrett Community College, Dennett Road Elementary School and Southern Middle School.

Livestock Slaughter Reported By Service

There were 5,500 head of cattle commercially slaughtered during February in Maryland and Delaware, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. This was 15 percent below the January slaughter, but 12 percent above February a year earlier. There were 2,000 calves butchered in February, five percent below last month, but 33 percent above last year.

The hog kill was 37,300 head, eight percent below the previous month, but 87 percent above February 1979.

Sheep and lambs slaughtered during February totaled 2,900 head, 15 percent less than last month, but 61 percent above last year.

Average liveweight of cattle slaughtered in February was 1,092 pounds, compared to 1,106 pounds a year ago. Calf weights averaged 313 pounds, down five pounds from last year. Hogs averaged 224 pounds, eight pounds less than a year ago. Sheep averaged 105 pounds, one pound above last year.

Commercial production of red meat in Maryland and Delaware for January was 9.9 million pounds, 11 percent below January 1980, but 46 percent above February 1979.

Amendment Of Milk Order Is Issued By USDA

An amendment has been issued that will allow farmers operating under the Middle Atlantic federal milk marketing order to use a larger share of their milk payments for advertising and promotion, it was announced by officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

P. R. Smith, assistant secretary of agriculture for marketing and transportation services, said that the amended order and the amended advertising and promotion program has been approved by more than two-thirds of the producers involved.

Smith pointed out that the order will change the way assessments for advertising and promotion are calculated. Assessments—now on a fixed rate schedule—will be based on the average price that handlers pay farmers for their milk. The new rate will be one percent of the weighted average prices during the 6-month period ending Sept. 30 of the preceding year.

The change will increase assessments to 12 cents per hundredweight for the 1980 crop—up from the current 7 cents, Smith said. This increase will have no effect on the retail price of milk to consumers.

Another change will result in producers who don't wish to participate in the advertising and promotion program having to file a request for a refund only once a year rather than each quarter. Also, producers will be able to receive refunds monthly.

The amended order also will establish a late-payment charge on overdue payments to producers, cooperatives, and the market administrator.

Another change will require the market administrator to make payments due handlers from the producer-settlement fund on or before the 16th rather than the 17th day after the end of each month, Smith said.

The order will become partially effective June 1, 1980, and fully effective July 1, 1980. The June 1 effective date, which will allow 30 days' notice, applies to the late-payment and other provisions for notifying producers of the changes in the advertising and promotion program. The July 1 effective date pertains to the change in the funding rate of the advertising and promotion program and coincides with the beginning of a quarterly budgeting period. The amended order will be published in the April 7 Federal Register.

WHY CARPET YOUR KITCHEN?

Why is carpeting being installed in so many kitchens today? The answer lies in its convenience, its wearability, and its attractive good looks. There was a time when people never dreamed of carpeting their kitchen, bathroom, or recreation room. Carpeting just couldn't withstand the spills and heavy traffic associated with these areas. But carpeting has changed. Since the development of the durable, stain-resistant synthetic fibers, carpeting has become a practical and attractive addition to any room in the house.

Very little effort is required to keep carpeting beautiful and new-looking. Spills can be quickly wiped up with a cloth. Crumbs and dirt are easily removed with a vacuum cleaner. There's no strenuous scrubbing or waxing as with old fashioned tile floors.

Kitchen carpeting can help keep you comfortable while you prepare the family meals. The soft floor surface feels great under tired feet and legs. Carpeting lessens the noise in a busy kitchen, too.

Carpeting is available in almost every imaginable color and texture. For help in selecting the right carpeting for your kitchen, stop in soon and talk with one of our carpeting experts.

DAY OF THE LORD

Lesson for April 20, 1980

Background Scripture:
 2 Peter, Jude
 Devotional Reading:
 Jude 17-25

There are two scriptural terms that appear to be similar, yet are miles apart in meaning: "The Lord's Day" and "Day of the Lord." The first of these is a reference to the sabbath day, a day "holy" to the Lord and set apart as a day of "rest and gladness." In the Christian culture the Lord's Day is Sunday.

But "The Day of the Lord" is something else. It is the day when, it is believed, God will come to judge the world, "the day of Armageddon," the final struggle between good and evil.

Stored Up For Fire

This month Doubleday is publishing an interesting and challenging book entitled, POLE SHIFT! - Predictions And Prophecies of the Ultimate Disaster, by John White. Author White has painstakingly researched both ancient records and contemporary scientific findings and come to the conclusion that our planet has probably experienced a number of pole shifts - a dislocation of the North and South poles causing the Earth to flip end-over-end in space - causing ice ages, reversals of the Earth's magnetic field, conditions, and other major cataclysms. Some of these, he believes, are reflected in many Biblical passages, particularly the Psalms and the Prophets.

The most alarming aspect of this book, however, is White's conviction - shared with many contemporary prophets and some scientists - that just as our planet may have tumbled in space many times before, so it may do so again soon! White interprets his sources as pointing to this "ultimate disaster" to take place at the end of this century!

New Heavens! New Earth!

Some of the New Testament writers also looked for such a "Day of the Lord." This seemed to dominate the mind of 2 Peter, who said: "... the heavens and earth that now exist have been stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of godly men" (3:7). Many are asking today: is ours the day of which Peter and others have written? Some suspect the answer is "yes," others are unsure, and still others remind us that every generation has suspected it might be the last.

The Gospel gives neither a clear "yes" or "no" but it does have a message for us: Consider "what sort of persons ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the day of God, because of which the heavens will be kindled and dissolved, and the elements will melt with fire! But according to his promise we wait for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells." (3:11-13).

Whether this is "at hand," as some believe, or far off, as do others (myself included), the challenge, as we wait for the "new heavens and a new earth," is to live with holiness and godliness.

Coordinated effort

Closed-captions new to ABC, NBC and PBS

Most viewers never knew the difference, but some 20 hours of prime-time programming on ABC, NBC and PBS are now being "closed-captioned" for the deaf and hearing-impaired.

This means that persons with a hearing problem may purchase a captioning adapter (Sears, Roebuck & Co. advertises it — marketed under the name "TeleCaption" — in their spring-summer catalogue) in order to watch television and read the dialogue — much in the way foreign films have subtitles. The adapter, which retails for about $250 and can be attached to any television set, receives the transmission signals of programs that include the captioning. Because the captions are in the form of an electronic code, they are visible only to viewers with the adapters; sets not so equipped are not affected, hence the term "closed-captioning."

In order to prepare a program for captioning, the network furnishes one of the National Captioning Institute's centers (located in Falls Church, Va., and Hollywood, Calif.) with a cassette of the program prior to air date. The center encodes the program dialogue into captions that are recorded on a magnetic disc. The disc is returned to the networks where it is inserted electronically into the television picture and then transmitted along with the normal video and audio portions of the program.

This is the symbol adopted by the National Captioning Institute to indicate those programs being closed-captioned.

A TeleCaption adapter enables any television set to display captions on selected shows that will be broadcast on ABC, NBC and PBS. Sets not equipped with the adapter will not be affected.

NCI has coordinated the efforts of ABC, NBC and PBS so that all three broadcasters will have a minimum of schedule conflicts, thus enabling the hearing-impaired to take fullest advantage of the project. Programs will be identified in TV listings with the words "closed-captioned" (or simply "C-C") and/or the symbol shown at the end of this article.

The cost to the networks is about $750,000 each, which includes the cost of captioning, additional transmission and other ancillary costs. The NCI plans to work with the Lion's Club International and the National PTA to arrange for financial aid to those individuals unable to afford the adapter.

The programs currently selected to be made available with the captioning are as follows:

On ABC: "Eight Is Enough," "Vegas," "Barney Miller," "Three's Company" and "The ABC Sunday Night Movie."

And on PBS: "Masterpiece Theater," "Once Upon a Classic," "Odyssey," "Nova" and "Mystery."

All three will also closed-caption certain specials, when possible.

CBS is conspicuously absent from the group of broadcasters that is working with the NCI. That network is holding out while it tests an adapter that receives many different electronic signals, rather than one limited to captions only. This type of teletext system, as it's called, would provide multiple uses for the general audience as well as the hearing-impaired. CBS is currently conducting tests of the system.

CINDY SAYS

Tony Franciosa sups; Bo won't endorse

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — On Manhattan's elegant East 86th Street they hung out of windows, out of five escapes (which on the East Side are called "terraces," naturally) and all because gorgeous Tony Franciosa swiveled up to apartment 2-D to visit his sister who lives with his mama and to inhale a little homemade zuppa di pesce — Bo Derek razzberry'd an offer to endorse frisbees and pinball machines. Ain't classy enough to suit her image, explained husband John, who photographs his missus naked for magazines — Lucie Arnaz looking to cement mommy Lucy, daddy Desi, herself and Desi, Jr. in a family TV special but so far none of them talk to the other long enough to make plans.

At the Doubleday party in honor of my new book, "Lee Strasberg: The Imperfect Genius of The Actors Studio," the guests were interesting. Farley Granger remained in the warm, crowded room with his coat on because "I can only stay a few minutes." Hours later he was still in the coat. Sylvia Miles showed in a low-cut, pink vinyl space suit. Jane Pickens brought her dog Betsy Von Furstenburg called Virginia Graham "Sheilah" and somebody — I don't remember who but I think it was Ruth Warrick — whispered to me as the shrimp bowl went by, "I don't want to embarrass you but at Lauren Bacall's book party the publisher served caviar!" Beaufiful Angie Dickinson and the very young Rob Wolders, who is the widower of the very rich Merle Oberon, are courting or sparking or whatever one does when one becomes two.

Jimmy Durante's biography being done by longtime chum Jackie Barnett — James Garner is filming another round of Polaroid commercials in L.A. And Eli Wallach is grinding out another set of Emigrant Savings Bank commercials in N.Y. — Still smarting over the split 12 months ago, the soon-to-be-ex Mrs. Clint Eastwood, Maggie, sighs, "I'm 47, and when you're married 25 years it's tough to face the fact that it's all over." Clint's playmate is his usual co-star, actress Sondra Locke.

John Travolta: "When I see all that stuff about me I feel I'm reading about someone else who has the same name. I've only been an 'idol' for a year or so."

Quincy (series star Jack Klugman) takes on the head of a private hospital, when he learns that the doctor may be caring for patients based on their ability to pay, on "Quincy," Thursday, April 17, on NBC. (REPEAT)

SOAP OPERA WEEK

'Texas' negotiations heating up in East

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — The big news in Eastern daytime television is that "Texas," the proposed spinoff of "Another World," is tentatively scheduled to make its one-hour debut in August. If the show goes, the head writers will be Bill and Joyce Corrington, who have been scripting "Search For Tomorrow." Several performers who have recently departed other soaps are currently in contract negotiations, and some former cast members from the defunct "Love of Life" are being considered for major roles. We'll try to keep you up-to-date on the negotiations.

If "Texas" hits the daytime screen, there's sure to be a time change for "The Doctors." If so, the show would most likely be shown in the 12:30 time slot in most cities, against the higher rated "Search For Tomorrow" and "Ryan's Hope." Major surgery of the first degree may be needed if "TD" is to remain on the video waves. Christine Jones was recently killed off "Another World" as the crazed Janice Frame

Cory, but her association with castmate William Gray Espy (Mitch Blake) will not end. The couple are the latest romantic "item" in East Coast soapdom.

Sammy Davis, Jr. fans will be delighted to hear that the master entertainer will have a return engagement on "One Life to Live," scheduled to air sometime in April. Davis returns as the somewhat shady character of Chip Warren, one of Brad's old cronies.

Susan Lucci (Erica Cudahy on "All My Children") gave birth on February 28 to a son, Andreas. Susan and her husband, Helmut Huber, also have a 4-year-old daughter, Lisa Victoria. Susan plans to resume her "AMC" role soon.

Watch for John Gabriel (Seneca Beaulac on "Ryan's Hope") in the feature-length flick, "A Perfect Circle." John is filming right now in California with the film's stars, Jill Clayburgh and Michael Douglas.

SATURDAY

GOLF LEGENDS — The Liberty Mutual Legends of Golf Tournament will feature 40 of the best senior golfers in the world, who will be competing for $400,000 in prize money, live from Onion Creek Club course in Austin, Texas, on Saturday, April 26, and Sunday April 27, on NBC. TV TATTLE

Still too young

Danielle Brisebois, 10, who's featured in CBS's "Archie Bunker's Place," and her boyfriend, Lee Trink, 12, an actor, just had their first date in over a year — at a New York sandwich counter. Danielle, who lives in Brooklyn, recently returned from Los Angeles after completing the show's tapings for the season. Lee lives in Flushing. "We've known each other for six years," Danielle says, "but we have no marriage plans now."

Loretta meets Luciano

Grand Old Opry and grand opera meet in the personages of Loretta Lynn and Luciano Pavarotti on "Omnibus," which will air on ABC this spring. Hal Holbrook, host of "Omnibus," will introduce the two superstars in a segment that explores similarities in both their singing and music, highlighted when the reigning tenor of the Italian repertoire teaches "The First Lady of Country Music" to sing "Sorrento" in Italian.

Learned, McCarthy signed

Michael Learned, three-time Emmy Award winner for her portrayal of Olivia Walton in the CBS series, "The Waltons," will resume her stage career starring opposite stage and screen star Kevin McCarthy in Corinne Jucker's new play, "After the Season," which will premiere on Broadway in early May. The play will give an out-of-town tryout at the Playhouse Theater in Wilmington from April 25 through May 3 and open in New York later that week.

In Touch radio

Although blind persons cannot see NBC's "Saturday Night Live," a great many sightless people listen to the program for its humor and relevant parodies. Now many blind people will have a special insight into the colorful production of the show through the auspices of a specialized radio "station," the "In-Touch Network," sightless people in parts of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut will be treated to a detailed description of the varied sets, performers and frenetic last-minute preparations that are part of every "Saturday Night Live" broadcast. The "In-Touch Network" reaches 1,100 blind people in the tri-state area via a special receiver.

Manfield begins

Production has begun on "Jayne Mansfield: A Symbol of the 50s," a new motion picture-for-television starring Loni Anderson and Arnold Schwarzenegger, to be aired on CBS. Miss Anderson, star of "WKRP in Cincinnati," portrays Jayne Mansfield, the actress and sex symbol whose life and meteoric career ended in tragedy. Schwarzenegger plays body-builder Mickey Hargitay, her husband, who helplessly watches his glamorous wife being overwhelmed by personal problems as her career plummets as fast as it rose.

Bad Check Cases Head District Court Docket

In Garrett County District Court last week three persons were found guilty of writing bad checks. Other cases tried involved theft, battery, destruction of property, disturbing the peace and trespassing.

Norman Harold Minnick, 38, Bayard, WV, pled guilty at a March 10 trial, to writing bad checks in the Oakland area, totalling $610. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered at that time and Minnick was sentenced last week to 30 days in jail and a $300 fine ($25 for each charge, or check written). The jail sentence was suspended and the defendant was placed on supervised probation for 12 months, and ordered by the court to pay the fine and court costs.

The checks were written in May, 1979, to Top of the Hill Tavern, Jerry Shillingburg, Fireside Inn, and Shorty's Bar and Grill, to obtain goods and cash.

In a separate case, Susan Boyce, 30, Bayard, WV, pled guilty last week to writing bad checks to Total Discount Foods, Inc. and Browning's Retail Grocery Outlet in a total amount of $467.90. The 13 checks were written in May, June and July, 1979, to obtain goods and cash. Judge L. R. Jones ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Calvin Kent Stinson, 19, Mt. Lake Park, pled guilty to a theft charge filed by arresting officer Deputy Larry E. Gneig, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Oakland. The charge was filed after Stinson admitted to the theft of a sunroof from a car owned by John Sharpless. The theft occurred in November, 1979, and the roof is valued at $295.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the court.

Richard Allen Smith, 19, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of destruction of property last week. The charge was filed by arresting officer Deputy Russell D. Drenning, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Oakland, after a February 15 incident on Oakland-Song Run Road, when Deputy Drenning and T.C. William Rice responded to a complaint of a "peeping tom" looking in windows in the area. One resident's window was broken and footprints were tracked prior to the arrest.

Smith was also charged with trespassing and was found not guilty of that charge. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the court.

Lora Rae Haines, 20, Keyser, WV, pled guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. The charge was filed by Deputy Steve A. Beeman, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Oakland, following a February 10 incident at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Haines was fined $25. William Bradley Smeltzer, Swanton, pled guilty to a battery charge filed by Cora Smeltzer Wiltson, Piedmont, WV, resulting from a December 17 incident.

Judge L. R. Jones ruled probation before judgment and the defendant was placed on unsupervised probation for 12 months.

Ms. Wiltson filed charges against Eulah Fazenbaker Smeltzer, wife of William Smeltzer, resulting from the same incident. Mrs. Smeltzer pled guilty to the destruction of property charge.

The court ordered probation before judgment and the defendant was placed on unsupervised probation for 12 months. She was ordered to make restitution to Ms. Wiltson for damages to her vehicle, within 60 days.

In a separate case, Francis G. Niner, 36, Oakland, was found guilty of writing a bad check to Total Discount Foods, Inc., in the amount of $20, to obtain goods and cash. The check was written last September. Mr. Niner was fined $25.

Marvin E. Wiley, Jr., 20, Grantsville, received sentencing last week, following a pre-sentence investigation ordered at the March 3 trial when Wiley pled guilty to attempted theft and destruction of property. Judge L. R. Jones ruled the guilty verdict changed to probation before judgment, and the defendant was placed on supervised probation for 12 months, and ordered by the court to pay costs and make restitution to Holiday Inn in Grantsville for damages in the amount of $20, within 30 days. The charges resulted from a

January 21 incident at the Grantsville Holiday Inn, when the defendant and others attempted to burglarize a game machine.

In other court business, Denver Claude Welch, Oakland, was found not guilty of wanton trespassing, filed by Charlotte E. DeWitt, Oakland.

Three cases were declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin in District Court last week.

Parents' Guide For Handicapped Now Available

The Maryland Developmental Disabilities Council reports that parents who learn that their children are severely handicapped face great difficulty and frustration in finding help and guidance.

Dr. Hugo Moser, the Council's chairperson, states that the Council has recently published a manual to meet these needs and to assist parents of handicapped children find the programs and services they need.

"The manual, Looking Forward, A Guide for Parents of Children With Disabilities, has been designed to help parents with a child's special needs in various stages of living," says Dr. Moser. "It attempts to assure them that help is available. It explains legal rights and resources and provides assistance on accessing needed services," he added.

Looking Forward is the culmination of a six-month study of needs and resources in the area of developmental disabilities. It is written in an easy, conversational style that the average parent will appreciate.

according to Moser. Professional jargon has been avoided and special messages have been highlighted, he said.

Several Summer Homes Burglarized

Several thefts and destructions of property were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week. Many summer homes in Garrett County have been broken into and burglarized, according to police reports.

Kenneth Riley of Fairmont, W. Va., reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his cabin on Lake Shore Drive, sometime between March 28 and April 3. Unknown subjects entered the cabin and removed numerous antique and decorative items. Items removed include antique ice block tongs, fireplace shovel and cobbler's hammer, an antique wooden scale and one set of cotton combs, a large mirror, an ocean scene oil painting, a brass statue and four hand-made quilts.

The loss value of these items is undetermined at this time, police said.

In a similar case, George Eghinis of Wheaton reported a breaking and entering and theft at his mobile home residence on Harvey's Peninsula. The incident occurred sometime between February 3 and March 31, when unknown subjects entered the residence and carried away electronic equipment, including a stereo receiver, a 4-channel portable scanner and a 19-inch portable color TV.

Loss value is estimated at $725.

Thomas Black of Aliquippa, Pa., reported a theft of fuel oil at his residence on Skippers Point Road. The theft occurred sometime this past winter, when unknown subjects removed approximately 350 gallons of fuel oil from a tank at his trailer. The tank was filled and the heat turned off for the winter season, police said.

Loss value is approximately $300.

William Clark of Baltimore reported a breaking and entering at his summer home on New Germany Road, sometime between March 3 and April 4. Unknown subjects pushed in a screen on the front door and pried away a piece of window molding to gain entrance into the building. Nothing appeared missing, police said, but evidence revealed that the subjects had used a skill to prepare food in the kitchen of the dwelling.

Damage to the house by entry is approximately $15.

In a separate case, Gordon Puffy of College Park reported a theft of a lawn mower from his out-building at his summer cottage near Bittinger. The incident occurred sometime during the month of March, when unknown subjects pried a padlock from the out-building and removed a red, one-and-a-half horsepower mower.

Loss value is estimated at $80.

Connie Corbin, Oakland, reported a theft of a purse which occurred at Joe's Place in Oakland on April 5. The purse was lying on a table when Ms. Corbin left the table, and upon returning it was gone. A suspect was located that evening in connection with the theft, and later arrested by deputies when an item from the purse was found on his person.

Donald Wayne Cottrell, 20, Oakland, was arrested for the theft on April 5. Bond is set at $2000.

David Liller, 18, of Fingerboard Road, was arrested April 10 and charged with destruction of property. The incident in question occurred April 9 at the home of Junior and Glenda Guthrie, Oakland, when the subject broke a door and two windows in a door. Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie were not home at the time.

Liller admitted to the destruction of property. He was released on his own recognizance.

A destruction of property reportedly occurred at A. B. & G. Mobile Motel, Sand Flat, on April 4, when a vehicle entered the trailer court, ran off the blacktop onto a grassy lot, became bogged down and spun its tires in the grass. Witnesses reported that when the vehicle became stuck the driver called for assistance at a near-by phone booth, and was later pulled out by another vehicle.

The incident occurred at about 3 a.m. and loss value is estimated at $50.

In addition to Cottrell and Liller, two other arrests were made this week by the Sheriff's Department.

Donald Gordon, 39, was arrested April 7 as an escapee. Bond is set at $5000.

Barbara Guthrie, 38, was incarcerated April 10 for a bad check charge. She was released on her own recognizance.

Young Farmers

Form Association

A group for young farmers, in conjunction with the Maryland State Farm Bureau, is being formed in Garrett County.

The significance of this group is to keep the young farmer informed of problems and current issues concerning agriculture at the state and local level. It is also a way for the young farmer to voice personal opinion to state and local representatives.

Interested persons under the age of 35 are invited to participate. There is no charge for membership in the group.

The association will meet monthly, with a guest speaker at each gathering. The April meeting will be held on Saturday, April 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hamburger House, Route 219, one mile north of Accident. The guest speaker will be Jay Hoffman, a representative from the Maryland State Farm Bureau office.

Electric Utility Group Is Formed

The Maryland-District of Columbia Utilities Association announced today the formation of the Maryland Electric Utility Council (MEUC), a statewide information service of the electric utility industry. The announcement was made by Donald J. Heim, president of Washington Gas Light Company and president of the Maryland-District of Columbia Utilities Association. The Council will function as a sub-committee of the Association, which is a trade organization of electric and other utilities serving Maryland and the District.

The Council will develop a communications program for the electric utilities serving Maryland, in order to facilitate mutual understanding of the concerns and needs of the industry and its customers, according to Mr. Heim.

Heim also announced that Clement E. Gardiner, Director of Public Affairs for the Potomac Edison Company, will serve as chairman of the sub-committee.

"Electric utilities and their Maryland customers will face many challenges in the 1980's," stated Mr. Gardiner. "We believe that a centralized, industry-wide information system will help clarify and resolve many concerns and issues. Statistics and projections will be based on the total electric industry in the state, with its full economic and customer service impact. We believe that the MEUC will enhance the customer information programs provided by the individual companies."

Initial tasks of the Council will include gathering statewide data on customers' electrical needs and industry plans for meeting those needs.

Wills and Associates, of Baltimore, public affairs counsel experienced in the electric energy industry, will be responsible for staff work for the Council, which can be reached by calling (301) 962-5555.

up 11.2 percent from the $1,038,103,055 collected for the same period of Fiscal Year 1979.

Commission For Handicapped Reopens Office

The Governor's Commission on Employment of the Handicapped reopened its Western Maryland Regional Office located in the Professional Arts Building, Room 3075, Hagerstown, Monday, March 3, announced regional director Lynn Schlossberg.

The office had been closed for almost a year because of a lack of funding, noted Ms. Schlossberg. In February 1980, the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation submitted a grant application for the Commission to the Western Maryland Consortium which approved it.

"The office will continue to function through its volunteer county committees in Washington, Allegany and Garrett Counties," said Schlossberg. She further stated that the awareness program, designed to educate the public concerning issues affecting the handicapped population, will be continued. In addition, the office will offer a job placement service to handicapped persons in the Western Maryland region.

Ms. Schlossberg emphasized her belief that the program will only work if handicapped persons and employers take advantage of the services offered. She stated that any disabled person looking for a job or any employer seeking to fill job openings with qualified handicapped persons should call her collect at (301) 791-4760, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Camp Hickory To Host College Days Program Again

Repeating last year's "new look," the 1980 version of College Days II will again be offered at four locations around the state during June and July. College Days is the traditional summer adult education short course program offered each year by the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Maryland Extension Homemakers Council. From 1923 until last year, the event had been held annually on the College Park campus, interrupted only by World War II.

The new approach definitely appears successful, notes Dr. Maria de Colon, Extension home economics program coordinator at the University of Maryland in College Park.

Regional programs offer the chance for greater total attendance while reducing transportation costs for participants and providing programs tailored to local needs, Dr. Colon said. Locations and regional breakdowns will be exactly the same as last year, and are as follows: June 10-11—Central region at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg (Frederick County);

June 25-27—Eastern Shore region at Washington College, Chestertown (Kent County);

July 20-23—Western region at Camp Hickory near Accident (Garrett County);

July 28-Aug. 1—Southern region at St. Mary's College in St. Mary's City (St. Mary's County).

Programs are open to both men and women. Interested persons may attend any or all of the four regional sessions. Advance registration is requested.

Registration deadlines vary according to location. The first deadline is May 28 for the Central region session at Mount St. Mary's College. Forms and detailed information on program content are available from offices of the Cooperative Extension Service in all 23 Maryland counties and in Baltimore city. Requests for information and registration forms may also be directed to the Extension Home Economics Department, 1200A Symons Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, Md. 20742; (301) 454-3602. Early registration will insure first choice for individual classes and overnight accommodations, the department said.

Energy Grant Awards Offered

The U. S. Department of Energy has announced the opening of the 1980 Appropriate Energy Technology Small Grants Program. The purpose of this program is to solicit ideas from citizens about energy conservation and the use of alternative energy resources.

During the 1979 program, 83 grants with a total amount of $980,000 were made to applicants in Region III. The average grant awarded in last year's program was approximately $12,000. Persons in Region III, which includes Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Washington, D. C., are encouraged to apply for grants of up to $50,000.

The 1980 Appropriate Energy Technology Small Grants Program will award approximately $1.1 million to individuals, local non-profit organizations and institutions, state and local agencies, Indian tribes, and small businesses in Region III.

The three categories of proposals eligible under the program include idea development, product/system development, and demonstration.

The deadline for submitting grant applications for the 1980 program is April 30, 1980. For additional information, interested persons should call 800-523-0612. These lines are open between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. For additional information, persons may also write to: Appropriate Energy Technology, U. S. Department of Energy, P. O. Box 7913, Philadelphia, PA 19104

USDA Purchasing Wheat Crops At $4.45 A Bushel

Maryland farmers may sell their wheat to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) at $4.45 a bushel, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

"Farmers may offer a specified quantity of wheat at this price through our office," he said. The purchases will be made on a first-come, first-served basis, and farmers must have title to and possession of the grain when the offer is submitted.

To remove from the market an amount of grain equal to that suspended from shipment to the Soviet Union, the Department has been buying corn and wheat by issuing invitations to sellers asking them to submit bids offering their grain for sale.

If the CCC is unable to accept delivery of farm-stored grain within 30 days after accepting the offer, ASCS will pay farmers storage payments of .0685 cents per bushel per day beginning on the 31st day after acceptance until the grain is delivered. "Farmers will not receive storage payments, however, if they delay delivery," Crowl said. "Payments for warehouse-stored grain will be made when the farmer delivers acceptable warehouse receipts to our office."

The ASCS official said producers may also request advance payment for farm-stored grain of up to 80 percent of the bushels offered times the basic purchase price after the offer is accepted.

More information on the USDA wheat purchases may be obtained from the local ASCS office.

Recently they were the guests of Jim Bakker on the PTL Club program in Charlotte, N. C. Besides hymns and gospel numbers, the group also offers numerous original pieces. Dental Fees Rise Due To Increase In Supply Costs

With the cost of the silver used in dental fillings jumping over 400% since June 1979 and the cost of X-ray film increasing 119% during the same period, Dr. Frank Dolle, president of the Maryland State Dental Association said recently the almost 2,000 dentists in the MSDA have no choice but to raise their fees.

Dr. Dolle asserted: "In addition, as everyone knows the price of gold has gone out of sight and, because of its high price, the use of gold in crown and bridge work has dropped off more than 50%."

Dr. Dolle said that dentists are trying to come up with an alternative to gold, but so far no one has with any non-precious metal that does the job as well as gold.

Silver amalgam capsules are used as the principal fill material for teeth, which accounts for about 75% of patient care. Silver is also used in X-ray film.

Dr. Dolle also asserted that suppliers have told him that their manufacturers have indicated that supplies will soon begin to be rationed as well.

Dr. Dolle concluded by saying: "We keenly regret the need for increasing our fees to our patients." He pointed out the consumer price index between Nov. 1978 and Nov. 1979 had risen 12.6%, the entire health care index, 9.3%, and dental fees, 8.2%.

New Members To Be Sought By Area Cub Scouts

Boys who are at least 7½ years old and who will complete the second grade this spring are the objects of a "Bobcat Hunt" by the Potomac Deep Creek District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of the "Bobcat Hunt" is to encourage boys from 7½ to 10 years of age to join Cub Scouting, which is celebrating its 50th anniversary during 1980.

"Each Cub Scout pack throughout the Potomac Council will be looking for new members in April and May," according to Pat Fischetti, Deep Creek District Chairman. "By joining at this time, boys will be able to get involved with the pack's summertime fun and with other activities planned during this anniversary year."

Cub Scouting is a family-centered educational program that offers boys effective character, citizenship, and personal fitness training, Fischetti said. Among the features of the Cub Scout program are weekly den meetings, monthly pack meetings with families, an advancement plan, outdoor activities, and competitive events and sports.

"The 30 millionth Cub Scout will be registered during 1980, and naturally it is exciting to think that he might possibly be registered in the Potomac Council," Fischetti said.

For additional information about the program in the Potomac Council, parents should contact the Cub Scout pack nearest them. They are listed below with the cubmaster and his phone number.

ASCS Accepting Acreage Reports

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) is currently accepting acreage reports for the 1980 feed grain, wheat, upland cotton, and rice programs.

Paul A. Crowl, chairperson of the Maryland State ASCS Committee, said there is no set-aside requirement and all farmers who file an accurate acreage report will be eligible for program benefits.

Farmers may also indicate their intentions to participate in the 1980 programs when they report their fall-seeded crops. "Some farmers will have seeded spring crops which they can report," he added.

Farmers have until May 1, 1980 to report the sizes and intended uses of their wheat, barley, oats, and rye crops. Crowl said the report should be as accurate as possible. "The more accurate the report, the less trouble the farmer has to qualify for program benefits."

ASCS will randomly check farms to verify that acreage reports are accurate and also make aerial photographs available for farmers to identify their fields.

According to Crowl, the entire farm must be certified correctly before a program participant can receive the benefits of price support, disaster, and deficiency payments.

"This year it is important for all farmers to report their crops. With no set-aside provisions, everyone who reports will be eligible for any payments made, regardless of planted acres and normal crop acreage," the ASCS official said.

Farmers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so as soon as possible. The Maryland County ASCS offices are open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

WONDERS OF PHOTOGRAPHY — While the recent downpours of rain have played havoc with county roads and bridges, the abundance of water has provided some beautiful settings for photographers. These shots were captured at Laurel Run by The Republican staff photographer, Craig Phillips. The two above shots are of the same scene, however, they were taken at different shutter speeds. The one on the left was taken at a fast speed, causing the water to "stop." The shot on the right was taken at a slow speed, resulting in a rather mystical, seemingly artificial image of the same scene.

HOME MORTGAGE FINANCING ALTERNATIVES
Financing a home might seem to be a real impossibility with conventional sources for financing home mortgages scarce and interest rates high, but alternative methods of financing are now surfacing which may help. Some examples are:

Mortgage Assumptions: Some lenders permit a buyer to assume the seller's mortgage. VA and FHA guaranteed loans can be assumed. Often the loan has a lower than current market interest rate, even though some lenders insist on boosting the rate to current rates.

Second Mortgages: When a regular lender can't offer a big enough mortgage to make the purchase feasible, the buyer may be able to borrow the difference elsewhere under a second trust. Interest on these second mortgages is usually higher and pay-back periods are usually shorter.

Wraparounds: A buyer may be able to get the holder of the seller's mortgage to offer a second trust to supplement the existing loan, which is transferred to the buyer. Lenders grant wraparounds when the second trust is sound and the old loan has a low interest rate.

Land Contracts: The buyer makes a down payment—about 10 percent of the price—and pays the balance to the seller in regular installments, including interest charges. The buyer occupies the residence but the seller retains title until the payments total a specified amount. The seller then takes a mortgage secured by the property and transfers ownership to the buyer.

These alternative methods of financing are complex and no buyer or seller should use such a method without understanding it fully. Also, the need for retaining good attorneys in a real estate transaction is extremely important. Apply your knowledge, get expert help and perhaps the home you would like to own can be yours.

FOOD NOTES
Tacos can be a fun meal to have—everyone enjoys them and they are nutritious, too! One drawback with tacos is that most of the time a mix needs to be purchased to make them. Now you can make your own taco with this mix—

TACO SEASONING MIX
2 tsp. instant minced onion
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. cornstarch

YACC Constructs Steps At Muddy Creek Falls

Many days of work by Garrett County road crews have resulted in the partial re-opening of several county roads heavily damaged by the severe wind and rain storm of April 8, which produced much widespread washout, mudslide, and debris hazards, totaling $400,000 in loss estimates. Application has been made for federal disaster assistance.

measuring nearly three inches in the affected area.

Fifteen permanent families were stranded for some time, but now have partial access to their homes via one-way traffic. McCrobie also reported water damage to more than 75 summer homes, cottages, and cabins in the Savage River area.

A report given by the Road Administrator's office on Tuesday morning revealed that much has been done to improve the situation in recent days, but the department expects complete repairs to take a month or more.

A spokesman for the Garrett County Civil Defense department stated that office was called in to examine the vicinity and help evaluate the predicament. No emergency calls were received by Civil Defense, but it remains on constant stand-by.

Farm Prices Down

The mid-March Index of Prices Received by Maryland farmers for all commodities was down for the second straight month, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. The index at 208 percent of the 1967 base, was down two percent from mid-February and three percent below 1979. The all crop index was 215 percent of the base, down two percent from last month, but up five percent from a year ago. The livestock and livestock products index at 204 percent decreased three percent from last month and eight percent from last year.

Prices paid by Maryland farmers were down from last month for all feeds except middlings, which was unchanged and bran rose slightly. Compared with last year, prices increased for all but three feeds. Cottonseed meal and soybean meal were unchanged and 32% mix dairy feed decreased.

The discussion following will focus on the special nutritional needs of children and how these needs relate to the family's daily diet. Panel members will be available to answer the questions of new mothers regarding infant nutrition and post-natal weight loss.

The public is invited to attend

Vacation Guides Now Available

The 1980-81 Vacation Guide printed by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council is now available, according to Cindy Hanks, executive director.

Garrett County's abundance of outdoor recreation is depicted on the front cover, showing Bill Ferry enjoying fly-fishing in one of the county's many streams, Ms. Hanks said.

This year's booklet has been enlarged to 72 pages and features two new categories: Garrett County Facts and the History of Garrett County.

The guidebooks also provide information on Garrett County such as accommodations, special events, historical sites, restaurants, services and special attractions.

The guides are available at the Promotion Council office, Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland 21550 (301) 334-3888.

Sorghum Program Participants To Receive Payments

Farmers who complied with the 1979 sorghum set-aside program will receive around $61 million in deficiency payments from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Paul A. Crowl, chairperson of Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service said recently. The payments will be made by County ASCS Offices in early April.

Deficiency payments are made to program participants when the national weighted average market price for the first five months of the marketing year (October-February) falls below the government-established target level for the commodity, Crowl said. The payment rate is the difference between the target level and the five-month average price or the national average loan, rate, whichever is higher.

For eligible 1979 sorghum acreage, the deficiency payment rate is 13 cents per bushel, the difference between the $2.34-per-bushel target level and the $2.21 average market price. There will be no corn deficiency payments since the average market price of $2.31 exceeded the corn target level of $2.20 per bushel.

Crowl also announced the final national program acreage for corn at 85.7 million acres and for sorghum at 15.9 million acres. The program allocation factor for each grain is 100 percent.

Allocation factors are determined by dividing the crop's national program acreage by the number of harvested acres. Since the allocation factor for sorghum is 100 percent, eligible producers will receive deficiency payments on their total 1979 acreage planted for harvest.

Eligible sorghum growers who have not signed applications for payment should do so as soon as possible through their local County ASCS Offices, Crowl said. Payments cannot be made until applications are signed and approved.

The moon is new. The morning star is Mercury. The evening stars are Mars, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aries. Wilbur Wright, American inventor of the airplane, was born April 16, 1867. Actor Charlie Chaplin was born on this date in 1889.

On this date in history: In 1862, Congress abolished slavery in the District of Columbia.

In 1947, more than 500 people were killed when a French frigate carrying nitrates exploded at the dock in Texas City, Texas.

In 1972, Apollo 16 blasted off for the moon with three American astronauts aboard. Also that day, U. S. planes raided the North Vietnam capital of Hanoi.

In 1975, the government of Cambodia asked the communist insurgents for a cease-fire and offered to turn power over to them.

A thought for the day: English critic, essayist and caricaturist Sir Max Beerbohm said, "The dullard's envy of brilliant men is always assuaged by the suspicion that they will come to a bad end."

Energy Hotline Ceases Operation

The Maryland Energy Hotline will cease operation on

The program will continue operation until funds are exhausted, but not beyond June 30, 1980. Energy assistance funds are still available in each jurisdiction in the state. Persons desiring further information about the program should call their local department of social services or local community action agency.

Photo Contest To Be Sponsored By Conservationists

The Old Line Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America is sponsoring a conservation photography contest. The annual contest is open to members and nonmembers.

Eligible subject matter is the conservation and development of soil, water, fish and wildlife. Entries should illustrate the need for conserving these resources, methods used to overcome problems in their use, outstanding examples of proper resource use and benefits accruing to society as a result of man's efforts to conserve and develop these natural resources.

For complete contest rules, contact Katherine Gugulis, (301) 344-4180. The entry deadline is May 25.

Concert Slated At Mt. Storm Center

Bill and Carlotta Wellington will lead a program of old-time music at the Mt. Storm Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 19.

The concert was originally scheduled for February, but winter weather on the mountaintop prevented the performers from appearing.

The Wellingtons will be joined by Herm Pennington and Arlie Cosner, who will display their banjo talents; Florena Duling, who sings traditional ballads; and the Mt. Top Rhythm Makers.

The program is a presentation of the Grant County Arts Council.

Washington Was Not The First President Of U. S.

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Maryland patriot John Hanson was really the first president of the United States, but he is never mentioned in textbooks, an historical group said Monday on the 220th anniversary of Hanson's birthday.

Hanson, who lived from 1721 to 1783, was unanimously elected to a one-year term as "first president of the United States on Congress assembled" by the Continental Congress in November, 1781.

The office later was assumed by George Washington. Although Hanson had few duties in his one year as president and little power, a day of Thanksgiving was proclaimed, a Cabinet was formed and a national bank was created under his administration, the John Hanson Society of Maryland said.

The society has complained that he should be mentioned in American history textbooks and should certainly be listed in the latest history of Maryland compiled by the state.

The group said even his statue in the U. S. Capitol Building is wrong. The sculptor never copied Hanson's features from paintings and, instead, simply created a statue of someone he thought looked like a patriot, the society said.

School Board, Teachers Agree On Salary Hike

Herbert Harman, Garrett County Board of Education president, announced at a public hearing Thursday night that the Board has decided to submit a supplemental budget request to the county commissioners to cover a salary increase for Board of Education employees.

The Board had negotiated with the Garrett County Teachers' Association (GCTA) Thursday afternoon to increase the teachers' salaries more than the contracted agreement of six percent. Harman announced at the hearing, which was to present the FY1981 school budget request to the county commissioners, that the Board had agreed on an additional four percent increase for teachers and all other employees of the Board of Education, giving them a total increase of ten percent.

Harman stated, "As a result of the additional State allotment of $787,735 for Garrett County educational programs over the current year's allotment it should be easier for the local government to fund the supplemental request."

Because of support shown by persons attending the hearing, Harman later commented he was optimistic that the commissioners would fully fund the budget request and the supplemental budget request.

Although Dorris "Buzz" Updyke, president of the GCTA, says he could never admit he was totally satisfied with the additional four percent increase, he is pleased the Board and GCTA reached an agreement. "It is alot closer to the inflation rate of 18 percent than six percent was," he said.

The GCTA had requested a five percent increase instead of four percent.

Harman noted if the commissioners do not fully fund the budget request, the Board of Education will have difficult decisions to make to allocate funds received. "There are critical areas in operation and maintenance," he commented. He emphasized that the buildings had to be maintained and repaired for students to safely attend school.

Harman added that available funds for instruction would have to be allocated "to help the children in the best way."

There has been some question whether the Board guaranteed a four percent increase to employees regardless of the final allocation from the county commissioners or whether it depended on the county allotment. Harman stated, "A reasonable salary for employees is as important as anything else (in the budget)."

Harman also noted that the budget request from the county this year does not greatly exceed last year's request. The Board had requested $4,647,799 for FY1980 but received $3,960,503. This year the total local request is $4,690,843.

Comments made during the public hearing by citizens attending supported the Board's budget request and urged the commissioners to fully fund the request. Others called for full funding to guarantee implementation of a gifted and talented program, while others suggested that the commissioners and Board strive for a spirit of cooperation.

County Citizens Petition To Halt Sanitary Commission Activities

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday received a petition bearing the names of approximately 412 county citizens calling for a halt to all Garrett County Sanitary Commission activities with the exception of existing water and sewerage projects and for the county commissioners to take control of the Sanitary Commission's affairs.

Attached to the petition was a letter from Mt. Lake Park resident Joseph Bowen who called for a moratorium on Sanitary Commission projects and recommended the commissioners take seven actions against the Sanitary Commission.

Bowen told The Republican Tuesday evening that the petition, bearing the names of residents from primarily the Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn and Oakland areas, was not in support of the issues he raised in his letter but did show that citizens wanting the commissioners "to take control of the Sanitary Commission's affairs."

The seven actions suggested by Bowen included: 1) placement of the Sanitary Commission projects, by contract, under the county commissioners' control. To persuade the Sanitary Commission to agree the commissioners should 2) "Stop all loans and gifts" including the proposed $86,655 budget request for FY1981, and 3) "Stop their use of the County payroll computer. Demand immediate repayment of that over-due payroll billing; 4) Terminate the position of administrator and administrative assistant, as well as abolish the Sanitary District, Inc. and Sanitary Commission, and turn the processing of present and future government loans and grants over to the Development Corporation on an interim basis; 5) place an "indefinite moratorium" on the Mt. Lake Water Company's Rehabilitation Project and negotiate with the Towns of Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn on the future of the project; 6) Employ only a superintendent for the Trout Run Sewage System and one for the Mt. Lake Water Company. Bowen suggested "use only CETA labor, no 'Engineering Aide'"; 7) Begin plans for a Department of Public Works ready for operation by July 1, 1981.

Bowen claimed the county would save $214,336 by abolishing the Sanitary District, Inc. and would save $24,192 by employing only superintendents for the Trout Run sewage system and the Mt. Lake Water Co. Bowen pointed out the $214,336 would be saved because the county would not have to fund the $86,655 budget request by the Sanitary District, Inc., nor would it have to fund the administrator's or the administrative assistants salary and fringe benefits. The county would also not have up to $21,000 out on District projects during FY1981, a figure estimated in the District's budget request. Another part of the total figure which would be returned to the commissioners would be $52,000 Bowen said was owed to the county for salaries to District employees.

A representative of the Sanitary District, Inc. disputed Bowen's figures by pointing out that the administrator's and the administrative assistants salaries were included in the $86,655 budget request and so could not be added again to determine savings to the county if eliminated.

He stated that although the county could have up to $21,000 out on District projects in the form of a cash flow fund, that money would be returned by the end of the fiscal year. He noted that this has been a common procedure in the past and has been satisfactory to both the county commissioners and the District.

The $52,000 Bowen said the District owed the county was not a true figure, stated the representative. He pointed out that $38,900 of the $45,600 allocated to the District in FY1980 had not yet been used. About $27,000 of that money would go towards the $52,000 debt. The District was already making payments to reimburse the county for the remainder of the debt.

County commissioner Les Hunter stated the commissioners would study Bowen's letter in the next few weeks. Though he does not fully agree with Bowen's suggestions, Hunter stated, "He's not totally wrong."

Water Service For Kitzmiller To Be Discussed

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners will hold a public meeting for Kitzmiller citizens Tuesday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Kitzmiller Elementary School Auditorium to discuss water service to the community.

The commissioners and representatives of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, which has worked with the town since 1972 to provide water service to the community, will briefly summarize progress on a water system to date, and will discuss actions taken by the commissioners as well as the engineer's report and the grant/loan application to Farmers' Home Administration, the primary funding source for the project.

Tom Jones, county development director, stated he and other representatives of the Sanitary Commission will be prepared to discuss proposed average water rates and the area to be served.

Kitzmiller residents recognized their need for water sixteen years ago. Garrett County Health Department officials have testified that the present water supply at Kitzmiller presents a "serious health problem" to town residents due to the threat of contamination of

County To Receive More State Aid

Garrett County will receive a total of $1,046,074 in additional state aid for FY1981 as a result of legislation during the 1980 session of the General Assembly.

Information released from the Maryland Department of Fiscal Services shows that Garrett County will receive $787,735 more next fiscal year for education; $246,000 more for transportation; $19,000 more for police protection; and $31,350 more for Garrett Community College.

The overall total of the additional aid is $1,084,085, out of that, the county will lose $17,000 because of a reduction in income tax interest exemptions and another $21,011 because of a reduction in highway user funds.

Overall, Garrett County will receive $1,046,074 more next fiscal year, an equivalent of 41 cents on the property tax rate and an equivalent of $38.31 per capita.

Legislation which affected the funding levels for education was House Bill 1737 which increased state aid to counties by a total of $53,800,697 over FY1980. The bill provided for the increase in state spending per student from $784 to $942.

Transportation legislation created a transportation revenue sharing account of

Commissioners Hear Sanitary Commission Budget Request

A Garrett County Sanitary Commission Budget Hearing was conducted last week before Garrett County Commissioners Ernest Gregg, Lester Hunter and Truman Paugh. Persons in attendance were Dick Nace, Sanitary Commission Administrator; Gerry Snelson, Assistant Administrator; and Joseph Bowen, Mt. Lake Park resident. The hearing regarded the commission's budget request for fiscal year 1981.

The total amount requested by the commission is $86,655, approximately $2,000 more than FY 1980 budget request.

Nace explained that $69,355 of the total request will go to administrative salaries for general and grant administration, office rental, Xerox, telephones, miscellaneous supplies, legal fees, auditing and miscellaneous administrative engineering, boating and public office insurance, and commission retirement payments. The proposed budget indicated that an estimated $4,167 from the $69,355 figure will be used for administrative salaries for general and grant administration. Nace estimated that approximately $19,000 from the $69,355 figure is expected to be reimbursed by federal and state grants. Added to the sub-total of $50,355 ($69,355 less $19,000 reimbursement), is the estimated local share of Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Sewer Projects. Nace explained, the local share amounting to $36,300.

The EPA Sewer Projects for FY1981 include the Upper Youghiogheny, divided into seven categories: Crellin System Design and Right of Way Plans, Facility Plan, Bausch and Lomb System Design, Trout Run Sewage Treatment Plant Design, and Intercept and Plant Rehabilitation Design. Other projects involving a cost to the county are Bloomington, Gorman, Grantsville and Kitzmiller System Designs. All projects are in design stages and costs of FY 1981 are strictly for the preparation of plans and designs, said Nace. He added that the Deep Creek Lake Project System Design, including Right of Way Plans, will not be county financed, as the commission hopes to earn the local share of $86,000. Nace also requested $21,000 in cash flow, for payment of bills, to be reimbursed through EPA grants.

Commissioners Speak Out On Hospital Building Project

Call Comparison With Courthouse "Unfair"

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners, at a meeting with the local press yesterday, voiced unanimous support for the proposed expansion/renovation project of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and attempted to clear up some misunderstandings about the project which seem to be circulating throughout the county.

Partial financing of the project, referred to as Project G, will be provided through the sale of bonds, via the county commissioners. Whether or not to give the commissioners the authority to seek the bonds will be a question on the May 13 primary ballot.

Opponents claim that Project G will be "another courthouse," referring to the construction of the new county courthouse complex which is still not complete.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg, who strongly opposed the courthouse project in his campaign against former commissioner, Wayne Hamilton, stated, "To compare the courthouse project with the hospital project is totally unfair." He said that the courthouse project has indeed required the expenditure of county tax dollars "due to overruns." There was also approximately $200,000 of county money spent for architectural drawings and fees. The remainder was covered by grant money.

"The hospital project will be partially covered by grant money, but the remainder will be paid for by the users of the hospital, not with county tax dollars," he said. Approximately $2.5 million in Appalachian Regional Commission federal grant money is available for the project, all of which will be lost if the referendum fails.

Commissioner Les Hunter said that it is the hospital that will be borrowing the money, not the county. The hospital is borrowing through the county commissioners in order to secure the lowest possible interest rate. "It will be the responsibility of the hospital to pay back the loan, not the county," Hunter said.

The commissioners noted that usage figures for Garrett Memorial have already exceeded estimates for 1983 and it is unlikely that the hospital will have problems in paying back the loan. The project has the approval of the State Cost Commission, which allows the hospital to set rates necessary to pay for the project, thus taking the responsibility away from the county and placing it upon the users of the hospital.

According to figures for fiscal year 1979 released recently by the State Cost Review Commission, Garrett County Memorial's rates are presently the lowest among Maryland's 54 hospitals. "Even with the expense of the project, Garrett Memorial's rates will remain at, or very near, the lowest in the state," Gregg said.

The hospital rate figure used by the cost commission is called the cost per equivalent inpatient day (EIPD), which is an average of the costs of all services rendered by a hospital. Gregg stated that the EIPD can be confusing, because the charge for a particular service at Garrett Memorial might be slightly higher than for the same service at another hospital. "You can't pick out isolated examples, such as an EKG, or room rates, for example. The EIPD is an average cost of all services," Gregg said, "and Garrett Memorial's is the lowest in the state."

"The cost commission must approve the rates for all hospitals," Gregg continued. "If any area of a hospital, such as the emergency room, is showing a profit, for example, the cost commission forces the hospital to lower its emergency rates. If it shows a loss, the hospital must then raise its emergency room rates."

The rates are also based on the number of patients served by a particular area. Still using the emergency room as an example, last year Garrett Memorial's emergency room handled approximately 15,000 patients. An emergency room in another hospital which might serve 60,000 patients will probably have slightly lower emergency room rates, because of the greater number of patients served.

The commissioners also stated that the county has not provided any money to the hospital for 16 years of its existence, including the past

Brush Fires Sweep County

The Department of Natural Resources placed employees on full fire alert last week. April 15 was the start of the fire season in Garrett County, and since that time all fire towers have been manned daily. Due to sunshine and dry grounds, a wave of brush fires has swept the county, calling for a "Class IV" fire watch, in a five-class system.

Garrett County Central Alarm reported that ten brush fires kept 12 area fire departments and DNR officials quite busy throughout the county last week.

Four brush fires occurred Saturday, the first near Allamont, at 11 a.m. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department responded, returning to its station at 11:24 a.m.

A second fire broke out near St. Mary's Church in Meyersdale, Pa., about 1 p.m. Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Department responded out of Finzel, assisted by the Meyersdale Volunteer Fire Department. Firefighters remained on the scene approximately one hour.

Two brush fires occurred almost simultaneously at 3:30 that afternoon, one at Bradley Manor in Oakland and one in Hutton. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to both, returning to the station about 4 p.m.

Garrett Central Alarm handled communications for three concurrent brush fires on Monday. The first broke out at Deep Creek Lake State Park and Rock Lodge Road, about 12:17 p.m. The call was received from a fire tower. Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Department responded, along with DNR firefighters and Boys Forestry Camp No. 4 from Backbone Mountain. Firemen worked until nearly 3 p.m. to bring the blaze under control.

At 12:48 p.m. on Monday Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to a brush fire near the Elks Club on Mason Street, and at 12:54 p.m. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department responded to a brush fire on the top of Swanton Hill. Both companies were back in their stations by 1:30 p.m.

Yesterday's sun brought with it three brush fires in scattered areas of the county. At 10:41 a.m. Bayard and Gorman Volunteer Fire Departments responded to a fire near the North Branch Mine. Firefighters worked nearly four hours and the last truck returned to the station about 2:30 p.m.

About 3 p.m. Friendsville and Accident Volunteer Fire Departments responded to a brush fire in Friendsville near the Gravel Hill Road. DNR firefighters assisted, and Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Department was on stand-by. Sources say two acres of woods burned as a result of the fire, and workers fought the blaze until nearly 4:30 p.m.

At 4:37 p.m. Kitzmiller, Elk Garden and Piedmont Volunteer Fire Departments responded to a brush fire in Shaw, W. Va. S. J. Construction Company was at the scene with dozers, covering the area with dirt after firemen watered it down. The last fire truck returned to its station at 5:42 p.m.

William E. Sharps Dies Saturday

William E. Sharps, 57, a prominent Oakland businessman, died Saturday in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, following a sudden heart attack.

Born November 28, 1922, he was a son of the late Clarence E. Sharps and Gertrude (Shafferman) Sharps.

Mr. Sharps was a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church and he served on the Church Council. He was a member of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, Oakland Country Club, and Proctor-Kildow Post 71, American Legion. He was a Navy veteran of World War II and served as a member of the Oakland Town Council, and a past president of the council.

After World War II Mr. Sharps joined his father in business, along with his two brothers. Upon the death of his father in 1958, Mr. Sharps took over the dealership along with his brothers and later became president of Sharps Chevrolet in Oakland.

Clarence Sharps, formerly of Newburg, W. Va., opened the Chevrolet agency in Oakland on April 14, 1930, under the name of Sharps Motor Company. In 1933 he first leased an Oakland garage on Liberty Street and purchased a former planing mill, which was converted into an automobile dealership.

According to a write-up by William Sharps, a fire in 1938 burned out the center of the building, and his father was forced to build to remain in business. "Things looked rather bleak for a time, but the fire turned out to be a blessing in disguise, as this turned out to be a most economical time to build," said Mr. Sharps. This main dealership building is still in use.

In 1959 the sons of C. E. Sharps reorganized the business as partners, until 1976, when the company was incorporated as Sharps Chevrolet, Inc. The company had planned a 50th anniversary celebration this week, however, due to the untimely death of Mr. Sharps the event has been postponed until a later date.

Mr. Sharps is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sybilla J. (Paynter) Sharps, a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, Laurel; two sons, Robert P. Sharps and David E. Sharps, both of Oakland; two brothers, John A. Sharps, Sr. and Frederick L. Sharps, both of Oakland; and two grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home in Oakland. Services were conducted in St. Mark's Lutheran Church yesterday afternoon, with Pastor Richard Seaks officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

The family requests that memorials take the form of contributions to St. Mark's Lutheran Church, or the charity of one's choice.

May Fellowship Day Scheduled

The Otterbein United Methodist Church, Swanton, will host May Fellowship Day on May 2, 1980, with Mrs. Betty Wildesen as chairman for the event.

Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m., with the business meeting beginning at 11:00 a.m. Fellowship of the Least Coin will be taken and Gift Certificates will be sold.

The theme for May Fellowship is also the theme for Church Women United's Ecumenical Assembly in June at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

The participants in May Fellowship Day will "kick off" preparations for the Assembly by considering, through Bible study and worship, the gifts of the Spirit, the sources and uses of power, and the diversity of our religious and cultural heritage. By stimulating thought and prayer on the theme, "The Spirit of the Lord is Upon Me," May Fellowship Day will link those who attend the Assembly in person to those who will be there in spirit.

Church Women United has celebrated May Fellowship Day since 1933 when a "Dedication Day" was planned to bring church women together in their own communities. Celebrated on the first Friday in May each year, May Fellowship Day emphasizes the potential for creative and healing relationships in every community.

Attending the planning meeting were: Mrs. Betty Wildesen, Mrs. Martha Glatfelter, Mrs. Ida Reckner, Mrs. Nola Anderson, Mrs. Melda Bittinger, Mrs. Ida Maust, Mrs. Charlotte Mousch, and Mrs. Evelyn Steyer.

Participants are asked to bring a lunch. Dessert and a drink will be provided.

Child Development Addresses Special Needs Of Local "Little People"

by Kathy Bailey

Childhood is a time of excitement, curiosity, learning and new experiences. It is a playtime and a fun time, and a crucial time of development, when personalities emerge and senses are sharp. Garrett County has a special group of "big people" who are devoted to the local "little people" and their total personal growth.

The Garrett County Child Development Project, based at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, provides services to more than 90 preschool children and infants throughout the county. The project has three centers, home visitors and a staff of 13 full-time employees to meet the social, educational, physical and developmental needs of children and their families. The child development program runs from mid-September to mid-June, and offers a summer camp to program participants.

The Oakland Child Development Center, which houses the office, is licensed by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, and is open for children Tuesday through Friday from approximately 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The center is staffed by Linda Wengerd, Project Director; Joan Harvey, Secretary; Joan Ivanouski, Center Director; Debbie Bernard, Head Teacher; Jeanne Gilbert and Debbie Hartley, Center Teachers. Aides, based on availability, are supplied by the CETA program, primarily through the Youth Employment Training component.

The Child Development Project operates mini centers in Friendsville and Kitzmiller, serving residents of those areas in a part-time program. The Friendsville Center is open Tuesday and Thursday for a morning and afternoon session, operating from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. The Center is operated by Libby Lamb, Center Teacher and Home Visitor. She is assisted by parent volunteers.

The mini center in the Kitzmiller area conducts a half-day program on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The center is staffed by Juanita Stonebraker, Outreach and Parent Coordinator; and Teresa Durst, Home Visitor and Teacher.

Children at the three centers engage in a free choice of activities at the beginning of each day, in established play areas. Activities available include a sandbox and sand toys, riding toys, large wooden building blocks, manipulative toys, puzzles, water colors, playdoh, crayons, scissors and paste. The Oakland Center makes use of indoor and outdoor equipment and children can play in the playground when weather permits.

Two hours of instructional activities are provided to the children each day and are selected from five developmental areas. Children are often divided into groups according to plan the sessions each week.

The area of Fine Motor deals with the manipulation of small objects, directed at activities, coloring, puzzles and form-boards, playdoh activities, cutting, painting and tracing. "Following directions and large group interactions (are a large part of this area)," said Ms. Ivanouski. "The art program stresses free expression and indicates projects the children can do independently," she added. "If the teacher has to do more than five percent in the completion of a project, the kids aren't getting what they should be getting, and it is not at their age level," said Ms. Ivanouski.

Language activities are designed to improve and develop listening skills and skills in articulation, naming objects, developing and expressing concepts, following directions and increasing vocabularies. The program is designed to aid children in expressing what they think or feel, and in learning to resolve conflicts through language. Various sets of pictures for labeling are utilized for this area, as well as conversation among children and teachers, and specialized consultant services of a speech pathologist.

Cognitive activities are designed to improve and develop thinking and reasoning skills, such as labeling colors, numbers, letters and shapes, and dealing with perception and visual and auditory memory. Self-help skills are developed primarily through daily hygiene routines, such as washing hands and face, and brush-ing teeth. Enrichment activities include movies, cooking experiences and special adult speakers, such as dental hygienists and fire prevention personnel. Field trips are also offered to the children, such as roller skating. Other activities include singing, birthday parties (each child wears a "Super Kid" T-shirt on his or her birthday), and the children presented a Christmas play this year for a local nursing home.

An afternoon nap time completes the daily program at the Oakland Center, where children receive each day a hot breakfast, a hot lunch and an afternoon snack. Breakfasts and snacks, (snacks are served at all centers), meet USDA Child Care Food Program guidelines, and are prepared by Sandra Laugh, the center's cook. Lunches are provided through a contract with the Garrett County Commission on Aging.

The Child Development Project includes a Home-based Program which serves the northern and southern parts of the county. Sharon Brenneman and Ann Heselbach, full-time Home Visitors, work with children and parents in their homes on a weekly basis. The home visitation is divided in two parts. Ms. Brenneman works with children age two and older, and

Ms. Heselbach works with infants and handicapped children. They are assisted part-time by Teresa Durst and Libby Lamb.

Home visitors spend approximately two hours in each home involving the child in a one to one learning situation. The five developmental areas utilized in the centers are also used in planning home visit activity sessions and lessons, or projects that children can work on in the absence of the teacher. According to Linda Wengerd, Director of the Child Development Project, home visitors "try to incorporate the entire developmental scope into projects taken into the home," said Ms. Stonebraker, "some of the children visited have never had scissors and crayons." She added that, "we can get with the kids and bring equipment to those who can't get (to the center) . . . teaching is on a one to one basis and the teacher can flag potential problems and pick up on a lot of special needs the child might have."

Home visitors also work with parents of the children and infants, in conveying information about community agencies and resources, involving the parents in their child's developmental growth, and sharing techniques parents may find helpful in dealing with their child on a day-to-day basis. Said Ms. Stonebraker, "home visitors are social workers, home extension agents, teachers, friends to the child, nutritionists, and a resource to the entire family." Home visitors work with developmental activities and give nutritional and child care counseling to families.

OPEN SUNDAY 12-5

Find The Answers . . .

As everyone in the county knows by now, there will be a few critical county issues on the May 13 primary ballot, among them the Sunday sale of alcohol and the hospital bond question.

The responsibility of a good voter goes far beyond merely showing up at the polls, going behind the curtain and pulling the levers. Anyone who is tall enough to reach the levers can do that. The greatest responsibility of a voter has to do with just how much homework he does before he makes his decisions and pulls the appropriate levers.

Many voters simply don't vote. Others go into the booth with little or no idea of what they are voting for or against. Still others make their decisions based entirely upon hearsay, misinformation and their own narrow-mindedness and stubbornness. Even though the correct information is available to them and can be obtained with a nominal amount of homework, they would rather vote according to rumor and information which comes from totally uninformed sources. When confronted with the truth, they simply turn away and refuse to listen. This is the type of voter which is so often responsible for the defeat of much needed programs and the approval of unneeded ones, because not only does his opposing vote hurt, but he usually goes about enticing others to vote against an issue, using the same hogwash upon which he has based his own decision.

Some of the issues, such as the hospital question, are somewhat complicated and involve many questions. However, there are good, truthful answers to all of those questions and there are many knowledgeable persons who are extremely anxious to be given the opportunity to answer them, such as members of the hospital board, the staff, the county commissioners and this newspaper. They are all only a phone call away.

We sincerely hope that all voters planning to go to the polls will seek out, in a responsible manner, the answers to all of their questions before casting their votes. Decisions can only be sound if they are based on sound information. Don't go to the polls confused about an issue and find out later you voted against something you wish you had supported.

Dear Sir:

It is a matter of principle, not religious conviction, nor economic endeavors, that should dictate each voter's decision to vote for the controversial Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages on the primary ballot May 13th.

Our county, the only one in the State of Maryland, is without a free choice of whether we want to purchase, or sell for that matter, beer, wine, etc.

No one is forced to sell it nor buy it, but the free choice is there.

Elected officials in this county should be behind Sunday sales as they have the free choice to run for office and the voters' basic freedom to vote for them is there to be exercised.

That is the whole principle at issue here—basic freedom of choice.

We are not children to be divided into groups and have fingers shaken in our faces by millions of other Marylanders saying we are the backward county, uneducated and just too dumb to realize that we are denying ourselves a basic freedom.

Our older generation, many of whom have made their living during better economic times in our country, don't need to worry about a job to exist today. That part-time Sunday job at one of our resorts is necessary for a lot of our people. They are not there now. Although I don't have the figures, I can guess from my own experience that many jobs will open up if we supply the tourists with the same services they get at other resorts in the State, Sunday sales being one of them.

May 13th is the last chance we have to vote to show the rest of the State that we Garretts Countians have broken the last chain of self bondage.

Vote for Sunday sales and give our people the basic freedom of choice.

Dear Editor:

It is most gratifying to me, an old maple syrup and sugar producer of a 50-year record of continuous operation (1923 to 1972 inclusive), to have read in The Republican where the elementary and secondary school pupils of Garrett County voted overwhelmingly to select the stalwart and magnificent sugar maple (acer saccharum) as the County tree.

Being a native tree here in the Appalachian region, in former days, and to a lesser extent today, it supplies us with many delicious products: maple syrup, maple cake and crumb sugar, taffy and many other delicacies.

It is, indeed, heartening to know our younger generation has realized its value. Many thanks to the farsighted pupils of the county.

When Agriculture Adjustment Act in early 1930 was enacted, I was selected as one of the first three county committeemen to carry out the county program. One of the programs included a reforestation project. The State and County Forestry Departments only advised the planting of evergreen trees, as pines and spruces.

However, our county agent at that time, the able and farsighted John H. Carter, had the idea, which I also entertained, to include hardwood plantings along with the evergreens, especially the sugar maple. But our pleas fell on deaf ears, and it was disregarded at the time.

Since I have retired after many years of service, some action has since been taken to include planting of maple trees.

Over the years, I have on my own nurtured the protection and planting of young sugar maples here on this farm. It takes many years to grow seedling maple into a productive tree, 40 to 75 years or more.

Sincerely,

Guy S. Stanton, Sr.
The Maples

Editor,
Herein I wish to record additional information relating to the Six Million Dollar Bond issue.

The "Bill" passed by Delegate Bolden reads, and I quote,

"For the purpose of authorizing and empowering the County Commissioners to borrow not more than Six Million Dollars in order to assist in the financing and the expansion, reconstruction, rehabilitation, renovation and improvements of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital."

Thus, the County Commissioners are to borrow the money and the county will be responsible for the payment of the principal and interest on the Bonds.

It is not likely that the Hospital will ever be able to pay any of the principal and interest because of insufficient earnings.

The money for the present building came from the Lohr estate. Since the building was furnished the hospital has received additional money from various sources. A look at past county budgets show levies to the hospital. In addition the Hospital received the money from the sale of the White Face farm, and from other sources mandated by law, such as the gas well tax, and I believe, the entertainment tax. The county budget for 1976-77 shows a levy of $72,000 plus an additional grant of $20,000. The budget of the last two years does NOT show any levy for the hospital.

The cost of operating and maintaining a larger hospital building with many additional employees, I am sure, would be much higher. It is doubtful if any more people would use a larger hospital. Therefore, it is not likely that the bonds and the interest thereon could ever be paid out of hospital earnings. They admit the daily rates to their patients will be substantially increased if a new hospital is built.

Clifford Friend,
Accident

Mr. Friend,

In a way, we appreciate your letters, because by countering your statements, it gives us just one more opportunity to clear up more misinformation about the hospital project.

1. Although the wording on the ballot says that the commissioners will be empowered to borrow the money for the project, it is still the hospital borrowing the money, through the county, in order to obtain the best possible interest rate.

With your experience in government and business, Mr. Friend, surely you know how that works.

2. The county will NOT be responsible for the payments on the loan.

3. The hospital does NOT have a record of insufficient earnings.

4. See front page story concerning county monies going to the hospital.

5. With a new facility, more people WILL use the hospital, because more services will be available and persons won't be forced to go out of the county for medical help nearly as often.

6. Daily rates will NOT be "substantially increased" when the new hospital is built.

Editor

Dear Editor:

On 4/2/80 a letter signed by Briar Patch appeared in your "Letters to the Editor" Column concerning the renovation proposal for our local hospital.

This proposal will be placed on ballot for a referendum vote for Garrett Countians 5/13/80.

As a parent and a taxpayer I am concerned with the expenditure for renovation of the building and new equipment when the result may be no improvement in the immediate availability of physician/surgeon for even minor emergencies.

Approximately a month ago my husband and I found it necessary to travel to Cumberland in order to obtain emergency surgery for our eleven-year-old daughter.

After she had developed symptoms of appendicitis, our family physician of 22 years recommended we see the doctor on call, as he was too tied up to see our daughter that evening. For lack of confidence in the available doctor on call and no surgeon available, we made the decision to seek surgical assistance out of town.

Within a span of four hours she had been examined, confirming test and x-rays taken and surgery performed for acute appendicitis.

Upon completion of surgery, we were informed by the surgeon that our decision to seek immediate medical care had averted a life threatening situation.

Renovation and updated equipment is fine provided we have the availability of a physician and surgeon for immediate attention without having to wait several hours, without having to go out of town to obtain assistance when a diagnosis is made.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Russell V. Leighton

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Leighton,

Assuming this incident occurred precisely as you say it did, perhaps there was an error in judgement on the part of a physician or hospital staff member (they are human, you know). Do you believe that the surgeon who treated your daughter at the hospital in Cumberland has never made an error in judgement? Are there any hospitals in the country which have never handled a situation inappropriately? Is this particular occurrence in your lives enough reason to encourage persons to vote against something that will most certainly improve health care for thousands of people?

Editor

Dear Editor:

Many concerned patients have asked my opinion about the new building addition to our hospital.

There is absolutely no question in my mind that what is being planned is the absolute minimum required to bring our hospital up to modern standards of medicine and surgery.

At the present time our hospital is working at full capacity, and we would be unable to meet any further demands for medical services.

The present proposal is the result of six years and countless hours of planning and cost cutting that have reduced the project from an original $20,000,000 proposal to the present bare minimum of $6,000,000.

We cannot hope to keep up the high quality of present medical services without the additional space and equipment.

Sincerely yours
Joseph Alvarez, M.D.

Dear Sir:

To keep from being swamped by campaign verbiage we need to sort out the facts from the propaganda before we cast our ballot on May 13. I hope that when Garrett County voters get the facts about the hospital referendum, they will vote YES.

There has been a current of mis-information about the hospital renovation—most recently in a letter to the editor in last week's Republican. An intelligent voter will find out for himself about the urgent need for the hospital renovation and the planned financing for the project, which will involve no county tax dollars.

Anyone who has visited the hospital, or who has seen the slide presentation that reveals the over-crowded conditions and the lack of essential facilities to meet even the minimum standards for adequate health care, would be persuaded of the need for the renovation. We can only be thankful for the outstanding hospital staff of highly qualified, dedicated doctors, nurses, and technicians, which continues to provide the finest possible medical services under extremely difficult conditions.

SET CLOCKS AHEAD one hour before going to bed Saturday, April 26, and you won't have to wake at 2 A.M. Sunday to spring forward when Daylight Saving Time officially returns for six months.

How long can we hope to attract new doctors and nurses if we do not provide a better facility in which to work? How can we expect new businesses to come into the area, or young people to move here to raise their families, if we do not have a good hospital to serve them? If the county is to continue to grow, the need to continue a high quality of medical care must be met.

There is no time now for the myopic thinking that looks back to the "way it was" instead of forward to the way it could be. We need only to get the facts to see that for the health of it, and for the sense of it, we should vote YES on May 13.

Joan B. Crawford

Dear Editor:

It is with greatest respect that I address this letter to the staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, on behalf of my father, who has been a patient there for more than two months.

I especially wish to commend Ms. Ann Abrahamson, the social worker assigned to help patients and families of patients such as my father, who suffer terminal illness.

Perhaps some residents of the county do not realize the many options available to the loved ones of a physically impaired family member. I, for one, did not. Crisis need not be faced alone in Garrett County. It is imperative that you let your needs, and your emotional state be known to the patience and understanding available behind the doors of our county hospital.

It is equally imperative that we do all in our power to increase the possibilities of expanded services and much needed options through support of the hospital expansion project.

It is my prayer that the residents of Garrett County realize the fine, professional, and truly earnest servants available to meet the needs of the physically ill, and the needs of those survivors who suffer untold mental anguish in dealing with a loved one whose requirements can no longer be met by family members.

Most Sincerely,
The family of Clayton Show

Dear Editor:

I recently attended a meeting where the proposed hospital building project was presented by hospital representatives. Several points were brought out during this meeting that I feel the general public should be made aware of.

the supply by sewage. In 1964 the Kitzmiller Mayor and Town Council hired an engineer to study the feasibility of a town water system.

The town council petitioned the Sanitary Commission in 1972 to conduct another engineer's study. The results of that study showed a water system was not feasible because it would not be cost effective, few grants were available to assist the town, and the town would not be able to afford a bond issue.

During the summer of 1979, the Sanitary Commission began negotiations with the Mt. Top Public Service District, W. Va., to provide water service to Kitzmiller. The District had agreed to allow Kitzmiller to become its customer on the condition it hook up to water lines to be installed at Elk Garden, W. Va. The District had planned to run 12 miles of six inch pipe to serve Elk Garden and agreed to enlarge the pipe to eight inches to also serve Kitzmiller if it were paid $110,000 for the additional cost.

Two weeks ago, the county commissioners approved borrowing the money from two local banks to pay the charge. Tom Jones reported that Farmers' Home Administration representatives have indicated that money will be reimbursed once construction of water lines begins in Kitzmiller.

Ways to Save

- Plan menus by the week so you can take advantage of weekly specials, plentiful seasonal foods, and make good use of leftovers.
- Cut down on frequent food shopping trips that lead to impulse buying. And don't shop when you're hungry—you're sure to spend more!
- Trading stamps, "10¢ off" coupons and other merchandising "gimmicks" may be attractive—but only if you use them wisely to buy things you really need, and if the prices you pay for purchases are reasonable.
- On a diet? Set aside, for savings, the price of that fancy dessert you passed up. Double dividends here!
- When the doctor orders you to quit smoking or cut down on coffee breaks, keep the amount you save—to add to savings.
- Some prepared and convenience foods actually save money as well as time. Others don't, so check prices and quantities carefully.
- Buy the larger size package if you can use it all, and if it really represents a saving in cost.

Huskies Stop Rams, 4-3

The Northern Huskies cut short a Southern Ram rally Monday afternoon and hung on to take the victory, 4-3, on Southern's field.

The Huskies jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, holding the Rams scoreless for six innings. That lead was increased in Northern's half of the sixth when Tim Yunker singled and scored on an error, and Greg Beachy singled home Fred Fox with what proved to be the winning run.

Dave Bender led the Huskies' hitting, going three for three, while teammates Beachy, Diehl, Yunker and Beller each had two hits. Sanders paced the Rams at the plate with two hits.

The winning pitcher was Bill Bender, who gave up six hits, while Jeff Colaw took the loss, allowing 13 hits.

Indians Prove To Be Too Savage For NHS Huskies

The first inning was all the Mt. Savage Indians need to defeat the visiting Northern Huskies last Thursday afternoon, 4-2. All four of the Indians runs were recorded in the first inning, while Northern attempted a rally in the fourth, scoring a pair of runs.

Kevin Bittner opened the game for the Indians with a base hit and took second on an error. Gene Harden followed with a single putting runners at the corners. Bobby Fuller ground out short to first with Bittner crossing the plate on the play. George Dom followed with a two run homer for a 3-0 Mt. Savage lead. The Indians finally came when John Boor reached on an error, only to be erased as Mike Clauson got aboard on a fielders' choice. Mike Matthews followed with a two-bagger to place Clauson.

Northern rallied for a pair in the fourth when Mark Diehl was hit by a pitch and Darrell Schrock followed with a single with both runners moving up on an error on the play. Following a base on balls, Jim Beller singled to plate the Huskies two runs.

Dom finished with a five-hitter to best Dick Bender who allowed just six hits. Dom fanned eight and Bender three.

Lakers Blanked By Catamounts

Charley Houghton's one-hitter for the Garrett Community College Lakers was not sufficient for a win last Thursday against Potomac State as his counterpart, Robbie Harper, also fired a one-hitter in the second game, leading the Catamounts to a 3-0 win. Potomac State also took the opener, 11-0, on the winners field.

Harper allowed only a third inning single by Tom Sommersville in scoring his fifth win in six decisions.

Potomac State's only hit was second inning home run by Wayne Darrell, giving Harper all the runs he needed. The Catamounts add a run in the fourth when John Kruk walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error. In the fifth Mark Murad got on board on a two base error moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error.

The opening game was all Potomac State after the second inning. In the third Kruk singled in Holly Martin who had walked and stole second.

The Catamounts added three runs in the fourth on a Darrell triple, a sacrifice by Greg Whitlow and then following two outs Randy Cirrillo got the rally going again with a single. Tony Martin tripled and scored on a base hit by Dave Williams.

Singles by Kruk and Darrell produced another run in the fifth.

Garrett Lakers Upended By CCC Cardinals, 4-1, 3-0

Wayne Wellerman was the star for Catonsville Community College yesterday afternoon as the Cardinals swept the Garrett Community College Lakers 4-1 and 3-0 on the GCC diamond. Wellerman pitched both games for the winners, firing a one-hitter in the nightcap. The double loss leaves Garrett's record at 3-13.

Wellerman allowed only a lead off single to Lawrence Nesselrodt in the fourth and fanned seven in the second game. In the opener he tossed an eight-hitter while fanning four.

Each child enrolled in any component of the Child Development Project receives developmental screening tests, assessments, a physical examination, scheduled immunizations and follow-up appointments as needed. These benefits are provided through a contractual arrangement with the Garrett County Health Department. The Child Development Project provides dental examinations and follow-up treatment for all children three years of age and older, through private dentists in various parts of the county.

An additional service provided by the Child Development Project is testing, identification and referral for handicapped children, a service provided in cooperation with the parents.

Children enrolled in the Oakland Center are provided transportation services to and from the center program, based on availability and the location of the child's home. No transportation is provided for children enrolled in the mini center programs. One bus is utilized in addition to a contract with Garrett Bus System. Bill Brantner is the center's bus driver. Ms. Wengerd stated that the Head Start Program cooperates with Child Development in providing transportation to children along its bus route. An attempt is made to provide transportation to children for doctor and dentist visits connected with the program.

Parent information and education is provided to families enrolled in all components of the Child Development Project. Parents are invited to attend group meetings at each of the centers to receive information about the program and related services, including health and dental information. Parent workshops are held once a month by various agencies and professional individuals in regard to matters of interest to parents of young children, and parent classes are held weekly. Topics covered include craft and art projects and activities in which parent and child may become involved in the absence of a teacher or home visitor.

The Child Development Project has conducted a summer day camp for the past five years, for children over three years of age enrolled in any program component. The project transports children from all over the county to one outdoor camp, run by Dot Leuba. The educational program at the camp concentrates on all gross motor skills and physical education. Said Ms. Stonebraker, "there is a lot of swimming (supervised) and sand play, and some children learn basic swimming skills." She added that cognitive skills are incorporated into the program, as children are often asked to "jump into a red or blue hoop," or to perform similar feats which require a certain amount of problem-solving and reasoning.

All children at the day camp receive breakfast and lunch plus a snack each day. The camp runs for 13 days during two consecutive weeks. According to Ms. Wengerd, last year the average daily attendance at day camp was 30 children from both home and center-based programs.

The Child Development Project originally began in 1973 under Garrett County Community Action and was designed to "up-grade health standards and the environment," said Ms. Wengerd. The program is funded primarily through grants from Title XX, a federal program with funds administered through the state; and the Appalachian Regional Commission, said Ms. Wengerd. Approximately one-third of the children participating in the Child Development Program must meet Title XX guidelines, she added, and "federal dollars received must be matched by state and local funds, received through the Department of Human Resources, the county commissioners and in-kind."

Garrett County Child Development is now sponsored by Garrett Community College, which acts, through its business office, as a financial manager for the project, said Ms. Wengerd.

Children are selected for the program through referrals from the Garrett County Health Department, for instance, children "who appear delayed, or who may need extra stimuli," explained Ms. Wengerd. Other sources are referrals from Garrett County Social Services or the Garrett County Head Start Program, and parents may apply for their child's entry into the program. Ms. Wengerd explained that eligibility priority is given to Title XX children and referral children. She added that the project "likes for children to be at least two and one-half years of age for entry into one of the centers."

SMOKING HAZARDS EXPLAINED — Dr. John B. Berle, Director of the Section of Pulmonary Diseases and Respiratory Therapy at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, presented a slide program explaining the harmful effects of smoking to Northern High School students last Thursday.

HOME VISITORS ARE A RESOURCE TO THE ENTIRE FAMILY, bringing center projects into county homes for the benefit of children unable to attend the centers. Home visitors also work with parents on projects to be continued in the teacher's absence. Bernice Steuber is pictured in her home at left, attentive to the educational instruction of Sharon Brenneman, Home Visitor.

Each Monday the entire staff of the Child Development Project meets at the Oakland Center to discuss "the entire operation of the project, individual centers, children with particular concerns and any problems which might arise," said Ms. Wengerd. All activities for the week are planned at this time, and the program often brings in consultants to provide additional training to teachers in needed areas," Ms. Wengerd added.

The present staff of the Child Development Project have educational backgrounds including four year degrees in Elementary Education, Family Management/Child Development, Social Work and 77 credit hours in Education/Special Education. They are highly qualified and perform incredible work with infants and children, serving as a valuable resource of Garrett County.

Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield are nonprofit organizations. We're different from other health care companies because our objective is to make health care affordable, not profitable. In fact, last year over 90% of what we received from Marylanders went to pay for their health care benefits.

Our nonprofit philosophy is one reason over 1.5 million Marylanders carry the Blue Cross and Blue Shield card. And why many of them regard it as the most important card they carry.

It's the most important card you carry.

Hospital Project

four years. Gregg stated that the levy will show that the county has provided money to the hospital, but that money is what was owed to the hospital by the county for the purchase of White Face Farm, a piece of property on which the county airport now stands. "That piece of property, which belonged to the hospital through a trust, was paid for over a ten-year period. So while the levy will show that money did go from the county to the hospital board, it was not money for financial support, but money which was owed by the county," Hunter said.

Another area in which the commissioners feel there is much confusion is the involvement of the health department with the project. The health department will occupy a portion of the present building after the new addition is complete.

"By permitting the health department to move into that section of the present hospital, the county will be saving approximately $38,000 annually in rent payments," Commissioner Truman Paugh said. "It will also consolidate the health department which is presently spread out in several buildings, provide better service to patients and allow joint utilization and shared services with the hospital."

Paugh also said, "We have been begging for new industries to consider Garrett County as a site, to help ease our unemployment situation. One of the main things industry checks into before considering locating in an area is the quality of health care in that area." Latest figures show that Garrett County's unemployment rate is in excess of 17%.

Gregg added, "From a taxpayer's standpoint, industry not only provides jobs, but also increases the size of the tax base and, thus, lowers the tax rate."

In reference to the $2.5 million grant, Gregg stated that both Allegany and Washington counties, through the Tri-County Council, placed the Garrett Memorial project at the top of the priority list. "If we do not use the money, it will simply go to someone else. It will not go back to the federal government and then appear in the form of a tax break for all of us," he said. "It's rare that a rural area like Garrett County is the recipient of such a grant. Usually the 'big dog gets the bone'."

Senator Ed Mason and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, who was also an opponent of the courthouse project, have both spoken out strongly in favor of Project G.

The commissioners also pointed out that the hospital is presently in violation of so many state and federal codes, it would take over $2 million just to make the necessary renovations, and the hospital would still have the "same overcrowded, inefficient building it has now." Gregg added, "If the hospital bond question is not approved and the project dies, those renovations will still have to be made, and probably with local funds. There will be no ARC grant money."

In conclusion, Commissioner Hunter said, "I can't understand why anybody, particularly in Oakland, would want a second-rate hospital. This is a life-saving institution we are talking about. I am campaigning heavily for it, even among the folks down in my area (Grantsville). Even though many in my area rarely use Garrett Memorial, most of them have family and friends in the southern end of the county. Also, the project won't cost the non-users of the hospital a cent, so why not support it?"

U.S. Senatorial Candidate Visits Garrett County

Subscribe to The Republican

Dallas Merrell, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, visited Garrett County last week during his campaign travels. While here he met various local citizens and leaders, and visited Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he discussed his interest in the renovation and expansion project with Charlotte Bock, Director of Nursing, and staff doctors.

Merrell said that the bond vote scheduled for May 13 represents the effective operation of local government. "The local initiative of Garrett County is impressive," he said, adding that "a local need has been highlighted and the voters can decide what they want done."

Merrell is an independent business consultant for companies, small businesses and professional associations, and an educator in public affairs. He and his wife Karen Dixon Merrell, author and lecturer, reside in Silver Spring with their eight children. Merrell holds a Master's

County Health Fair Conducted

Garrett County conducted its first annual Health Fair last weekend. Two fairs were held, one in Grantsville on Friday, and Oakland on Saturday. The fairs were sponsored locally by the Garrett County Health Department and Garrett County Memorial Hospital, in observance of National Health Fair Week. Approximately 55 professional and lay persons volunteered their time and efforts to work at both fairs.

According to Sara Fredlock, Director of Nursing, Garrett County Health Department, and Health Fair Committee Chairman, 66 persons attended the Grantsville fair, and 134 attended the Oakland fair. Persons came to take advantage of free health education and screening tests, including height and weight, blood pressure, blood chemistry and anemia testing, tuberculosis testing, carbon monoxide testing for smokers, vision screening, glaucoma testing, hearing tests and oral screening for cancer.

Educational and demonstrative booths were set up at the fairs by the American Cancer Society, for female and hemocult cancer education; the American Heart Association, for nutritional education; Garrett County Memorial Hospital, with Project "G" expansion slide show; and Northern and Southern Garrett County Rescue Squads, performing CPR demonstrations.

Garrett Bus System provided free transportation to fair participants in Friendsville, Accident, Hutton and Crellin. Plastic cups and orange juice for blood test participants were provided by Yoder's Country Market, Grantsville; and Browning's Oakland Foodland.

Ms. Fredlock feels that the fairs went "very well," and the group intends to hold a similar fair next year. "The volunteers worked so hard," she added, "and really did a good job." There is still work to be done, however, as volunteers will mail out blood test results with explanatory forms, checking to see which participants will require follow-up care. "Some will receive phone calls to further educate and encourage follow-up care as recommended by fair counselors," said Ms. Fredlock.

Garrett County this year joined counties throughout the state in conducting a Health Fair, a project which is voluntary on the part of each community. Statewide sponsoring organizations are Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Maryland, WBAL-TV, the American Red Cross and the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations. The Health Fair Committee reminds fair participants that the Health Fair was not a substitute for a physical examination by a doctor, but a series of tests designed to detect diseases before they become serious.

A BIGGER WORLD

There comes a time, even in a child's life, when the way must open to a greatly expanded world. When his confining shell no longer allows proper growth, he makes a point of throwing off his shackles and steps out into a big, strange world.

This comparatively simple phenomenon is paralleled in human existence as each child grows toward adulthood, and reaches out for the wider horizon. What he finds there will depend in great part on what he has been taught.

For this reason the early and continued guidance of Christian home and church are all important. From these things the foundation of faith is built. Through faith and understanding the shackles of fear and bondage are dispelled, and our child grows spiritually strong to meet the ever-widening horizons and challenges of a modern world.

February Gasoline Use Off Despite Greater Supplies

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced recently that Marylanders used slightly less gasoline during February 1980 than during the same month of 1979, despite substantially greater supplies. Gasoline use for February 1980 totaled 142,734,620 gallons, compared with the 142,827,669 gallons consumed during February 1979.

"While February is traditionally the month in which the least amount of gasoline is used, this decline is important for two reasons," Mr. Goldstein said. "First, less gasoline was used than during February 1979, a month in which the Blizzard of '79 kept most vehicles off the roads for several days. Secondly, shipments of gasoline along the Colonial Pipeline during February 1980 were 33.6% higher than during February 1979, so supplies were more than adequate."

Shipments of gasoline on the Colonial Pipeline during February 1980 totaled 120.8 million gallons, the second largest amount ever shipped in a single month. The Colonial Pipeline supplies approximately 80% of the gasoline used in Maryland.

"The continued conservation, whether voluntary or related to ever increasing prices, continues to hold Motor Fuel Tax revenues below receipts for last year," Mr. Goldstein noted. For the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1980, Motor Fuel Tax revenue totals $139,414,910, down 7.6% from the $150,865,762 received during the same period of Fiscal Year 1979.

Sales of gasoline topped the one million gallon mark for the first time in a single month during February 1980, largely the result of an increasing number of retail outlets for the product. Sales of 1,614,601 gallons of gasoline were more than double the 712,579 gallons sold during January 1980. There were 54 registered outlets for gasoline in January and 68 outlets during February.

Bond Issue For Housing Programs Sold By State

In its largest issue to date, the Community Development Administration (CDA) last week sold a $100 million bond issue to finance its single-family housing programs, according to the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development.

The bond issue will enable CDA, which is a division of the Department of Economic and Community, to make $71 million in loans available at 11 percent through the State under a new Mortgage Purchase Program, and an additional $15 million in loans at 9 percent under its Homeownership Development Program. These rates compare with current conventional rates of about 16 percent.

Because of careful timing of the bond issue, a downward adjustment in interest rates and CDA's strong credit rating, CDA was able to sell the bonds at a net interest cost of 9.96 percent, the Department said. The bonds were sold on April 15 to a group of underwriters headed by Matthews & Wright, Inc., and The First Boston Corporation, both of New York, and Baker, Watts & Co., of Baltimore. The bonds are obligations of CDA and do not pledge the faith, credit, or taxing power of the State.

Under the new Mortgage Purchase Program, CDA agrees to buy newly originated single-family mortgage loans from private lenders. This program is targeted primarily toward existing housing, whereas under the Homeownership Development Program, CDA agrees to make mortgage loans to qualified families who purchase new homes in a development pre-approved by CDA. The Homeownership Development Program is presently available in approximately 16 developments in six counties. Both programs are targeted toward first-time, moderate-income homebuyers who cannot otherwise afford conventionally financed homes.

To date, CDA programs have served over 11,300 families across the State, including family housing and 3,400 7,900 families in new multi-single-family homes.

Fay Wray's leading man — tall and dark

"Whenever famous film teams are recalled," says Fay Wray, "teams like Greta Garbo and John Gilbert or Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. I know that eventually someone will add 'and Fay Wray and King Kong.'"

Miss Wray, who starred in a number of major films prior to "King Kong" and appeared opposite such luminaries as Gary Cooper, Joel McCrea and Fredric March, is reconciled to her place in motion picture history as the blonde beauty who "conquered" the gigantic gorilla.

Breaking a self-imposed retirement, she returns to acting to star with Henry Fonda, Joe Foweraker and John Houseman in "Gideon's Trumpet," a "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presentation to be broadcast Wednesday, April 30, on CBS. Miss Wray has fond memories of the time she spent working in "King Kong." "No one thought it would become a classic, though we all hoped it would be successful," she says. "Much tender loving care went into every facet of the production, and it truly was a labor of love."

"I worked over a 10-month period during which time I made three or four other films, always returning to 'Kong' when I was needed. Usually, while I was away, mechanical difficulties or problems would be tackled and solved. When I returned, I would work with the technicians responsible for Kong's movements."

"The beast's arm was mechanical, and beneath the fur was a crane that could lift me up or down. I would stand on the set, the huge paw would be wrapped around my waist, and I would be raised so that I was in line with an elevated camera. As I kicked and screamed and wriggled, his fingers would gradually loosen and begin to open.

"My fear was real. It took all my concentration to keep from slipping out of the paw! When I sensed that the moment of minimum safety arrived, I would call out to Ernest Schoedsack, the director, and he would have me lowered to the floor of the sound stage."

Miss Wray says that she never questioned doing the scenes herself, instead of using a stunt woman. "We all did what was expected of us. Many years later, while watching 'Sunset Boulevard,' a line of Gloria Swanson's hit me. Playing a former silent-screen star, she remarks that 'they didn't need dialogue, they had faces.' Miss Wray could have added, 'and nerves of steel.'"

CINDY SAYS

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Brooke Shields and photographer Francesco Scavullo, who co-hosted the hotshot Oscar party at Xenon, picked Chinese food to serve. Don't ask me why. Rex Harrison, who already has four oil paintings from 39-year-old Ed Baynard, an American, just bought a fifth. Richard Nixon's soon-to-be book of more memories and less apologies is so closely guarded that magazine editors looking to excerpt it have to read the thing in the publisher's office. Advance reports put it as dull as Jimmy Carter's diary.

Sophia Loren swears that her marriage to Carlo Ponti is still as solid as the flesh on her upper arms, despite rumors of a singer eight years her junior.

Liz Taylor's adopted kid, Maria, died off 14 pounds for her modeling career. Better she should share the secret with mommy.

Gloria Vanderbilt double-dated with chum Oona O'Neill Chaplin whilst pushing her jeans in foggy auld London...

Ava Gardner, who is 57-ish, plunges into her first film in eight years. It's called "The Priest of Love" and it does whatever it's going to do in New Mexico. Joe Namath's new unlisted phone number was changed again. Seems his old flames pass it on to the new hopefuls. He's got real problems, right?

Stunned her LP, "The Last Dance" is such a hit in England, Diana Ross admitted, "I must listen to it again and find out why." Carol Burnett taped a walk-on in pal Tim Conway's new comedy TV series — Ringo Starr. "When I was 3, my father ran off, my mother was a barmaid and I was in the hospital. Only one thing gave me joy: my drums, a set of empty tea tins." — Ricardo Montalban: "When anyone talks about type-casting, I always wonder what would have happened if I'd changed my name and gotten rid of my accent!"

Hermione Gingold on why she isn't cashing in on today's autobiographical kick: "Dahling, I've already done three books, but they don't sell unless you talk about love, sex, affairs, filth and gossip. Mind you, I've known and seen and done and enjoyed that all, but I don't want to talk about it."

IN FOCUS

A portrait of the actor as an artist

David Carradine — the same man who seven years ago kicked, chopped and Kung Fu'd his way to international stardom — quietly sat on a bed in Fontainebleau, France, and discussed the mystery of art.

"The great artists are filled with daring," Carradine suggested. "Look at Leonardo da Vinci. Much of his work is not extant now because he was always experimenting. 'The Last Supper' has almost vanished from the wall it was painted on because da Vinci was inventing new materials, and they didn't work."

"Across the hall, there's another fresco by an unimportant artist. It's as bright as the day it was painted because that guy used the standard stuff."

Himself a painter, Carradine was in France to film "Gauguin the Savage," in which he portrays the tormented artist Paul Gauguin. The dramatic special will be broadcast Tuesday, April 29, on CBS.

Earlier in the week, Robert D. Wood, producer of "Gauguin the Savage," commented about the fortuitous casting. "At the time we chose David we didn't know that he once had wanted to be a painter," Wood said. "But he brought his own easel and palette over to France and has been painting up a storm. The one painting that I saw him do was exquisite."

On this evening, however, Carradine was talking, not painting. "All artists are more or less mad," he said. "Vincent Van Gogh, for instance, was clinically insane. He made an actual murder attempt on Gauguin's life."

"Gauguin was in no way insane, but he was a primitive who put a patina of civilization around himself by dressing up in fancy clothes, living in a nice house with his little family and becoming a stock broker. After he became a painter, he forced himself to strip away those imposed layers in order to find the essence of art. As he peeled himself away, he came to a great vast weakness."

"If you study a Van Gogh painting, you'll notice that he slapped a lot of color on canvas. He would build up the paint so thick that the canvas vanished. Gauguin, on the other hand, used as little paint as possible. You can actually see the texture and the threads of the canvas. You can't imagine how he put the paint down, because you can't see the brush strokes at all."

The conversation then turned to acting, and Carradine explained, "Whenever I act, the critics write that the part suits me like a glove. That's because, to me, the essence of my art is to seem so natural that I'm able to convince the audience that I'm not acting. But I also have to accept the fact that I don't win any Academy Awards, because you don't see any 'performance.'"

Only later, after the conversation with Carradine has ended, does the listener realize that an actor who seems so natural that he appears to be not acting is the definitive choice to portray a painter whose canvases don't show the brush strokes.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

PUZZLED — We are ardent fans of "The Bookies." We have watched many times and have wondered what the SCPD on the shoulder patch stands for. We were of the opinion this was supposed to be a division of the Los Angeles Police Department. What does SC stand for? — Nancy Ruhn, Oxnard, Calif.

It stands for nothing. The location of the series was "fictional," although it certainly looked like Los Angeles, where the series was filmed. But the letters SC didn't stand for anything since no town was ever named in the series.

AID PLEASE — I know that Doris Day started her career as a singer with a big band. But which one? Also, I think some other band singers went on to acting careers, but I can't recall who. Can you help me? — Ray B., Chicago, Ill.

Sure can. It's amazing some of the people who sang with bands, however briefly. You are correct about Doris Day, who sang with both Les Brown and Bob Crosby. Fred Astaire sang with Leo Reisman, Art Carney with Horace Heidt, Dale Evans with Anson

No. Chuck is Kevin Connors, and Mike is Olanian. Mike also acted early on as "Touch" Connors, which was his nickname from his football days. (Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10017.)

Mikhail Baryshnikov stars in a one-hour salute to the American musical theater, "IBM Presents Baryshnikov on Broadway," Thursday, April 24, on ABC. Joining Misha are Liza Minnelli, Nell Carter and the cast from "A Chorus Line."

"Gauguin the Savage," a dramatic special starring David Carradine as Paul Gauguin, the temperamental French painter who abandoned his wife and children in order to pursue a life of artistic freedom, will be broadcast Tuesday, April 29, on CBS. Filmed in southern France, Paris, Tahiti and Los Angeles, "Gauguin the Savage" depicts the conflicts that beset Gauguin from 1885, the year he left his successful job as a Parisian stockbroker to devote his life to painting, until the time of his death as a virtually unknown artist in 1903. It also stars Lynn Redgrave as his wife and Barrie Houghton in the role of the mad Vincent Van Gogh.

Do child actors always become adult actors?

By RUTH THOMPSON

The announcement that Ricky Schroder will star in a remake of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" assures that his career didn't end with last year's remake of "The Champ," in which he co-starred with Jon Voight. But does it assure a lifetime acting career for the youngster? Not unless there's strong inner motivation to stay with acting, plus luck.

Freddie Bartholomew, who was in the 1936 "Little Lord Fauntleroy" starred in a couple of other biggies in his moppet days ("Captains Courageous" and "David Copperfield") but turned his back on acting when he grew old enough to make his own decisions. He went on to become an executive in an advertising agency.

The second lead, however, was Mickey Rooney, whose star never shone brighter than this season with his major Broadway hit, "Sugar Babies." To his credit and recent accolades and an Oscar nomination for his performance in "The Black Stallion" on the big screen.

As Rooney himself pointed out recently in a television interview with Gene Shalit on NBC's "Today," he gets no residual payments from his old "Andy Hardy" films that are still re-running on television all over the world. But he's not bitter. They did ease him — and the late Judy Garland, too — through what for too many former child stars were the "awkward" early teen years when many (including even Shirley Temple) found their former audiences melted away almost as fast as their own baby fat.

While it's true that Henry Winkler as The Fonz, though convincing, was way over-age at the start as a high school dropout, it was perfect for Ron Howard, Donny Most and the rest of the gang who really were teen-agers when the series bowed. Ron, who as a little tyke was beloved as Opie, in Andy Griffith's long-run Mayberry days, said at 11 he didn't know if he wanted to be an actor when he grew up or play baseball. By 12 he seems never to have thought of baseball as a money-maker again, too busy acting.

Jodie Foster, Kristy McNichol, and Tatum O'Neal have struck no roadblocks either with the latter two now co-starring in the movie "Little Darlings." Credit two things in addition to the basic talents and good looks of all three) with their employability. Television did well by both Jodie and Kristy at circa 12 and 13, what with worthy after-school specials and that searching series "Family." The second factor? A public taste for toughness in pubescent and not-so-sweet 16s, the staple of such films as "Taxi" and "Little Darlings."

Bad Check Cases
Head Court Docket

Four persons pled guilty to writing bad checks in Garrett County District Court last week. Five charges of writing bad checks were filed against Harold Ray Criss, of Oakland. The checks totaled $311.59, and were written during the months of November and December, 1979. Criss pled guilty to all charges. A pre-sentence investigation is in effect for previous offenses, ordered by Judge Lewis R. Jones.

In a separate incident, Sharon G. DeWitt, Friendsville, was charged with issuing a worthless check to Heck's, Inc. in the amount of $56.52 to obtain goods and merchandise. Ms. DeWitt pled guilty to the charge. The court ordered probation before judgement and Ms. DeWitt was placed on six months' unsupervised probation.

Wanda Jayne Cline, Oakland, was found guilty of writing a bad check to Heck's, Inc. in the amount of $21.56 to obtain goods and merchandise. Ms. Cline was fined $10.

Ronald L. Hamilton pled guilty to a charge of issuing a worthless check to the Kenneth R. Durst Building Stone Co. in the amount of $227.33 to obtain goods and merchandise. Hamilton was fined $25.

Raymond Carl Helmick, Jr., of Deer Park was found guilty of a theft charge filed by the arresting officer, Deputy P. J. Pratt, Garrett County Sheriff's Dept., Oakland. The charges stemmed from a November, 1979 incident in which a Telecaster-Fender guitar was stolen from the Salon of Music in Oakland. A pre-sentencing investigation was ordered by the court.

In other court business, Sandy S. Clark, Oakland, who was charged with issuing a worthless check, failed to appear at the first scheduled trial of March 24 and at a re-scheduled April 14 trial. A bench warrant was issued by the court.

Wage Payment
Law Enforced

Maryland's Division of Labor and Industry collected $56,893.72 during the first three months of 1980 for employees who filed valid claims for unpaid wages under the State Wage Payment and Collection Law, according to a release from Harry A. Epstein, Commissioner of Labor and Industry. During the same period of 1979, $48,564.85 was collected. "The amount recovered, averaging $303 per employee, is an increase over last year's average of $190 for the same time period," stated the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Harvey A. Epstein.

During the first quarter of this year, 612 complaints were filed with the agency in comparison with 494 complaint for the same quarter in 1979. Any employee with a complaint for wages earned, but not paid by the employer may file a claim by writing or calling the Division of Labor and Industry, Employment Standards Service, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore City, 21202; or 383-2731.

The Mountain Lake Baptist Academy will host Field Day competition with Wesleyan Christian Academy of Cresap-town. It was decided during the business meeting to award honors for the competition.

A special item of business was the display of an appliqued orchid quilt to be presented to the Mike Bardon family. The Bardon family are missionaries in Utah, and will visit the Mt. Lake Church on April 30, at which time they will be ministering the 10 a.m. Chapel Service of the Mt. Lake Baptist Academy. A covered dish luncheon will follow at the home of John and Holly Doppel.

MVA Notifying
Mazda Owners Of Proposed Settlement

Marylanders who now own or have ever owned 1970 to 1973 Mazda automobiles are being notified of a proposed court settlement under which they may be entitled to collect up to $648.

In a letter to these motorists, William T. S. Bricker, Maryland's Motor Vehicle Administrator, stated that "Subject to Court approval (Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Los Angeles), a minimum of $2.5 million has been committed to settle litigation relating to an alleged design or manufacturing defect in some early model Mazda rotary engine vehicles."

"If you are or have ever been a registered owner of a 1970, 1971, 1972, or 1973 Mazda rotary engine vehicle which sustained an engine failure, you be entitled to share in certain of these funds."

MVA records show that 3,014 Marylanders now own or have owned Mazdas that are affected by the proposed settlement. About 180,000 cars are involved nationwide.

Under the terms of the proposed settlement, Mazda has set aside $2.5 million to handle claims arising from class-action suits filed since 1975. The suits came after many Mazda owners said they were forced to replace or repair rotary engines on their vehicles because of a defective seal that caused overheating.

Exactly how much a person will receive will depend upon the claim category for which he/she is eligible, as spelled out in the "Notice of Class Action Settlement," and the outcome of the hearing on the proposed settlement, to be held on April 22, 1980 in Los Angeles, California.

At the bottom of the notices now being sent out by MVA are spaces in which the claimant should enter his name and address. This information should be mailed to the address on the notice to obtain a claim form.

In turn, the claimant will receive a claim form and a copy of the "Notice of Class Action Settlement." This notice emphasizes that the claim form must be received at the Claims Processing Center in Sacramento, California by June

Symposium To Be Hosted By FSC

A two-day symposium on international education and experience will be offered May 2-3 at Frostburg State College. The program is sponsored by the Regional Education Service Agency (RESA) and is a faculty development consortium project.

The program, to be held at the Lane College Center on campus, will include two major sessions: from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Friday and from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. Saturday. The public is invited to these sessions free of charge.

Friday's session will feature keynote speaker Dr. Maurice Harari, the Assistant Executive Director of International Programs for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. In his Washington, D. C. post, he has a major responsibility for assisting universities in organizing, developing and administering international programs on campus and overseas.

Dr. Harari's topic is "The Imperative of Global Education: Major Issues and the Potential of International Education." Following his talk, discussion groups will be formed to wrestle with various problem topics such as: internationalizing the curriculum, international illiteracy, and efforts to accommodate international education.

Saturday's session will be directed at ideas for carrying out international programs for students and faculty on a continuing basis.

The symposium planning committee includes Dr. Harold Cordts, Carleton Shore, Gary Paul, Jacob Oppen and James Cotton of Frostburg State, Martha Dolly of Allegany C.C. and Laurence Sharpe of Hagerstown Junior College.

For further information persons should call the Frostburg State Physical Education Center at (301) 689-4461.

Bus Drivers Travel 6,999.3 Miles Per Day For County School Children

By Beverly Sincell

Imagine averaging 6,999.3 miles per day, using about 950 gallons of gas per day and totaling 1,259,874.2 miles a year. Those are the figures for the Garrett County school system bus fleet consisting of 87 contracted vehicles and three county-owned vehicles.

If the county school system had to pay the bill for the salaries of the bus drivers, purchase of the gasoline, maintenance of the vehicles, and the allowance for basic vehicles, it would have to add $1,066,270 to its budget. That was the cost during the 1980 fiscal year, for 1981 that could increase to $1,135,228. But the county does not have to pay that bill, the state carries it. What the county does pay is in administrative costs and in field trips for the students, and purchase of county buses.

All that could change if the State Board of Education approves proposals made in a study prepared by Price-Waterhouse and Company to change the system of funding counties' school transportation budgets to a cost sharing program in which the county would be responsible for 25 percent of the transportation costs. That could mean an additional financial burden to the county school system of $250,000 to $300,000. The study also suggests changing the present system of determining transportation costs to a county by using a per pupil rate based upon student density.

Though county school officials are unsure whether these suggestions will be adopted by the State Board, they are concerned what effects they would have on the county if adopted. Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of the county school system, stated his belief that to implement those suggestions would require an act of the Maryland legislature.

The possibility in the change of the structure of state funding is not the only concern in the county school transportation department. Maintaining contractors is another. Dr. Buser noted that though the state has increased its funding for the fiscal year 1981, he fears county contractors may not feel the increase is sufficient to cover costs and still make a slight profit. The Board of Education may have difficulty in the future renewing bus contracts.

Besides worrying over increasing gasoline costs and operation and maintenance costs, the contractors must face the increasing costs of buses. Eugene Flinn, director of county school transportation, stated that presently a new bus costs $20,000 or more. He pointed out, though, that local banks have been cooperative with contractors in financing new buses.

The contractors either drive their own buses or hire others to drive them. Bus drivers aren't just anybody, they must be certified which means taking a minimum of 15 hours of beginner's training and six hours of in-service training.

Their training helps in various ways, one is to promote driver safety. Eugene Flinn points to the number of types of accidents in the 1978-79 school year as an indication of the safety of the county bus drivers. During that year there were 16 reported accidents—15 with only property damage, the one other involved personal injury but was not the fault of the driver.

Without bus drivers, county students may have to relive the experiences of their parents and grandparents to whom walking ten miles to school was daily ritual. About 93 percent of county students ride a bus to school each day; some to schools out of the county. Flinn noted that 17 schools are served in Garrett County and six in Allegany County. Those in Allegany County include Bruce High School, Beall High School, Valley High School, Upper George's Creek Elementary School, Frostburg Elementary School, and Westport Elementary School.

Flinn pointed out that although the pupil density, 8.4 per square mile, is the lowest in the state, the average cost per mile to transport those students is also one of the lowest in the state.

But even though Garrett County bus drivers are transporting students farther for less, the county school officials seem aware that would be little consolation if the State hands over 25 percent of the financing responsibility to the county.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, April 23, the 114th day of 1980 with 252 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter.

The morning star is Mercury. The evening stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Taurus.

English Dramatist and poet William Shakespeare was born April 23, 1564.

On this date in history: In 1898, the U.S. government asked for 125,000 volunteers to fight against Spain in Cuba.

In 1917, almost every performer stepped forward at a mass rally in New York City when asked to volunteer to entertain the troops overseas in World War I.

In 1941, thousands attending an "America First" rally in New York City heard Charles Lindbergh say, "It is obvious that England is losing the war." The noted aviator opposed American entry into World War II.

In 1965, more than 200 U.S. planes struck North Vietnam in one of the heaviest raids of the war.

A thought for the day: William Shakespeare said, "The web of our life is of a mingled yarn, good and ill together."

SAFETY EMPHASIZED — Crellin School students learn how to safely evacuate a bus in an emergency situation. The training is part of the county school system's emphasis on safety in the transportation of school children.

RECEIVE SPECIAL TRAINING — Richard Alexander, right, a specialist in transportation for the State Department of Education, instructs a class for drivers and aides on the operation of buses for special education students.

Human Resources Office Explains WIC Program

Public assistance recipients who receive benefits through the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program may be eligible for additional assistance through a program called a Supplemental Food Plan for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), according to an announcement by Richard Lacombe, Executive Director of the Income Maintenance Administration of the Department of Human Resources.

Administered by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the WIC program offers food and nutrition services to low income households with expectant mothers and children under five years old who have special health needs. Local departments of social services have been working in cooperation with DHMH by informing AFDC recipients of the WIC program and referring applicants who appear eligible to local WIC offices.

The WIC program is one effort by DHMH to help prevent possible long term disabilities and retardation in children that result from poor nutrition.

Depending on the area, households eligible for the program may receive food by home delivery or they may pick up vouchers at a local WIC office to be used at grocery stores.

For information about the WIC program, low income families may call the WIC-Food Stamp hotline at 685-0525 or toll free through-out the State, 1-800-492-0618.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenues Up During March

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported recently that alcohol and tobacco tax revenues for the month of March 1980 total $5,567,216, an increase of nearly 1.8 percent over the $5,525,507 collected during the same month of 1979.

The increase was fueled by increases of 14.7 percent in beer tax revenues, 12.2 percent in wine tax receipts and 6.8 percent in distilled spirits tax collections. A decline of nearly three percent in tobacco tax revenues, however, moderated those increases. The tobacco tax is the largest revenue producer of the four sources of alcohol and tobacco tax collections.

For the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1980, all four revenue sources are posting increases over the same period of the previous year. Alcohol and tobacco tax revenues total $59,750,129, compared with $58,768,160 collected during the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1979, an increase of 1.7 percent.

PIONEER II
After passing Jupiter in 1974, Pioneer II finally passed Saturn during 1979. Over 500 new discoveries concerning Saturn have been made from the information received from this spacecraft. Pioneer II approached within 2,000 kilometers (1,200 miles) of the rings of the planet and within 21,400 kilometers (13,300 miles) of its cloud tops. Radio signals from Pioneer II, while it was in the vicinity of Saturn, took 85 minutes to reach the Earth. These signals travel at the speed of light. Now Pioneer II is leaving the Solar System.

Triple Springs Farms Joins ASA

Triple Springs Farms, owned by Hubert and Mae Custer, Deer Park, has recently become a lifetime member in the American Simmental Association, a beef breed association which offers only a one-time, one-payment life membership. Once a person joins the Association, there are no future dues or membership payments.

"We want to extend a sincere welcome," said ASA Executive Secretary, Earl B. Peterson, from the Association's headquarters in Bozeman, Montana. Founded in 1968, the American Simmental Association now numbers more than 12,600 life members and the ASA herd book has exceeded the 550,000 figure in number of animals processed for registration.

Simmental cattle originated in the Simme Valley of Switzerland, and have been in North America only since 1967. The breed currently ranks fourth among U. S. beef breed organizations in the number of animals registered annually.

"The Simmental Producer benefits greatly from his relationship with the ASA," Peterson said. "Recognition of genetic trait leaders, the publishing of the National Simmental Sire Summary coupled with corresponding data on growth and maternal traits provide valuable management tools to the cattle-men."

Custer, who is retired from the Maryland Highway Department, lists greater size, easy disposition, and looks and color among the major advantages of owning Simmental cattle.

Forest Service To Host Public Trail Meeting

The Maryland Forest Service will host an informal public meeting concerning state forest snowmobile trails, on Wednesday, April 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Garrett Community College.

The meeting is designed as an "input session" by people interested in the development of snowmobile trails in Garrett County. Interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Casselman Valley Homemakers Meet

The Casselman Valley Homemakers held their April meeting at the home of Mary Hersberger.

A Create-a-Mix Cookery demonstration was presented by Hazel Klotz and Mary Hersberger, with members contributing experiences of their own with the cookery method.

Following the business meeting, refreshments from the demonstration were served.

Members in attendance were Shelby Diehl, Stella Edwards, Rawnie Gillum, Mary Hentschel, Mary Hersberger, Hazel Klotz, Ruth Newman, Fran Stieringer, and Kathleen Yommer.

The May clothing meeting will be held on May 6 at the home of Rawnie Gillum.

Members are asked to meet May 4 at 10:15 at the Maranatha Assembly of God Church in Grantsville, where they will attend the 10:30 a.m. service observance of Homemakers week.

Abandoned Property Being Advertised

During the weeks of April 20th and April 27th, the Maryland State Comptroller's Office will be advertising some $1.5 million dollars worth of unclaimed funds reported by banks, building and loan associations and corporations in Maryland. Twenty-six newspapers throughout the State, including The Republican, will carry the ads once a week, listing 8,500 persons or accounts presumed to be the owners of the unclaimed property, and their last known addresses.

Persons on the list could be the owner of a savings account, checking account, stock, bonds, dividends, interest, or wages or other unclaimed property.

They should contact the Abandoned Property Section of the State Comptroller's Office at the address listed. That office will then notify them of who to contact within the appropriate company or bank.

Corporations operating in Maryland must report to the Abandoned Property Section each year all property such as wages, stocks, bonds and dividends which have been unclaimed for seven years, the Comptroller said. Banks and building and loan associations must report accounts after 12 years of inactivity. Notices are mailed to the presumed owner's last known address and advertisements placed in local newspapers based on this information. In Fiscal Year 1979, $442,000 worth of unclaimed property of all types was returned to the rightful owners.

"Maryland's Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act, passed in 1966, is not a tax. Rather, it is designed to give the state care and custody of certain abandoned property when the owner cannot be located. No time limit is placed on reclaiming property. The Act does not include real property such as real estate or abandoned automobiles and boats. But it does cover tangible personal property left in safe deposit boxes," Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller said.

"In addition to insurance proceeds and abandoned wages, the law also includes savings, checking, and share accounts; certified checks and certiicates of deposit; money orders, travelers checks, and safe deposit boxes; utility company deposits and refunds; stocks, bonds, and dividends and trust interests; funds held by courts and by State, county and municipal agencies; and other unclaimed funds," he said.

The period of abandonment ranges from seven to 15 years, according to the type of property. All property other than that reported by insurance companies is advertised in April each year. Property that remains unclaimed is turned over to the Abandoned Property Division. At the end of each fiscal year, net revenue is distributed to the political subdivisions based on the owners last known address. However, the owner can still recover his or her property or the amount realized from its sale at any time, Goldstein concluded.

Visiting Friends Training Session To Be Conducted

The Visiting Friends Program, a volunteer program organized by the Garrett County Team on Child Abuse and Neglect, will conduct a training session Wednesday and Thursday, April 30-May 1 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Garrett Community College Oakland Center to acquaint new volunteers with the philosophies and techniques of the program.

The purpose of the program, reported director Joy Lane, is to provide a stable, accepting relationship for families in crisis. Each volunteer has one "friend" whom she visits on a regular basis. "The volunteer is there to listen to problems, to relieve the sense of isolation often felt, and to be a role model for more effective mothering," stated Mrs. Lane.

The program, which is confidential, offers its services to any person under stress who is frustrated and overwhelmed by parental responsibilities. "It is the philosophy of the program that child abuse is not confined to one stratum of society," Mrs. Lane said.

The Visiting Friend Program now has fifteen volunteers in cases involving a total of thirty-nine children.

Persons interested in volunteering or in obtaining more information should call Joy Lane, 334-9300.

Two Injured In Auto Mishap

Michael Stanley Nair, 21, Aurora, W. Va., was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and has since been discharged, for injuries sustained in a single vehicle accident on U. S. Route 219, one mile south of the Gortner Road.

The mishap occurred April 10 when Nair, traveling north on U. S. Route 219 failed to negotiate a curve to the right, causing his auto to leave the left side of the road, strike the embankment, and overturn.

A passenger in the auto, Erma Jean Atkins, 39, Rowlesburg, W. Va., was treated and released from the same hospital.

Nair and Ms. Atkins were taken to the hospital by a private citizen. Damage to the 1979 Plymouth Horizon left it disabled.

Dr. Berte Explains Smoking Hazards To NHS Students

Dr. John B. Berte, Director of the Section of Pulmonary Diseases and Respiratory Therapy at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, presented a slide program on smoking and its harmful effects for the students at Northern Senior High School Thursday, April 17. This program coincided with the student run anti-smoking campaign.

Some statistics that Dr. Berte stated to the senior high school classes was that smokers have two times the greater risk of having coronary artery disease (heart attacks), six times the greater risk of having emphysema and ten times the greater risk of having lung cancer.

Dr. Berte stated after the program was over that "It's beneficial and rewarding to conduct programs like these for high schools, even if you only get one student to quit smoking or not start, it's worth it."

GENERAL VS LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

Buying commercial real estate differs in one respect from buying a family home. The time and opportunity may be right to buy a piece of commercial property, but one buyer may not be able to raise enough money. In this case, additional money may be found by forming a partnership with one or more other persons who will share the financial load.

There are two kinds of partnership arrangements. The general partnership and the limited partnership. The basic difference is in the degree of financial responsibility. In a general partnership, all partners share in profits and losses. There is no limit of liability.

With the limited partnership, one partner must be a general partner, but the limited partner's liability is limited to the amount he has invested. Be sure your lawyer advises you in this area for your own financial and legal well-being.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Conversations on Carpeting

INDOORS OR OUT

Last time I talked about nylon, one of the marvelous synthetics that have brought exciting changes to carpeting in recent years. Maybe after hearing about the great strength and wearability of nylon, you decided "That's the one for me." But don't be too hasty. There are a number of other marvelous synthetics that have appealing properties of their very own—special properties that you'll want to know more about.

Take Polypropylene for example. Polypropylene, also known by its generic name Olefin, is the fiber most often used in indoor/outdoor carpeting. As you can probably guess, Olefin is wonderfully weather-proof. Its non-absorbent qualities actually resist moisture. Carpeting made of this all-weather fiber offers a minimum amount of static, so dirt and dust don't cling to the carpet surface.

Olefin's moisture resistant properties are equally at home outdoors under the stars, or indoors by the kitchen sink. That's why it's also a popular fiber for making kitchen carpeting. Olefin is highly resistant to stains. Spilled milk and other liquids can be wiped up with a damp cloth.

Whether you're thinking of beautifying your patio or redoing your kitchen, why not look into carpeting made of Olefin? And whenever you're considering carpeting of any kind, always think of Roderick's, where you get the finest selection at very reasonable prices.

Kitzmiller Citizens Say "Yes" To Municipal Water System

Citizens of Kitzmiller Tuesday night gave a show of support to the county commissioners for progress towards securing water service for the area.

At a public hearing, conducted by the county commissioners, over 100 Kitzmiller residents listened to a report by Tom Jones, county director of development, on the funding program for the project and the history of the project.

Afterwards they held a town meeting to vote whether or not the commissioners and the town council should proceed with their work towards providing water service for the town. The final vote, with only those eligible to vote taking part, was 53-3.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg had stood before the group after Jones had completed his presentation to speak in support of the water service project. He reminded the citizens that though the estimated water rates seemed high, they had to consider their present costs for water. For some, he stated, the cost of a municipal water service would be less than their current expenses. Another advantage of a municipal water system, he added, was that their property values would increase and their fire insurance would decrease.

Kitzmiller Mayor Lois Mosser later stated that the vote by the town was merely a show to the county commissioners that the residents were interested in having a municipal water system. It did not bind them into an agreement.

The town of Kitzmiller has shown an interest in a municipal water system for sixteen years. Garrett County Health Department officials have testified that the present water supply at Kitzmiller presents a "serious health problem" to town residents due to the threat of contamination of the supply by sewage.

The town council petitioned the Sanitary Commission in 1972 to conduct a study to determine the feasibility of a water system. The study showed that a water system would not be feasible because it would not be cost effective. Few grants were available to assist the town, and the town would not be able to afford a bond issue.

During the summer of 1979, the Sanitary Commission began negotiations with the Mt. Top Public Service District, W. Va., to provide water service to Kitzmiller. The District had agreed to allow Kitzmiller to become its customer on the condition it hook up to waterlines to be installed at Elk Garden, W. Va. The District had planned to run 12 miles of six inch pipe to serve Elk Garden and agreed to enlarge the pipe to eight inches to also serve Kitzmiller if it were paid $110,000 for the additional cost.

Two weeks ago, the county commissioners approved borrowing the money from two local banks to pay the charge. Tom Jones reported that Farmers Home Administration representatives have indicated that money will be reimbursed once construction of water lines begins in Kitzmiller.

During the public hearing, Jones reported that of the total estimated cost for the project of $1,185,000, $880,000 is grant eligible. The remaining $305,000 will be a loan through FmHA to be paid over a period of 40 years at five percent interest by Kitzmiller residents through front footage assessment.

The system would serve those within the town limits of Kitzmiller, an estimated 175 water taps.

Commissioner Gregg, later stated, "It is very realistic that Kitzmiller will have a municipal water service by Christmas of 1981."

The commissioners are assisting the town in obtaining the water service with the hope the town will assume responsibility of the operation and management of the system when the town is ready to do so.

Because the town will be served by the Mt. Top Public Service District, it will not need to build a treatment plant as part of the project. The project will include construction of a 25,000 gallon water storage tank and a water line from Elk Garden to the storage tank and a distribution system to the town residents and to some fire hydrants.

Other officials present at the meeting included representatives of the Sanitary Commission.

REUNITED WITH HIS MOTHER, James Roland "JR" Reams, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reams, Deer Park, was located by Denny Jenkins, Deer Park, and Buzz Updyke, Oakland fireman, after he had wandered from his home on Monday afternoon. "It was a great relief," said Mrs. Reams. The search party was comprised of more than 60 local public service officials and concerned citizens of Deer Park. See story.

Homemakers Week Is Declared In Garrett County

The County Commissioners signed a proclamation Tuesday declaring May 4th National Homemakers Week in Garrett County. The purpose of Homemakers Week is to strive to provide a better way of life for all through fellowship, continuing education and service, and guidance in homes and communities, according to Jane Rentschler, extension agent, home economics. Therefore, Homemakers Week should be a time when all homemakers are given proper recognition by their families, communities and county, Mrs. Rentschler said.

Presently, there are 22 Homemakers Clubs in Garrett County with a total membership of 389. These clubs are located in various communities throughout the county. Each club holds monthly meetings where an educational lesson is given by one of its members. The material for this lesson is provided by the Garrett County Extension Service.

Homemakers Week will be celebrated in a number of ways in Garrett County, according to Mrs. Rentschler. First, all several clubs will be attending church as a group on Sunday. Also, displays and bulletin boards recognizing Homemakers Week will be set up in various locations for the week. On Tuesday two of the County Homemaker officers will participate in the Community Affairs program on WMSG at 3:30 p.m.

The Annual Mini-Fair will bring the week to its conclusion. It will be held at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Social Hall in Oakland Friday from 10:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. A variety of homemade articles will be displayed and sold. Lunch will also be available. At 11:00 a.m. a demonstration on matted county will be given by Mrs. V. Fawcett and at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Audrey Baker will give a demonstration on making silk flowers. The public is invited to attend this final event of the Homemakers Week.

For further information on homemakers clubs, persons should call 334-2145 or stop by the Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex.

Southern High School Participant In GED Study

Southern High School is one of 300 high schools in the United States and Canada selected to participate in a study to set standards for thousands of adults who each year take General Educational Development (GED) tests for high school equivalency diplomas.

The study will help keep new editions of the tests up to date and reflective of the knowledge of today's high school seniors. It is being conducted by Educational Testing Service (ETS) of Princeton, N. J.

Thirty-two randomly chosen seniors from Southern High who are expected to graduate by Sept. 1, 1980, will take GED multiple-choice tests in reading, writing, mathematics, science and social studies during April and May. Their scores and those of nearly 16,000 other 12th graders, will be used in a process called norming and equating to evaluate adult test results over the next five years.

Groundbreaking For Town View Village Set May 9

The Accident Housing Community Corporation announced this week groundbreaking ceremonies for Town View Village, a rental housing complex for senior citizens, will be held Friday, May 9 at 1:30 p.m. with Congressman Beverly Byron and William Poffenburger of the Farmer's Home Administration as keynote speakers.

Besides Mr. Byron and Mr. Poffenburger, those expected to be present include Senator Edward Mason, Kay Schultz of the Maryland Appalachian Housing Fund, Deborah Lawton of the Garrett County Housing Office and Accident Community Housing Corporation members.

Work has already begun towards construction of the 20 apartment complex by contractor HMF Enterprises, Mt. Lake Park. The completion date for the project is April 1, 1981. In addition to the 20 self contained one-bedroom units, each equipped with an emergency alarm system and a private patio or balcony, the facility will also house a fully-equipped laundry room on each floor, an adjoining community center, with a small kitchen and an office space.

Pastor Fred Ilick, president of the Accident Community Housing Corporation Board of Directors, stated $17,000 has been raised locally as part of the matching funds for the project, but an additional $3,000 is still needed. He stated a public sale will be held at the Accident Fire Hall Saturday, May 31 as a fundraiser.

The three-acre site for the Town View Village is located behind the Accident Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library, adjacent to the town's approved park site.

Massive Search Conducted, Deer Park Boy Found

Area public service groups and concerned volunteers, Monday, participated in a massive, successful search for James Roland "JR" Reams, the three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reams of RD 4, Deer Park.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications as members of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Department of Natural Resources, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Maryland State Police, C&P Telephone Company, Deer Park Area Boy Scouts and local residents joined in the search for the missing boy. Sources say more than 60 people helped to comb the area.

Mrs. Reams told police she was hanging up clothes around 1 p.m., and her son was playing near her with his puppy. Ten minutes later she and she noticed him missing. When the search began, "JR" had reportedly last been seen at 2 p.m. by a neighbor.

The search was concentrated on a wooded hillside behind the houses on a part of Route 135, Chay, January 2, 1981. The child was found about 4:45 p.m. by Denny Jenkins, Deer Park, and Buzz Updyke, an Oakland fireman.

Sources say Updyke had taken his Cessna 172 single-engine plane up to look for the boy. While scanning the area, Updyke spotted a boy, identified as Jenkins, standing near the railroad tracks, on a hill next to an old dam, waving his arms. Jenkins, the Deer Park youth, had been riding his trail bike about a mile from the Reams residence when he found the child.

"JR" Reams was said to be in good condition and had apparently wandered from his yard and became lost.

Commissioners View School Budget, Discuss Sanitary Commission Loan

The Garrett County Board of Education Tuesday presented the county commissioners with the county share of the additional four percent salary increase recently granted to Board employees which gives them a total salary increase of ten percent, and presented its FY 1981 school budget request. The Board had announced at a public hearing Thursday, April 17 that the Board had decided to submit a supplemental budget request to the county commissioners to cover a salary increase for Board of Education employees, but it was unable to present the dollar amount at that hearing.

Tuesday, the Board told the commissioners the increase would mean a county share of approximately $210,000. Commissioner Ernie Gregg later noted that although he could not say the commissioners would be able to fund the Board's FY 1981 budget request entirely, they recognized the importance of the implementation of certain programs in the county school system during the 1980-81 school year. In particular, Gregg mentioned the strong push by the Board for the gifted and talented program, planned for implementation next year. "I see considerable merit with that program," he said.

In other business, Dick Nace, administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., requested the commissioners to sign a bond anticipation note to authorize Liberty Trust of Cumberland to release $40,000 to the Sanitary Commission for the Mt. Lake Park Water Rehabilitation Project.

The Commission has a total available loan of $1,250,000 with Liberty Trust from which over $800,000 has been drawn. The note would make the total borrowed to date $842,000. The commissioners told Nace they wanted to study the note before signing it but indicated they may sign it by the end of this week.

The major questions they had concerned a discrepancy between a report of expenses as of November 1979, when work on the project terminated until the Spring of 1980, and the total drawn on the account. Nace explained part of the discrepancy could be due to the original purchase price of $132,000 for the water system which had not been included in the November figure.

The commissioners also stated they wished to check on when the loan became eligible to go to bond.

Nace explained to the commissioners that the project resumed in April and may have to be halted if the money is not forwarded in time.

Board Approves Accident School Specifications

The Garrett County Board of Education approved the Accident Elementary School educational programs and building specifications for submission to the architect and took action to support the Garrett County Memorial Hospital building program during its Thursday, April 17 meeting.

The educational programs and building specifications approved by the Board had been recommended by the Accident Educational Program and Building Specifications Committee comprised of Accident residents and Board of Education representatives. The building, which will house the special education center for the northern part of the county in addition to classrooms for Accident Elementary School students, will be a maximum gross square footage of $32,315.

The committee recommended that the Accident School provide for instructional learning areas defined as "modified traditional". Each instructional area will be designed with substantial non-load bearing walls which will serve as an acoustical barrier between instructional areas, meaning that although the walls are to be designed from ceiling to floor, rather than the room dividers found in some of the newer county schools, they will bear no weight of the building so that they can be moved if student class size demands a change in room size. Both traditional and team teaching will be used.

The Board voted its support to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital building program after hearing a presentation from Joyce Bischoff and Dr. Paul Williams. Bills allowing the sale of bonds for the hospital project will be referendum items on the May 13 primary.

Richard Travis, instructional supervisor of physical education, and Northern and Southern High School principals presented their concerns of implementing high school interscholastic athletics. They requested the Board not add any high school athletics to the existing programs because of funding problems. Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of schools, indicated a study would be made and a process used to determine the feasibility of developing regulations designed to give more uniformity between interscholastic athletic programs of the two high schools.

Albert Ringer, James Trickett, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, and George Allen of the Regional Education Service Agency reported on the vocational education program for the county school system.

In other business, the Board listened to concerns of the Northern High Band Boosters concerning transportation for the band. The Board of Education staff were directed to implement some suggestions made by the Board utilizing the available vehicles as efficiently as possible.

The Board approved an amendment to its policy on the confidentiality of student records to make it more closely comply with the Maryland State Department of Education's bylaw on dealing with special education students.

Unusual Mishap Injures Two

Two employees of the Army Corps of Engineers sustained minor injuries last Wednesday afternoon when a jeep they were driving stalled during an attempt to ascend the breast of Bloomington Dam.

David Morgan Evans, 61, Lonaconing, driver of the vehicle, was unable to maintain control on the steep incline as the jeep drifted backward. The left rear tire struck a large rock, causing the vehicle to overturn.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, and first aid was administered by ambulance personnel. Evans and a passenger, Ronald Paul Bashore, McHenry, were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The vehicle was estimated a total loss.

James Fox, a student at Northern High School, recently won second place in a talent show held at the school. James presented "What I Did For Love" on his trumpet. He is a son of William and Jane Fox, Friendsville.

Law Enforcement

The Dedication of City, County and State Police Officers

Editor's note: May 1 is Law Day. In recognition of Law Day, the writers of The Republican offer the following three articles concerning the three types of law enforcement officers in Garrett County.

State Police

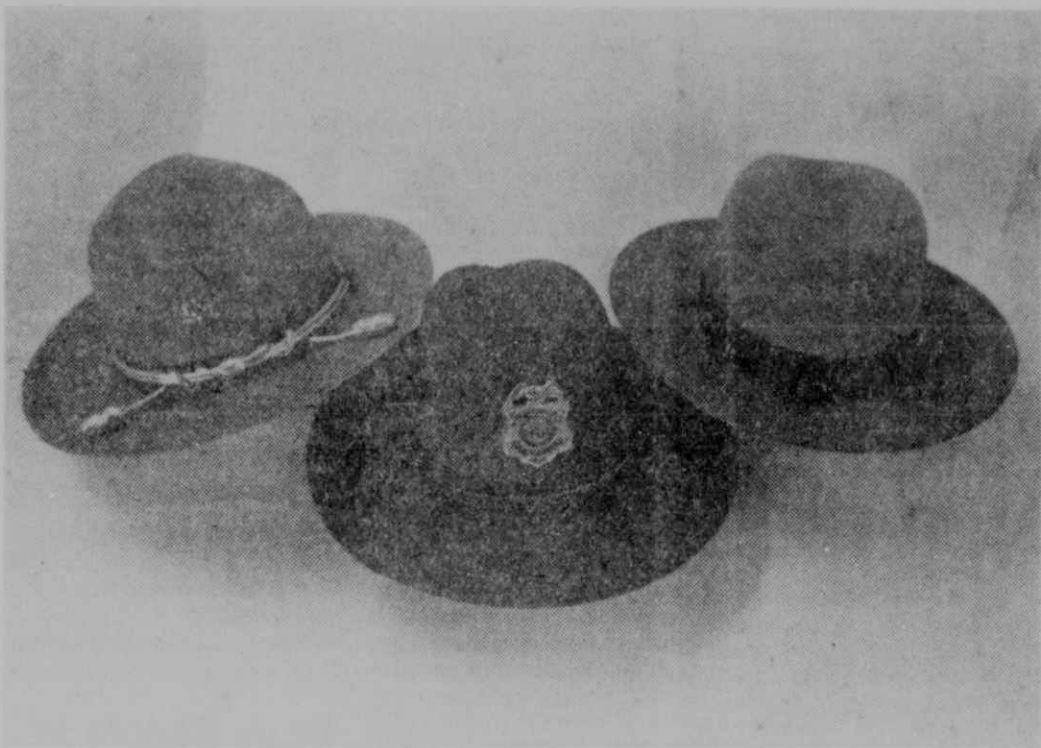

by Carol Kapel

The desire to become a law enforcement officer probably begins somewhere in the imagination of a small boy, off in pursuit of the legendary bad guy. Onward goes the dream, changing from that of a small boy to that of a man... motivated by principles, nourished by belief in truth and justice, and sustained by the acute awareness of equality. Fear is conquered, pride is instilled, and a kind of courage emerges that allows this individual to risk his life... often subjected to verbal abuse, often the victim of unfair judgment, but constantly enveloped in the knowledge of his obligation to serve, his duty to protect. So is the inception of a Maryland State Trooper.

In early summer, 1976, a stately farmhouse nestled in the midst of Garrett County farmland became the permanent headquarters of the Maryland State Police, McHenry Detachment, working in cooperation with the Cumberland Barracks.

Currently, First Sergeant Paul R. Sanders, with Sergeant H. W. Graham, perform administrative duties from this location for the Garrett County based detachment, which includes a total of 17 state police officers.

The base of operations is manned 24 hours per day, including continuous patrol of county roads by ten uniformed road troopers. The detachment also includes two plain clothes investigators and canine patrol trooper.

The basic and major duties of the Maryland State Police are traffic supervision and patrol, combined with criminal investigation and suppression. However, the men are often involved in emergency highway assistance, as well as various aspects of the community embracing police matters. In addition to some of the latest communications equipment and crime preventive systems, the local force has access to state police helicopters, crime labs, the canine corps, and criminal records and statistics through the state police headquarters.

Because the county has grown so rapidly, crime has also grown, as well as traffic supervision and patrol duties. Approximately 850 traffic accidents were investigated last year in Garrett County. Increased tourism during the summer resort season adds to the traffic responsibility. The abundant use of CB radios by county residents and visitors make traffic patrol more of a challenge, but aid in adherence to the posted speed limits, reducing the chance of traffic accidents.

The principal responsibility of the plain clothes officers is criminal investigation. Actual man hours per criminal case often become excessive. It may take days, weeks, or even months to complete an investigation. Additional manpower is desirable to the current staff of law enforcement personnel to produce more effective results, because of the rapid county growth.

Also included in the realm of the Garrett County detachment (in conjunction with the Cumberland barracks) is a complete and informative program of crime prevention studies, which includes safety lectures and drug and alcohol abuse prevention discussions for county school students, and programs about the law and how it works for the public.

Local troopers report excellent cooperation from other county law enforcement agencies, as well as surrounding state police departments. The detachment conducts no investigations under the jurisdiction of other law enforcement officials unless requested to do so by the mayor, the chief of police or the governor.

It is the express desire of the troopers in this county to form home or some personal property may have been protected from harm or destruction.

Often, people tend to forget that breaking a law or exceeding a posted speed limit can lead to public embarrassment and humiliation for the individual or family members as part of due process. Because a trooper is physically involved in pursuit and apprehension, he's often placed in the unfortunate position of exposing the name of the individual, much to the chagrin of friends and family. This is a regrettable part of the job, and one that each man finds complicated, to say the least. Because of this same embarrassment, all public law enforcement personnel find it difficult to convince the public to assist or cooperate in an investigation that, in all probability, would actually benefit society in general, and perhaps someone in particular. It is this writer's belief that every citizen owes an obligation to obey the law, become "involved" to assist the police, and instill respect in tomorrow's generation.

Law enforcement agencies exist for the protection of life and property, and Garrett County can be proud of the McHenry Detachment, Maryland State Police.

County Police

by Kathy Ralley

"PIG" stands for patience, integrity and guts." This is a quote by Deputy Charles P.

Nolan. According to several deputies, these three characteristics are just a part of what is needed to be a good police officer. Police work is dangerous and officers are trained to handle emergency situations, and forced to make split-second, life and death decisions. These decisions are sometimes made when an officer responds to a "routine" complaint. In short, police officers never know what they will encounter when they go on duty.

Deputy Nolan is one of 12 individuals who work to protect and meet the needs of people in Garrett County. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is comprised of 11 deputies under the direction of Sheriff John Evans, Chief Law Enforcement Officer in the county. Deputy Frank Finch is Chief Deputy and Deputy Van Evans is Assistant Chief Deputy of the Sheriff's Department. Other deputies in the department are Don Tucker, Steve Beeman, Rick Kutchman, Harland Tichnell, Losing Situation . . .

It seems to be human nature for persons to continually seek out a scapegoat, a role which President Carter has played many times, especially in dealing with the Iranian crisis. He seems to be in a losing situation, no matter which course of action he decides to take.

Before the rescue attempt last week, many said the president was not doing enough to free the hostages, and yet all the while training for the rescue mission was underway. After the tragic rescue attempt, many then said that such a move was foolish and dangerous.

If the president would declare war on Iran or order other acts of aggression, he would again be criticized and the hostages would no doubt be killed. Unfortunately, there seem to be few alternatives remaining. All attempts at diplomacy have failed and, because of the irrationality of the Iranian people, there is no reason to believe that diplomacy will ever free the hostages.

This is a time when the president needs the support of all Americans. Every time a citizen or politician speaks out against the president's handling of the crisis, it does nothing but bolster the Iranians position and leads them to believe that we are a fragmented nation, sympathetic to their cause.

We salute the president for the rescue attempt. If it had succeeded, Mr. Carter would now be a hero. The deaths of the eight volunteers must be a nightmare for him, because the attempt was his decision.

We condemn the statements and egotism of the Congressional leaders who claimed the president was wrong in not contacting them about the mission. As another Senator stated, if the president had told Congress of the plan, "Khomeini would have been waiting in the desert for those helicopters to land."

According to Carter last night at a news conference, the volunteers who survived the rescue mission regret that they failed, thanked the president for allowing them to try and requested that they be allowed to try again. That is the attitude that all Americans should take.

The Iranians are pushing around a powerful nation of people which is not used to being pushed, and the ending to this crisis is not likely to be a pleasant one, especially for the Iranians.

Dear Editor,

We Garrett Countians have many young people of whom we are quite proud. We often applaud the fine accomplishments of Southern's band, our various sports teams, 4-H, scouting groups and others. However, there is another area that we hear little about. It is the V.I.C.A. club at Southern. The letters stand for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. There are only 32 members. Some of these students have been competing in the State V.I.C.A. Skills Olympics for the past four years. Each year they have come back with honors—first, second and third in various skill areas.

This past Saturday, 15 students competed in various skills at Frederick Vo-Tech, and were again victorious.

Raymond Harvey won first place in carpentry; Vincent Lambert, Marlon George and Dennis Evans placed second in safety; and Jim Murphy placed third place in cabinet making. These are all students in the Building Trades class of John Fitzwater, Jr.

The competition is indeed keen in all areas. They compete against schools such as Wisconsin and Howard Vo-Tech. Centers whose V.I.C.A. members number in the hundreds.

Our students are indeed a credit to our community. Their behavior on the trip and in competition was such that I was proud to be associated with the group.

Mr. Fitzwater is to be commended for his fine teaching of these young people. His reaction to congratulations is simply, "The students did it, I didn't." But he had to import the know-how and provide the incentive for them to excel.

Raymond is now eligible to compete in the National Olympics in Atlanta, Georgia to be held in June. With his ability and determination we may well have a national winner.

Raymond, we're proud of you. "Good Luck" in Atlanta.

Editor,

I am a citizen of Garrett County and have been all my life.

It bugs me to no end when I read in the "Letters to the Editor" column about the people who are trying to push the Sunday Sale of Alcohol.

They keep saying that we in Garrett County are backward and behind the times. This is ridiculous!

That is just a very poor excuse to make an extra buck at the expense of innocent people's lives.

Drunk drivers cause enough traffic accidents six days a week; they don't seven days.

As for the excuse that people are going out of the county on Sunday to buy their alcohol seems ridiculous also.

Surely people have enough sense to buy on Saturday what they think they need on Sunday.

Alcohol is not the only reason people come to Garrett County.

Don't we have better things to offer? I certainly hope so, for the sake of us all.

Vote No for Sunday Sale of Alcohol in Garrett County.

Editor,

None can deny that the proposed expansion/renovation of the hospital is desirable. However, one important question has not been answered. Who is ultimately responsible for the money borrowed?

Currently running in The Republican is a "Notice of Referendum. Questions." If the county is not responsible for the repayment of the bonds should the hospital not be able to make payment, what are we to understand from the statement, under the subheading "Question B," which reads: "...and further to levy, impose and collect, annually, ad valorem taxes in rate and amount sufficient to provide funds that may otherwise be necessary for the payment of the maturing principal of and interest on the bonds..."

We know it is intended that the hospital will pay off the debt. What should be clarified is this: If for some reason, remote as that possibility may be, the hospital is unable to pay the debt, will not Garrett County taxpayers be responsible for doing so?

I suggest that in next week's issue of The Republican, the County Commissioners and an official of the hospital give us an answer to this question. After the May 13 election, it will be too late to say, "We didn't have all the answers."

Sincerely,
Jerry Stewart
Oakland

Dear Mr. Stewart, We took the liberty to ask a hospital official to answer your question for this week's edition. The hospital is using the credit of the county commissioners in order to borrow funds for the hospital project. It is something which has been done in all other counties for similar projects. It has been done in Garrett County for various businesses and industries, the purpose being, as we have stated before, to secure the lowest possible interest rate.

If, for some reason, the hospital is unable to pay the debt, it would ultimately fall on the county. However, the chances of this happening are approximately the same as being struck by lightning on Friday afternoon in the Cranesville swamp.

First of all, the state Cost Review Commission, the agency through which all hospital rates must be approved, has given Garrett Memorial permission to charge rates necessary to pay for the project. In dollars, this amounts to about a $17 per day increase for services, which incidentally, will still keep Garrett Memorial's rates at or near the lowest among the state's 34 hospitals.

Secondly, in seeking state approval for this project, Garrett Memorial had to supply the commission with estimated usage rates for the hospital, that is, take an educated guess as to how many persons will be using the hospital in the years to come. Projected estimates for 1983 were provided. However, at the end of 1979, the hospital had already exceeded the figures for 1983. In other words, the number of patients presently using the hospital is beyond the projected number four years from now.

Thirdly, with a new facility and new doctors as a result of the new facility, more and more persons will be able to stay in Garrett County for treatment which presently must be obtained elsewhere. More doctors plus more services equal better health care, more patients and thus, more income for the hospital.

Fourthly, no one can deny that the need for a new facility, or at least renovation, is real. If it is not done now, it will absolutely have to be done one, two or maybe three years from now. Each year's delay will add approximately $1 million more dollars to the expense of the project.

Fifthly, the county's population is growing and people will always get injured or become ill. If the day should come that the reverse is true, then we will have no need for a hospital, nor doctors for that matter.

Editor

Editor:

The tone of your response is a prime example of what is lacking in local leadership. When these leaders maintain the attitude that their judgment should not be questioned. The general public must savor all these expert opinions and then take their own positions on this issue.

Regardless of monies expended or number of medical professionals on staff, this still does not guarantee the quality of care that Garrett Countians are supposedly entitled.

For example, the facilities, no matter how modern, do absolutely no good if a patient does not have immediate attention upon arrival at the emergency section.

With the cost of the emergency facility as it is now, one usually has to wait far too long to see a physician. What happened to on-duty round-the-clock available physicians? No matter how qualified the nursing staff, the doctor must be responsible for emergency decisions.

Hospital spokesmen, or clerical employees can not be held responsible or in error for passing information as to the availability of physicians/surgeon.

The county commissioners and hospital administrator have stated that "Project G" will not increase tax dollars. One question, Mr. Editor, just who pays for Federal Monies or Appalachian Regional Commission Federal Grants? This money does not come from a money tree, but comes from taxpayers who are already overburdened.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leighton
Mr. and Mrs. Leighton,

1. Who can better judge the need for a new facility than those who work there? Who can better determine if a new taxi cab is needed than the driver of that cab?

2. All persons appearing in the emergency room are not necessarily emergency cases. The more serious cases are treated first. This is true in all hospitals.

3. Garrett Memorial does have a physician on duty round the clock. The only reason he might not be quickly available is if he is busy with another emergency or if the person in the emergency room is not truly an emergency case.

4. The commissioners and hospital Board of Governors have stated that the project will not increase county taxes, and they are correct. The federal grant money is already there, waiting to be used. In federal tax money, you and all other taxpayers in the nation will be paying about 2.7 cents each for the Garrett Memorial hospital.

That doesn't seem too unreasonable for a new hospital, does it? What better way to spend federal dollars than for a new hospital?

5. We did some checking into your particular case concerning your daughter, I letter to editor, 4/16/80 and discovered that you never even took your daughter to Garrett Memorial for examination or treatment. You simply took her straight to Cumberland. The same examination, the same x-rays and the same surgery would have been done just as efficiently at Garrett Memorial had you given them a chance.

Editor

Dear Editor,

As Chief of Staff at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, I would like to respond to the letter from Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Leighton in The Republican on 4-16-80.

1. All of the physicians at our hospital are capable of making a diagnosis of appendicitis.

2. No reputable doctor would claim to be able to make that diagnosis without examining the patient, an opportunity we apparently never had.

3. I would ask that if you have a conflict with a particular physician that you can best solve it by speaking with him and not by condemning the hospital.

4. As you may or may not know, we now have four surgeons at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. At least one is available on call through the Emergency Room at all times. Finally, to all those people in support of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Building and Renovation Project, please get out and vote YES on 5-13-80. Don't assume that a good thing is a sure thing.

George B. Stoltzfus, M.D.
Chief of Staff, Garrett County Memorial Hospital

Dear Editor,

I have to disagree with your response to Mr. and Mrs. Leighton in last week's column. I support the renovations at the Memorial Hospital for many reasons. I had vowed, however, that should an emergency arise with my health, I would instruct the responding unit to take me to Morgantown. My sole reason for this is my lack of faith in the Emergency Room services at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Last winter I entered the hospital at approximately 3:00 a.m. with an acutely sore throat. I was received, but I waited 5 hours before I received medical attention. And, then I saw a pediatrician in his office after he opened in the morning. Now, there was an emergency at the hospital that night, in which a woman died. Therefore, I tried to be understanding and patient.

The fact is that not one single staff member asked me what was wrong, how badly I was hurting, nor did they inform me of the emergency until approximately 7:00 that morning. Among the six or seven doctors at the hospital that night, not one was summoned to tend to the other people waiting in the emergency room!

I have never complained publicly about this incident; I, fortunately recovered from my illness. But I repeat, I vowed never to be taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Many other incidents of this sort have been reported to me through hearsay. I have to agree with the Leightons, that renovations make no sense if the staff will not or cannot respond properly to an emergency case. If there are insufficient doctors on call now, what will happen when Garrett Countians begin to use the new facilities and equipment.

Sincerely,
Martha A. McClive
McHenry

Dear Marthe,

A sore throat, no matter how "acute," is not an emergency. If every person with a sore throat arrived at the emergency room for treatment, the doctors would have no time left to handle the real emergencies. Many of the problems associated with any emergency room are those created by persons seeking treatment who are not emergency cases.

Presently, the emergency room is staffed by local doctors through what is actually a volunteer system. These doctors must see their own patients during office hours, make their hospital rounds, and then still be responsible for a 24-hour on-call period in the emergency room. In working with a county rescue squad for the past several years and in responding to over 700 calls, I can personally assure you that true emergency cases are given immediate treatment at Garrett Memorial.

We have also learned that the Hospital board and administration is presently attempting to find a full time emergency room physician.

Despite your grievance, it pleases us to see that you do support the building project at Garrett Memorial.

Editor

Thanks for your note to my letter. With those snide remarks, and your front page story quoting Commissioner Gregg, we now know that our taxpayers have no advocate among our County officials, nor, the Oakland newspaper.

Therefore, letters by the taxpayers are quite necessary.

The subject at present is the County Bond issue for a new hospital building. We believe we should all vote "No." With conscientious and experienced doctors, our present building can be made to serve the needs of our county for the foreseeable future. We believe it is not necessary to mortgage our homes for 30 years at this time. Present high interest rates, the approaching depression, the likelihood of declining population, the high debt we already are carrying, the overspending during the past nine years, the example of the unfinished Courthouse, and higher taxes should tell us it is time to stop, now.

A new building with the same amount of beds we now have cannot increase the earnings of the hospital much. It is foolish to claim the earnings could increase enough to pay a six million dollar bond issue. The present building was furnished by private donations and after the building was constructed the hospital has not always met its own operating and maintenance costs. Large sums of money were received from the White Face farm, and a gift to the hospital of $232,528 by Mrs. Pattison, plus small amounts, such as the tax from entertainment, and gas wells have helped to keep the hospital operating. The levy for 1977 shows one item of $23,000 and another item of $20,000, a total of $43,000. To meet the annual principal payments on the bonds would require a levy of $200,000 each year plus the interest of perhaps another $600,000. This would bind us down to 30 years of high taxes. Vote "No".

Clifford Friend

Mr. Friend,

We have done some checking into you acting as an "advocate" for the people of Garrett County over the years. In 1948 you were a spokesman for a group of citizens who petitioned to stop the construction of the two county high schools. As a result of such efforts, the construction was delayed and that delay cost this county nearly $1 million in increased construction costs.

You were also an advocate against Garrett Community College.

Progress seems to be a filthy word in your vocabulary.

Your playing the role of an advocate would be fine if you used correct information in your campaigns.

The present hospital building CANNOT be made to serve the needs of our county in the foreseeable future.

We plan to publish all of the facts concerning the hospital project in next week's edition. We hope you will read them, Mr. Friend, because your vote is just as important as the next person's.

Editor

To the Editor, There seems to be a mass confusion concerning the hospital referendum. I don't want to get embroiled in a controversy of administration and wages but only to point out that this referendum will not be affecting decisions in this area.

If you read the letter Dr. Alvarez wrote supporting the proposed renovation, I feel that you can trust his approval of this plan. Do you in Garrett County know how fortunate you are to have a man of his skill and foresight? It is due to this ability to see far down the road that you have the expected 18 physicians for August 1. With his interest and concern, along with the efforts of Dr. Pope, you have a fine system of medical care available in Garrett County and need to back this up with a hospital which provides secondary care.

I have been involved in health care for many years, have been a member of the Preston County Health Council since its inception, and am well aware of what you have. Had we physicians who had seen the problem here and acted upon it, we would not have needed to spend the many, many hours of our time trying to build again a medical service for this area and a patient-use of a good hospital facility.

So, while you have the chance, vote "yes" for the referendum which will be paid for from patient fees, not by your taxes. And with Dr.

Pinkerton remaining in this area, you will be assured that we in Preston County will be helping to repay the debt incurred.

Thank you,
Jean M. Winters
Eglen, W. Va.

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my views on the hospital vote on May 13th.

Last September I had my leg amputated in a farm accident and reattached at Garrett Memorial. That is something that, in the past, hadn't been done too often in our country. Microsurgery in the past year or so is being done with good success as this field broadens. But to be successful, modern equipment is needed.

During this experience I have become aware of some things. That only happens when people come in contact with the hospital for a long time due to a long-term illness or major accident.

As we all know, as population grows so does everything else. Our hospital becomes crowded so our facility becomes overworked. Recently we have been fortunate to get new doctors on the staff.

During the many visits I have had to make, I have come in direct contact with almost everyone who works at the hospital. They all have been just great, giving their loving care. Without insurance my family and I would be in bad shape. So consider this also. We need a hospital which is able to have all insurance companies to accept them.

If I would have had to go to another facility, think of cost in miles driven, bad weather and loss of work for my husband to meet schedules.

I feel as the field of medicine grows, so does our hospital need to grow to help the welfare of people. If I was driving to Florida on vacation I wouldn't leave on bad tires, knowing the problems that could exist. Vote on May 13th! Give this serious thought and compare the ADVANTAGES with the DISADVANTAGES.

VOTE YES!

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Freda Rexrode and Family
Swanton

Dear Editor:

I appreciate The Republican's efforts in objectively presenting the facts concerning the Garrett County Memorial Hospital's Building and Renovation Project. As I'm sure you realize, our hospital is suffering from "growing pains" and is in desperate need of updating and modernization. Our medical staff has grown considerably over recent years in numbers and ability. In order to bring needed and vital services to the people of Garrett County, the hospital must respond with people, equipment and space. The community's support of the hospital will give us the opportunity to continue to grow, to attract more physicians and meet our county's medical needs.

I feel certain that if the people of Garrett County know the facts, they will realize how necessary this project is to the future of health care in our county. I personally urge each and every person in Garrett County to vote yes on May 13 for your hospital.

Sincerely, Thomas G. Johnson,
M.D.

Area Businessmen To Attend Seminar

A group of ten members of the Garrett County Development Corporation will travel to Hagerstown Thursday, May 8, for a workshop on the Prospect Readiness Improving Maryland's Economy (PRIME) program, a self-help program through which counties, in partnership with the State, can improve their preparedness for business and industrial development.

The main idea behind the program, according to Tom Jones, county director of planning, is to attract more industry to Maryland and its counties.

The committee of ten from Garrett County, after receiving the training, will perform an "inventory of assets" in the county which would be attractive to industry either as possible location for the industry or opportunities for investment.

The committee will also contact businesses present in the county to determine their satisfaction with the county and to discover their plans for further expansion in the county. Responses from those companies will help the committee determine areas needing improvement.

The State will aid each county participating in the program both financially and promotionally after the county has met specific requirements and becomes certified as a PRIME participant.

Jones pointed out one advantage of the program is that promises made to a prospective business by a committee composed of members of the county business community will be more credible than a single representative.

6 Ways to Save

1. Study the service manual to get the most mileage out of your car's gas and oil money.
2. Save on insurance costs by paying premiums annually or semi-annually (rather than monthly or quarterly) and by renewing property insurance for longer periods. Consider larger deductible amounts on auto insurance to reduce premiums.
3. Don't over-buy on children's clothes. Keep in mind how fast sizes are outgrown, and with today's washers and dryers, you don't really need as many changes of clothing. (The same applies to household linens and many other items).
4. Learn stain removal, mending, repairing and remodeling to get more wear out of your clothing dollars.
5. Save on cleaning bills—and on ironing time—by buying sturdy wash-and-wear for children's clothing and your own play clothes.
6. Any garment that just hangs in your closet represents wasted money. Keep that in mind whenever you're buying clothing and make sure it "goes with" what you have, and that you'll wear it.

Republican Women Attend Conference

Five Republican women from Garrett County traveled to Washington, D. C., last Thursday to join over 300 Republican women across the state in celebrating a "Special Event" on Capitol Hill.

Those attending from Garrett County were Mrs. Wilma Calhoun, Glenna DeWitt, Mary Kight, Ireta Callis, and Brenda Butscher.

The women first went to the Dirksen Senate Office Building where they were briefed on world affairs and domestic issues by Senator William Roth of Delaware, and Senator Richard Lugar of Indiana. From there, they were taken to the Russell Senate Office Building, where a luncheon was served. Senator Barry Goldwater was the featured speaker at the luncheon.

Additional speakers through the day included Senator Charles Mathias, Larry Hogan, Republican National Committee; Dr. Allan Levey, Republican State Chairman; and Congresswoman Majorie Holt.

This "Special Event" was sponsored by the Maryland Federation of Republican Women, and the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Flora Bressler, State President of the organization.

Farmers May Place Corn In Grain Reserve

Corn farmers who did not participate in the 1979 feed grain program will be allowed to place a limited quantity of corn in the farmer-owned grain reserve, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The action was taken following the April 11 signing of authorizing legislation by President Carter, to help farmers isolate additional corn stocks from the marketplace and strengthen market prices.

Crowl said this option for previously ineligible corn farmers will be available on a first-come, first served basis until approximately 295 million bushels (7.5 million metric tons) of previously ineligible corn have been placed in the reserve, or May 15, whichever comes first. This offer may be terminated at any time, Crowl said.

Crowl said farmers who did participate in the 1979 feed grain program and who currently have corn under a regular nine-month price support loan will continue to be eligible to enter their grain into the reserve, regardless of how many bushels of previously ineligible corn go into the reserve.

Farmers who wish to take advantage of this change should contact their local county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Program non-participants will receive the same reserve loan rate for their corn ($2.10 per bushel) as do program participants, but will not be eligible for the waiver of first-year interest charges. Non-participants will remain ineligible for USDA's regular nine-month price support loans, Crowl said.

USDA has been purchasing corn to help support prices, following the January 4 announcement by the president to suspend grain shipments to the Soviet Union in excess of 8 million metric tons per year. Since that announcement, the Department has purchased approximately 59 million bushels (1.5 million tons) of corn and accepted into the farmer-owned grain reserve 197 million bushels (5.0 million tons) of corn. The total quantity of corn now in the reserve is approximately 812 million bushels (20.6 million tons).

Adoptive Parents To Meet Friday

The Adoptive Parents' Group will meet Friday, May 2, at 7 p.m., at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland. The group will complete work on a brochure intended to provide public information about adoption. Members of the group will report on books and articles concerning adoption and parenting.

Interested persons are encouraged to attend, and babysitting will be provided. Persons wanting more information should contact Sue Seaks, 334-4282, or Russell Sines, 334-3445.

Laubach Literacy Training Workshop To Be Conducted

Mary Yardumian, Pittsburgh, will conduct a Laubach Literacy Training Workshop Friday and Saturday, May 2-3 at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Bittering. Ms. Yardumian, who is a tutor trainer sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women, will hold the workshop Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Laubach Literacy Training is a program aimed to train tutors to teach persons to read English, even those who speak a different language.

Norma Jean Mitchell, of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, noted that the workshop was for members of groups sponsoring refugee families in the county. Another reason was because of the high number of people in Garrett County who cannot read.

Persons interested in attending the workshop should contact Norma Jean Mitchell, 345-4289. There will be a charge for materials distributed during the workshop. Persons attending the workshop have been asked to bring their own lunch on Saturday.

Bender Selects GCC To Pursue Sports Career

Garrett County sports fans will have further opportunity to watch Bill Bender continue his athletic excellence next season. Bender will pursue his athletic career in the basketball and baseball programs at Garrett Community College.

Randy Hess, head basketball coach at GCC stated, "Bill's statistics indicate that he can score, rebound, and is a team player." Bender scored 616 points for a 28.6 average to set the single season scoring record for the Huskies. He made 242 of 493 shots from the floor for 49% and 154 of 234 free throws for 66%. He also led Northern in steals and assists while collecting 309 rebounds. "Bill is also an intelligent player and a great competitor," stated the GCC mentor.

Bender's talents are not limited to basketball. He collected 24 hits, tying a school record last season, while batting .500. He plays first base and pitches for the Huskies. "We are extremely pleased Bill has decided to enroll at Garrett. He will help our offensive attack and pitching staff tremendously," said Laker baseball coach Phil Caruso.

Bender excels in the classroom as well. He is a 4.0 student in addition to his sports expertise. "The fact that he is an A student is a credit to Bill and a valuable asset to the GCC program," noted Coach Hess. Bender will major in business administration.

Bender was a first time all-area selection in basketball. He is one of the top athletes ever to play in Garrett County. His high school coach, Harv Speicher, had the following to say about Bender: "Bill was a very dedicated team player who will be missed very much at Northern High School next year. I feel he will be a great asset to the GCC basketball and baseball program."

Bender is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bender, and makes his home in Grantsville.

Huskies Triumph Over Valley, 6-5

A five-run lead in the third inning and the finishing touch in the fifth gave the Northern High School Baseball Team a 6-5 triumph over Valley Tuesday afternoon at Accident.

John Beiler singled home Darrell Schrock, who had opened the fifth inning with a base hit, with what proved to be the winning run for the Huskies. The Huskies early lead came from a two-run single by Mark Diehl, who then scored the third run, and a two-run double by Lee Schwartzbeck.

Bill Bender was the winning pitcher for the Huskies. Rich Connor was the Valley pitcher. Dave Broadwater hit a two-run double for the Black Knights in the top of the seventh inning, but was left stranded.

Tim Yunker and Beiler both hit safely twice for Northern and Broadwater had three of Valley's seven safeties.

Coach Bob Yunker's Huskies, now 6-3, play tonight at Flintstone and Thursday at Beall.

Mall Run Draws County Runners

Four Garrett County runners were among the 153 who turned out for the first Cumberland Mall ten kilometer run Saturday, April 26. The 6.2 mile run, sponsored by the First People's Community Federal Credit Union, drew 138 men and 15 women, ages ranging from 9 to 64.

Overall winner for the race was Don Norman of Allegheny Junior College of Pittsburgh who averaged under five minutes per mile in the run which began on the Mall, proceeded eventually to the Evitts Creek Bridge on Industrial Boulevard and finished where it started.

Bill Pope, Mt. Lake Park, finished third in the master's category (age group 40-49) and 41st overall. He clocked in a time of 40:08.0.

Others from Garrett County who finished the race were Mike Kozier, McHenry, who placed 48th overall with a time of 41:01.2; George Nogle, McHenry, who placed 53rd overall with 41:25.4; and Ed Wawzinski, Mt. Lake Park, who placed 78th with 44:37.8.

Plaques and merchandise were awarded to the top three finishers in each category. All entrants received T-shirts. The race was organized by the Queen City Striders.

Russell Drenning, Dave Crossland, Larry Gnegy and Paul Pratt. Louise Martin, the department's secretary, was deputized to serve papers and assist female prisoners. Five dispatchers are also employed by the department.

In addition to general police activities, the department is responsible for the security and transporting of all prisoners housed in the county jail. A warden and two correctional officers maintain security inside the Garrett County Jail, aided by deputies when necessary. The Sheriff's Department also provides courtroom security.

Deputies investigate criminal offenses and answer complaints, such as domestic or family disturbances and bar room fights, noted by deputies as the most common and dangerous disturbances. In these cases, and many others, officers must deal with emotional or intoxicated people, often "talking them down," calming them and discussing their problem and possible court action. A large part of investigative procedures is the gathering of evidence.

Deputies also issue traffic citations, direct traffic and occasionally assist the Maryland State Police in responding to accidents. All deputies are "on call" 24-hours a day and the force provides round-the-clock coverage of the county in all kinds of weather. The department has three work shifts, and officers rotate working day, evening and all-night shifts.

Deputies conduct patrol checks every evening for businesses and private homes, and serve papers relating to all matters, including arrest warrants, juvenile petitions and grand jury indictments, and papers for both District and Circuit Courts. The department will check private residences when notified to do so while the resident is away. They also provide assistance to the Garrett County Health Department when called upon, in dealing with emotionally disturbed patients and the possible transporting of patients. In addition, officers of the law must continually study the laws and update information, as laws change so frequently, said one deputy.

Persons must be between the ages of 21 and 35, with the exception of trained officers, to seek employment as an officer with the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. The Garrett County Commissioners determine the number of officers on the force. Once hired, the deputy must complete 12 weeks of training and education at the Western Maryland Police Academy, within one year's time. The minimum training required at the academy is 350 credit hours, which includes 55 hours of physical training, 40 hours of firearms training and 40 hours of crash injury management, dealing with first aid and CPR.

In general, officers must also be trained in all police duties and situations, techniques, court procedures, communications, safety and good judgment, record-keeping, crime prevention, crisis intervention (dealing with extremely emotional individuals), investigative procedures, scientific aids, team training, dealing with situations involving explosives, sociology, public relations, general and specific laws and emergency driving (high-speed pursuit). Students are also required to tour a Medical Examiner's Office, the Maryland Correctional Institution, the FBI and Crime Lab.

Each officer must return to the academy for firearms requalification every year, and must complete one week of in-service training every two years. Many officers have additional training in FBI procedures and fingerprints, and many attend specialized training programs.

Deputy Steve Beeman is a K-9 officer. Deputy Beeman's dog is owned by the department, but is always with him when he is on duty. He and the dog completed 14 weeks of canine training in Easton, and must return each month for a two-day training period.

This writer was given the opportunity to patrol with Deputy Nolan on the evening shift. The experience provided me with a first-hand view of a policeman's responsibilities and his keen awareness of everything around him and of all possible crimes.

Upon entering the car, Deputy Nolan explained that he had specifically requested the number of the late Deputy Dave Livengood's vehicle, number 1462. Deputy Livengood was the first deputy in Garrett County killed in the line of duty, when he was shot while responding to a breaking and entering at Davidson's Army/Navy Store in Oakland. Deputy Nolan went on to say that the numbers of the vehicle add up to 13! This information added to my already increasing uneasiness.

The uneasiness I felt is probably quite similar to what most police officers feel when they begin their shift or patrol. When a call comes in over the radio, the policeman has to respond. This is his job. He does not know what he will encounter, who he will have to deal with, or how dangerous a situation may be. Deputy Nolan said, "It goes with the territory . . . when your wife kisses you goodby, it may really be goodbye."

Inside the police car I sat beside a 12-gauge shotgun. The seat and dash were filled with communications equipment, including state and county channels and CB, a camera and binoculars, switches for a PA system, a siren and other pertinent equipment. Deputy Nolan explained that numerous other pieces of equipment are carried in the trunk of the vehicle, including processing and crime kits, a first aid kit, and a fire extinguisher. He said that when stopping a felon, a police officer often uses his vehicle for protection, and the outdoor PA system for communication with the individual.

The radio communications code utilized by the department is a "10" code, beginning with 10-00 and having a code for 100 situations or common communications, ending with 10-99. These codes must be learned by each officer, and

The Friday night patrol began in Oakland and spread out through various surrounding communities, covering back roads, businesses and places where crime occurs most often. Deputy Nolan checked everything which could be considered even remotely suspicious. He kept in close contact with the dispatcher while in pursuit of a vehicle, and notified him of all stops and procedures. His attention was focused in many areas, including the radio communications, listening to cars passing by, and observing all surrounding areas of the vehicle and other vehicles. He stated that Friday and Saturday nights generally bring with them the most commotion, commonly found in the Oakland area and near Deep Creek Lake. He added that he tries to be within striking range of these areas, in the event that a crime will occur. Deputy Nolan said that just the sight of a police car driving through a particular area will deter possible crimes.

Much of his job is simply driving around and watching and listening. Deputy Nolan stated that, "there are three common things that kill a police officer: the first is boredom, such as driving and becoming accustomed to handling routine complaints . . . then when a crisis situation develops the officer's senses may be dulled or he may not be able to react as quickly or efficiently as he should. Or he may not recognize the danger faced in a situation. The two other common causes of death are a lack of back-up and faulty equipment."

Deputy Nolan stressed the point that, "when a police officer approaches a vehicle, he never really knows if that driver will blow his head off, be intoxicated, or create some similar problem for the officer. That is why each situation, even the most common ones, could be very dangerous to a police officer."

"Most important," said Deputy Nolan, "if you (the officer) come on the streets with family problems, improper rest or the wrong frame of mind, you're going to get yourself or someone else hurt." The attention and quick response of an officer "has to be something you can turn on and off like a faucet," he said.

Deputy Nolan explained that officers must be qualified for use of radar. The radar gun is tuned electronically and pointed at a car. If the vehicle is exceeding the speed limit the officer pulls the trigger which locks the speed in, to be shown, if necessary, to the speeding driver, explained Deputy Nolan.

Deputy Nolan said that "the success of a good police officer on the street relies a lot on the people working behind the scene . . . the dispatcher is our life-line." He added that "the biggest aid a police officer has is concerned, alert citizens. If you see a crime, you should report it."

It was explained by the department that a police officer can only charge an individual upon investigation or witnessing of an offense. Many times the officer will arrive after the offense has been committed and is not a witness, in which case the officer will encourage the victim to press charges. "Often while responding to a domestic complaint, however, an officer will attempt to restrain the attacker and be attacked by the victim," said Deputy Nolan.

"If an officer can handle most things on the street, it is best," said Deputy Nolan, "because the judicial system lets them go." He went on to say that "when the system breaks down or fails, that's when your (the police officer's) patience comes in." Deputy Nolan fears that "more people will be taking justice into their own hands," when justice is not found in the court system.

Deputy Nolan has been an officer "off and on for five years," two years with the Sheriff's Department. He said that the most distressing incident he has encountered is the morning when Deputy Livengood was killed. Deputy Nolan apparently was the first to arrive at the scene and had to stay there with the body until the afternoon. He said, "I looked at Dave, and a picture of my family flashed in my mind, and I thought, my God, what if it was me?"

Deputy Nolan and other deputies said that a large part of police work is making split-second decisions that may cost a person his life. Officers must be trained to make these decisions, and they must make the right decision. "This is a big responsibility," said Deputy Evans. "A lawyer will spend weeks picking apart a decision made by an officer in one second!" he added.

Deputy Nolan said that "80 percent of a police officer's job should be prevention of crime. I'm not out here to harass or hurt anybody." The patrol car travels approximately 100 miles a day, covering all areas within the city limits, as well as Broadford Recreation Park, which is also Oakland property. "You never want to set a pattern in your driving," Seeders said. "That way, no one will ever be sure just exactly where you are at any given time. The town of Oakland is a lot of area for one man to cover," he added.

Officer Seeders first demonstrated the radar gun. He parked the patrol car in front of Kountry Image on South Third Street. Within 15 seconds, there appeared an automobile traveling north on Third. With the store. I wonder how many officers encounter similar feelings in an average work day? Deputy Nolan said, "you get used to it after awhile."

City Police

By Don Sincell

The hours are bad, the pay is terrible, there are no benefits, the job is dangerous, the public pressure can be overwhelming, there is little appreciation and there is almost no room for promotions. So why would anyone want to be an Oakland City Police officer?

"I can't speak for all officers, but I do it because I enjoy serving the public," said Jim Seeders, a member of the city force. "There's almost no other reason to want to be a city policeman," he said.

There are presently six Oakland City police officers, including Chief Hobart Shillingburg, Sgt. Roger Lewis, Cpl. Denver Welch, Roger White, Gary Shope and Jim Seeders. All have taken, or will be taking, three months of training at the police academy in Hagerstown. They also attend various seminars on law enforcement periodically.

In order to obtain a good idea as to what is involved in being a city policeman, this writer went on a Saturday evening tour of duty with Officer Seeders. While the evening turned out to be a rather quiet one, it still provided an insight into many of the duties for which an officer is responsible, duties which most citizens never consider or just take for granted.

Upon entering the passenger side of the patrol car, it became immediately evident that law enforcement is serious business. Directly in front of me, mounted to the dash board, was a 12-gauge shotgun. To my left, perched upon the seat, was a radar gun. There were bars separating the back seat area from the front. Between those bars rested two flashlights. A night stick was strategically placed on the back of the seat, immediately behind the driver. Mounted under the dash was a low-band communications radio and on top rested a bound manual, entitled Maryland Vehicle Law.

The patrol car travels approximately 100 miles a day, covering all areas within the city limits, as well as Broadford Recreation Park, which is also Oakland property. "You never want to set a pattern in your driving," Seeders said. "That way, no one will ever be sure just exactly where you are at any given time. The town of Oakland is a lot of area for one man to cover," he added.

Officer Seeders first demonstrated the radar gun. He parked the patrol car in front of Kountry Image on South Third Street. Within 15 seconds, there appeared an automobile traveling north on Third. With the flick of a button, the radar gun showed that the driver was traveling 44 miles per hour in a 25 mph zone. Officer Seeders pulled him over and gave him a warning.

"Although many may not believe it, most officers do not enjoy giving tickets. We are interested primarily in prevention of violations, not prosecution of those who are in violation," Seeders said. "With many persons, a warning is enough to slow them down for a long time."

Officer Seeders said that the person who violates the law over and over is the one that must be ticketed. "There are a lot of children in the residential areas and those children, along with everyone else, need protection from persons who continually 'rip' through town."

Seeders stated that people want law enforcement, and yet sometimes those who scream the loudest about the alleged lack of law enforcement are the most obnoxious when they are the ones who are stopped for speeding. "Some can be pretty arrogant," he said.

Besides watching for motor violations, another major concern of city police officers is security of businesses and private property. Buildings within the city limits are under surveillance every night. The officer becomes so familiar with the downtown business establishments, for example, that anything which is different or unusual is noticed almost immediately by the officer, such as a light that is not usually on, a loose security chain on a door which is usually secure, a window that is not usually open, a vehicle that is not usually in a particular location, or an unusual motion. "Drug and Jewelry stores are key targets for a criminal," Seeders said.

A keen eye and alertness is necessary to be a good officer. All evening long, Officer Seeders would say things like, "Did you see that boy standing behind that car?"

"Where?" I'd say.

"Did you see that car with only one taillight?"

"Where?"

"Did you notice that open window?"

"Where?"

"Did you notice how many persons were in the front seat of that car?"

"What car?"

All of these things went unnoticed by me and it became evident that, just as in every profession, it takes experience and practice to be a good officer.

Suddenly Officer Seeders noticed a car two blocks away which appeared to have no license tags. He slipped on the blue flashing stereo lights and pursued the vehicle, passing another car in the process. As we approached the vehicle in question, it became clear that it did have tags, however the lettering was completely faded. Seeders turned off his lights and returned to his regular duty tour.

"Now the guy driving that other car that we passed is probably saying, 'Dumb cop! What's he think he's doing?' not realizing that I had a perfectly good reason for pursuing that car," Seeders said.

Although we had no such calls that evening, being summoned to intervene in domestic quarrels and bar fights is a common duty of a city policeman. "We try to talk both parties down and help them work out their differences in a civilized manner. Again, we would rather not have to make arrests. Prevention is the key word," Seeders said.

When arrests are made, an officer must then spend a considerable amount of time filling out reports. Often, he must remain at work after his duty tour has ended, just to complete all the paper work. "Sometimes it takes most of one shift just to process one

Although most tours of duty are routine, an officer can never afford to become complacent, lazy or lax. The tragic death of county deputy David Livengood last year made it quite clear that such crimes can occur even here in Oakland. The persons responsible for these types of crimes often realize that a town such as Oakland may be a good target, simply because people take it for granted that it won't happen here. The Oakland City Police Department is well aware of the possibilities and knows it is vital to the security of the town never to think otherwise.

For approximately $7,400 a year, and all of the other qualities of the job listed in the first paragraph of this article, one must salute the fine efforts and admire the dedication of the members of the Oakland City Police. They obviously aren't in it for the money. They are indeed, serving the public.

Several Injured In Auto Mishaps

Four persons escaped serious injury in an accident last Sunday on U. S. 219, one mile south of the Accident-Bear Creek Road. Ruby Kathryn Margroff, 37, Accident, was traveling northbound on U. S. 219 when she was struck by a southbound car operated by William Thomas Swindell, Jr., Bladensburg. After the collision, Mrs. Margroff's vehicle was pushed into the guardrails, and came to a final rest in the road.

Both vehicles were disabled in the mishap. Passengers in the Swindell vehicle were Michael Steven Gray, Hyattsville; and Robert Davis, Silver Spring.

In a separate accident, Jerry Hobart Shillingburg, 32, Aurora, W. Va., was injured in a single vehicle mishap last Saturday on U. S. Route 50, approximately 200 feet from the Table Rock Road intersection, when the tie rod end on the vehicle apparently came loose, causing the car to veer to the right, striking the guardrail and rolling over an embankment.

A private vehicle transported Shillingburg to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released. The 1969 Chevrolet was damaged in the front end and right side.

Brett Cameron McFarland, 22, of Sykesville, escaped injury last Thursday evening when the car he was driving along U. S. Route 48, near the bridge over Bear Creek, ran off the roadway, continued up the embankment, and overturned several times.

McFarland was charged by Maryland State Police with negligent driving. The 1974 Ford Pinto was estimated a total loss.

A vehicle driven by Merlin Wayne Yoder, 24, Bittering, was traveling southbound on Maryland Route 495, near the Rock Lodge Road, when a second vehicle, driven by William Lee Gaitther, 27, Oakland, approaching from the northbound lane, suddenly went out of control, spinning around in the path of the Yoder car, causing an unavoidable collision.

A passenger in the Yoder car, Brenda Orendorf, was apparently unhurt. Northern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Gaitther to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Gaitther was charged by Maryland State Police with traveling at speed greater than reasonable.

Mumps Immunization Clinic Slated

Recently cases of mumps have been reported in several areas of Garrett County, according to the Health Department. Mumps, an acute viral disease, is characterized by fever and swelling of one or more of the salivary glands, usually the parotid. Serious complications, although rare, may involve impaired fertility, brain infection or hearing loss from this disease, according to the Department.

Parents are encouraged by the Health Department to check their child's shot record to see if they have received an immunization against mumps. The vaccine may be given anytime after 15 months of age and protects 95% of recipients against the disease.

Parents needing to have their children immunized against mumps are being urged to go to their physician or the Health Department. Clinic hours for receiving mumps immunization at the Health Department are from 1-8 p.m. on Friday, May 2, at the Oakland Center.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 334-8111 or 895-5050 for Grantsville residents.

Sheriff's Office Investigates Area Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department received numerous reports of thefts and breaking and entering last week. Two reports of jewelry stolen from area residences were received.

Jane Saunders, Oakland, reported the theft of several rings and cash removed from her home sometime between February 28 and April 6, when the items were discovered missing. Loss value is estimated at $1,400.

Myrna Kahl, Deer Park, reported a similar incident which occurred sometime during the winter months. Ms. Kahl recently discovered that four rings and a necklace had been removed from an area of her home. Loss value is undetermined at this time.

In a separate incident, Vincent Sortino, Pittsburgh, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his summer residence on Paradise Point and Ridge Road. The incident apparently occurred sometime between April 20 and 27, when unknown persons pried open the lock on a sliding glass door and entered the dwelling.

Taken from the dwelling was a 19-inch RCA color TV, an AM/FM stereo 8-track Multi-Plex System, a toaster, a case of Royal Crown whiskey in one-half gallon bottles, a buffet electric frying pan, a Kodak instamatic camera, five fishing rods and reels, and two tackle boxes.

Total loss value is approximately $949.

Glades Rhodes of Mt. Lake Park reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his residence sometime between October 18 and April 23, when he returned from a winter vacation. Mr. Rhodes found that someone had entered his out building and taken a riding lawnmower, valued at $300.

A thermopane window was broken to gain entrance to the out building. Loss value of the window is approximately $125. The Sheriff's Office reported that several juveniles are believed to be involved in the case. Several individuals have been questioned.

A theft was reported by Rick Seifert. The incident occurred at his residence on Underwood Road outside of Oakland.

Mr. Seifert apparently was preparing for an auction when unknown persons entered upon his property and removed a silo unloader, green in color, brand name "Badger". Loss value is estimated at $200.

A breaking and entering and theft was reported by Maurice Smith, Rockville. The incident occurred at his summer home on Shingle Camp Road, sometime between March 2 and April 19. Unknown persons went into the home and removed three sleeping bags and three ski vests. Total loss value is approximately $175.

In a separate case, Ernest Gano, Frostburg, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred on Piney Run Road in Garrett County, sometime between April 25 and 27. Unknown persons broke into his barn and removed seven bags of fertilizer, valued at $105.

Patricia Powles, Mt. Lake Park, reported a stolen automobile on April 25 at 10 p.m. Her car was taken when it was parked at Route 39 in Crellin. The vehicle was recovered the next day at 2 p.m., parked on Old Crellin Road.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department made 11 arrests last week.

Thomas Deal Houck, 58, Baltimore, was arrested April 22 for soliciting and collecting funds for the Maryland Fire-fighter Newspaper, Senior Citizens News, and Veterans News, all papers which apparently do not exist. Funds were solicited throughout the county for ads in these seemingly non-existent newspapers.

According to police reports, Houck claimed he was working for a man out of Baltimore. Police report that he was representing a fictitious organization, and the Sheriff's Department cautions businessmen to check into the legitimacy of newspapers before entering into such an agreement, or check into a permit for solicitation at the Sheriff's Department.

Houck was released April 24 when he posted $100 bond.

Nancy Schmidt, 31, was incarcerated April 22 for failure to appear in court. She was released the same day when she posted $100 bond.

Bernard Eugene McKenzie, 20, was arrested April 23 for a bad check charge. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

David Russell B. Hinger, 26, was arrested April 23 for a bad check charge, and was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Also on April 23, a 17-year-old juvenile was arrested for assault, resisting arrest and having an inadequate exhaust system on a vehicle. He was released the same day to his parents.

Michael Wayne Kent, 20, was incarcerated last Thursday for assault and hindering a police officer. He was released the same day on unsecured bond.

Benjamin Lewis Lower, 18, was arrested April 23 for assault and hindering a police officer. He was released the same day on unsecured bond.

Joseph Graham, 19, was incarcerated April 23 for theft. He was released two days later when he posted $75 bond.

William Teets, 19, was arrested Saturday for breaking and entering, theft, trespassing, and misdemeanor. He is still incarcerated, held on $100 bond.

George Carpenter, 22, was arrested Sunday for destruction of property to a motor vehicle. Carpenter was released the same day when he posted $250 bond.

Steven Grubb, 22, was incarcerated Sunday for destruction of property to a motor vehicle. He was released the same day when he posted $250 bond.

In other police business, the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week received a report of a breaking and entering and theft at Red House School. The incident occurred during the night of April 15, when unknown persons broke the lock from the school's outdoor shed and removed a Bolens combination lawnmower and snowblower. The loss value is unknown at this time, police said.

Mike Kildow, Mt. Lake Park, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred sometime between April 10 and 12. Unknown persons entered his home and removed a bank containing approximately $250 in cash.

In a separate incident, Garrett Davy, Oakland, reported a destruction of property which occurred on April 18. Unknown persons rolled a small trailer from Davy's yard into some trees on property belonging to Elwood Jamison.

Davy reported a loss value of $100 to his trailer. Jamison reported $25 damage to his trees.

Jamison also reported a destruction of property which occurred between April 1 and 14 while he was away from his residence. His school bus, which was parked near his dwelling, was damaged when unknown subjects broke the turn signals, rear tail lights and the outside mirror. Loss value is estimated at $75.

In a separate case, Debra DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park, reported a destruction of property which occurred on April 17 while she was away from her home. Unknown subject shattered her left garage door window, resulting in a loss value of $5.

Allan Sisler, Deer Park, reported a destruction of property which occurred during the night of April 12. Unknown persons struck his mailbox with a motor vehicle. Loss value is unknown at this time.

Richard Reall, 23, was arrested by the Sheriff's Department April 20 in connection with a theft charge. He was released on $150 bond the same day.

Education Board To Meet Tonight

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold its fourth and final evening meeting of this school year at the Northern Middle School this evening, April 30, at 7:30 p.m., in the cafeteria.

A brief budget progress update will be given to all in attendance. Following this presentation the patrons and public present will be given an opportunity to ask questions or make comments related to any aspect of the Garrett County Public Schools, according to the Board.

First Responder Nursing Workshop To Begin May 7

A four-day nursing workshop, entitled "The Nurse as a First Responder," will be held May 7-8 and 14-15 at Allegany Community College and the Finan Center in Cumberland. The first three days of the workshop will be held in the Continuing Education Building at ACC and the last day will be held at the Finan Center, which is located on Clubhouse Road. The workshop will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Sponsored by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIEMSS) this four-day First Responder Workshop is designed to teach the nurse initial management and treatment of the acutely ill or injured. DeCorsey Bolden Seeks Election As Delegate To GOP Convention Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Garrett, Allegany) recently announced his name will appear on the May 13 primary ballot in the sixth congressional district as a candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention.

Bolden, who is the county coordinator for the Reagan for President Committee, noted that he has been authorized as Ronald Reagan's official delegate to the convention to be held in Detroit.

Bolden emphasized that even though he supports Reagan as the Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, if elected as delegate, he would be bound to vote during the convention for the candidate who wins the sixth district. He added that three delegates will be elected in each of the eight congressional districts in Maryland. Those 24 elected delegates will accompany six delegates appointed by the Republican State Central Committee as the Maryland delegation to the convention.

"America desperately needs enlightened and decisive leadership during the uncertain times which face us and Ronald Reagan can and will provide that needed leadership," Bolden said.

One of the reasons he supports Reagan is because of Reagan's performance as governor of California. "He showed great capability in managing that state," he stated. If California were a sovereign nation, it would be the seventh largest in the world.

Citizens Conduct Litter Pick-Up

Seventeen concerned citizens cleaned up nine miles of country roads around Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 22 and 23, according to park rangers at Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks. These people collected 99 bags of roadside litter along Maple Glade, Cranesville, Herrington Manor, and Swallow Falls Roads. Park Personnel hauled four loads of bagged refuse to county dumpsters.

The participants were divided into groups to cover the various areas. Safety vests were provided for those working along the county roads.

This project was undertaken during Earth Week, to improve the physical appearance to our environment. Park personnel participating in the litter pick-up included Debbie Chesonis, Park Ranger/Interpreter; Flo Smith, Seasonal Ranger; Bob Friend, Interpretive Specialist; and YACC crew members: Pam Ford, Joe Lantz, Rick Butler, Jim Weeks, and Mark DeWitt. Gene Wheeler and her son Brian were there to help as well. Seven students from Garrett Community College were also able to attend—Karen Raber, Jane Roberts, Hillel Brandes, John Conforti, Rod Baldwin, Bryan Livingston, and Sam Bennett.

The Youghiogheny River along Swallow Falls Road and the Herrington Creek area along Herrington Manor Road had accumulated the most trash. These are areas where vehicles usually pull off the road, according to park rangers.

"Hopefully, our efforts will encourage people to be more careful where they deposit their litter," stated Ms. Chesonis.

Northern Middle To Present Plays For P.T.A.

The two eighth grade Language classes of Mrs. Frank at Northern Middle School will present two plays to parents and members of the Parent Teacher Association on Tuesday, May 6, in the school auditorium.

The plays were chosen and parts assigned by the language arts teacher as part of the grading criteria for the current semester. Each student is actively involved in some aspect of the production.

The cast of Snow White includes Lisa Zuckerman in the leading role, Greg Diehl as the Prince, Yvonne Sisler as the Queen, Kate Klotzbaugh as the Wicked Witch, Jeff Graham as the Huntsman, Michael Smith as the Boar, Warren Weimer, Darrell Yoder, Jeff Graham, and Jim Swauger as Servants, with Dan Holtschneider, Kim Moore, Mike K. Thomas, Mike Smith, Chip Frank, Melrose Hanft, and Roger Wilhelm as the Seven Dwarfs.

Directors are Carissa Selby and Vivian Richter. Scott Watkins and Amy Wellborn are narrators, with Lisa Wilson and Brenda Yoder as prompters. Sound effects will be handled by Lisa Maust, with lights and curtains by Doug Bittinger and Jim Swauger. Props and scenery are assigned to Darrell Yoder, Chip Frank, Chris Salmons, YOU'VE JUST GOT TO GET UP — This must be what the seven dwarfs are telling the heroine on behalf of the handsome prince. Kneeling, as the prince, is Greg Diehl, surrounded by the dwarfs, Mike K. Thomas, Melrose Hanft, Dan Holtschneider, Jim Moore, Mike Smith, Chip Frank, and Roger Wilhelm. These young people are performing in the eighth grade play at Northern Middle School.

BUT HANSEL, I'M SO AFRAID! — Perhaps that's just what Gretel is saying to her brother during the performance of the tale, "Hansel and Gretel," being presented by students from the eighth grade at Northern Middle School for the Parent-Teacher Association on Tuesday, May 6, in the school auditorium. Rebecca Tackett portrays Gretel, and Dwight Emory plays the part of her brother, Hansel.

TAKE THAT, YOU WILD AND CRAZY BEAST! — Jeff Graham, portraying the huntsman in the Northern Middle School's version of Snow White, makes short work of the wild boar, aptly played by Mike Smith. Two eighth grade classes perform before classmates in preparation for a presentation Tuesday, May 6, for the Parent-Teacher Association.

Venezuelan Man Attends GCC

by William P. Ewing
Director of Admissions, GCC

As the majority of students at Garrett Community College come from the immediate vicinity, it is gratifying and refreshing to have a student from a far off land. Pedro Felice has come to GCC from Caracas, Venezuela, a most diverse, and certainly different background, compared to the remainder of the student body.

The Felice family has its own beef ranch near Caracas with over 400 head of cattle. Following his graduation from high school in 1974, Pedro worked for his father on the ranch, and took courses at the University of Venezuela. Always desiring a better education, Pedro applied and was accepted at the University of Pittsburgh for the Fall Semester 1978. However, not being accustomed to urban life, Pedro made the decision to transfer to Garrett for the Spring Semester 1979.

Pedro is enrolled in the Agriculture Technology Program at GCC, and hopes to apply the techniques learned to his family's ranch when he returns. Animal Science, Farm Management, and Soil Management and Conservation are listed as his favorite courses. Pedro states "the sciences and technologies are more advanced in the United States and that is one of the reasons why the education system is more advanced."

Pedro is married and has a 13 month old son. His wife Yvonne hopes to enroll in some courses during the summer semester. This past Christmas was a special time for Pedro and his family, as they were able to return to Venezuela for the first time since the Fall of 1978. This also marked the first time Pedro's parents had seen their new grandson.

Pedro will complete his degree requirements this summer, and then plans to transfer to the University of Maryland or West Virginia to complete his Bachelors degree requirements. On commenting about Garrett County, Pedro states, "It's a friendly place with nice people. It is much more like home to me than Pittsburgh was."

Talent Contest Winners Announced

The second annual Friendsville Elementary School Talent Show was held recently in the school cafeteria.

A total of 55 students performed before an audience of parents, friends, and fellow classmates. A variety of acts occupied the stage throughout the afternoon, offering a medley of entertainment from the newest disco dancing and instrumental selections to baton twirling and vocal renditions. Comedy routines competed with gymnastic demonstrations, and acrobatic art forms equalled piano solos to please the onlookers.

When the judges made their final decision, Miss Shawna Sines was awarded the first place trophy for her performance of a disco dance routine. Miss Nina Luscombe was awarded the second place trophy for her performance of a flute solo. Honorable mention honors went to William Burrow for his vocal performance.

Each participant in the talent show received $1, jointly funded through the P.T.A. and the school account.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Teresa Saluja, Mrs. Mary Augustine, and Mr. Ralph Printz, all residents of Addison, Pa.

Scott Carr served as Master of Ceremonies. Ms. Joan Whetsel coordinated the program.

Miss Sines and Miss Luscombe will now compete in the Talent-O-Rama, sponsored by the Mountain Fellowship Center, Markleysburg, Pa. on May 9 as representatives of the Friendsville Elementary School.

DAVY CROCKETT COULDN'T HAVE SAID IT BETTER — He probably wouldn't have sung it any better than Billy Burrow, honorable mention winner in the Friendsville Elementary School Talent Show.

Picture Pretty

Pretty as a picture, isn't she? She looks "downright" angelic. Yet, five minutes from now, she may be a little bundle of fury!

Children change faster than the wind. They haven't learned to hide their feelings. But while grown-ups may present a better camouflage to the world, there are few of us without inner conflicts. And these conflicts can be serious.

It would be a lonely world if we had to keep all our problems to ourselves. We don't. God never intended that we should have to solve all our difficulties single-handed. Remember, He established His church on earth for U.S. In that Church we will find understanding fellowship, and the faith to work out our own destinies.

Take your problems to Church. Pray that you will find a solution to them. Talk them over with your minister. And what seems a maze today may become a straight road tomorrow.

ON "GETTING IT RIGHT"

Lesson for May 4, 1980

Background Scriptures:
1 John 3:1-18, 4:7 through 5:21

Devotional Reading:
1 John 3:1-18

If I had my way — which I don't — I would make the reading of 1 John mandatory in each and every church every Sunday morning — until as Christians we "get it right!"

Why 1 John? Because this episode puts the very essence of being a Christian in the clearest, most uncompromising language. Of course, we "know" that God is love and that, as followers of Christ, we are to love one another as he loved us. But many of us are like the little boy who was disciplined by his teacher to writing on the chalkboard 100 times: "I will not throw spitballs in class." He "knew" he wasn't supposed to disrupt the class, but his "knowing" did not keep him from doing it. By the time he finished writing this affirmation on the board, I think we can assume that he "knew" it a lot better than before.

By This We Know
In a similar manner we also "know" about Christian love, but we don't frequently enough give the appearance of having "gotten it right." This is why 1 John is so challenging to us. What is the central "message?"

1 John also helps us to realize that what God in Christ wants from us is not necessarily loving feelings and declarations, but loving deeds. The test of Christ's love was "that he laid down his life for us," and the test of our love is, not how we feel about those infuriating Communists and disturbing John Birchers (our angry feelings are more than justified), but how we act toward them. For the test of our love is the same as our Lord's: "We ought to lay down our lives for the brethren" (3:16).

Spring Wildflower Walks Scheduled For This Weekend

The Maryland Forest and Park Services will sponsor Spring Wildflower Walks on May 3 and 4 in the area state forests and parks. Phone reservations are required for the walks, and will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis.

The walks conducted on May 3 will be at Savage River State Forest, located in central and eastern Garrett County, south of U. S. Route 40; and at Green Ridge State Forest, located about twenty miles east of Cumberland, off U. S. Route 40. For reservations to the Savage River Wildflower Walk, persons should call 895-5759 or 895-5453. Reservations to the Green Ridge Wildflower Walk may be obtained by calling 478-2991.

Garrett Fourth In Hay Production

Frederick County farmers produced 137,900 tons of hay in 1979, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. This was 23 percent of the total hay crop in Maryland.

Other top hay producing counties in order of rank were: Carroll, 74,100 tons; Washington, 60,000 tons; Garrett, 47,500 tons; Harford, 46,800 tons; Cecil, 37,700 tons; Montgomery, 37,400 tons; and Baltimore with 33,800 tons.

Hay production in 1979 totaled 606,000 tons for the State, 25,000 tons less than the 1978 crop. Per acre yields averaged 2.50 tons compared with 2.53 tons in 1978.

Communicative Disorders Number One Disability

One out of every ten persons in Maryland suffers from a speech, language or hearing impairment, making communicative disorders the state's number one handicapping disability, according to the Maryland Speech and Hearing Association.

According to the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA), the 35,000-member, non-profit society of speech-language pathologists and audiologists, many people with communicative disorders suffer needlessly because they don't know where to turn for help. Nationally, over $1.75 billion in earnings are lost each year due to communicative disorders. ASHA says professional help is available. For information persons should write the Maryland Speech and Hearing Association, 9186 Wintercorn Lane, Columbia, MD 21045.

Fuelwood For Your Heating Needs

By Michael R. Gregory,
Maryland Forest Service

Over the past ten years, with the sharp rises in heating fuel prices, more and more people have been searching for cheaper alternate heating fuel sources. In Western Maryland many homeowners have found the solution to this problem by heating their homes either wholly or partially with wood.

With so many families finding the answer to their heating problems in wood the question arises of where to get wood. There are a number of private firewood cutters who will cut, split, deliver, and even stack an order of firewood at your back door for anywhere from 30 to 75 dollars a cord. For those who are new to the firewood market a standard cord measures 4 feet high, 4 feet long, and 8 feet wide, or 128 cubic feet. One should be aware of this fact as firewood is also sold in face cords which are not as long. Confusion of these two units of measurement could result in your paying more than a reasonable price for your wood.

Another source of firewood for those who wish to invest some of their own time and muscle are the state forests in Garrett County. Both Potomac-Garrett and Savage River

State Forests have programs to meet the needs of the public for fuelwood.

Most firewood cutters prefer to cut deadwood since the wood has already begun to dry, it is easier to split, and ready to burn. In order to cut deadwood for firewood on the state forests one must first obtain a permit. These permits are issued from the main headquarters of each state forest. The headquarters for Potomac-Garrett is located on Potomac Camp Road, 8 miles east of Oakland, while the Savage River office is located on the New Germany Road about 5 miles southeast of Grantsville. The cost per cord is $2.10 and individuals can get a permit for up to 5 cords. The individual has one month to cut each cord. For example, a person issued a permit for 3 cords of wood can cut it anytime during the 3 months after the permit is written, but after 3 months the permit will be voided whether he has cut the 3 cords or not. It should be noted that deadwood is recognized as any tree that is dead or lying down. Care must be taken during the fall and winter to make sure that leafless trees are in reality dead trees since unauthorized cutting of live timber on state land is against the law.

For those people who wish to cut live wood for firewood, Savage River State Forest has initiated a program to meet their needs. State foresters have established small plots of 1 and 2 acre blocks, each containing from 4 to 20 cords of marked live wood which individuals can buy on a small contract basis.

Cutters must put up a $50 returnable bond and sign a contract giving them exclusive rights to cut the marked timber on a specified block. The charge per cord for the wood is $2.50. Anyone interested in obtaining one of these live wood areas should contact Savage River State Forest at 895-5759.

There are a number of rules which should be observed by firewood cutters on the state forests. These rules are designed to make maximum use of the timber being cut, to prevent safety hazards to the general public, and to avoid conflicts with other forest users. The rules are as follows:

1. Keep all tree tops and brush at least 30' from the edge of the road.
2. Stumps must be no higher than 4" from the ground level.
3. All cut trees must be utilized to a 2" diameter.
4. The road must not be blocked at any time.
5. Firewood permit must be readily available for inspection by a forest officer whenever you are cutting firewood.

The rise in fuelwood consumption by the public over the past 5 years has been staggering. On Savage River State Forest 48 cords of fuelwood were cut in 1976. Compare that to the 900 cords that were cut this year and the demand for fuelwood by the public becomes quite apparent. The Maryland Forest Service recognizes the importance of our public lands to the people in this respect, and hopes to continue this type of service in the future.

County Arts Board Plans Craft Fete

The Garrett County Arts Council Board of Directors held its first meeting Monday, April 21 at Garrett Community College.

Among business items discussed were plans for a weekend traditional craft festival with entertainment provided by local musicians, dancers and performers in conjunction with the Deep Creek Lake Business Association's Summerfest II held at Deep Creek Lake June 28-29. Board member Ivan Rowe agreed to chair the committee to organize the crafts festival which would include securing artisans and craftsmen to participate in the festival. Each of the members agreed to contact possible entertainers for the event.

President Frances Acton stated she would arrange the exact location for the events.

In other business, the Board approved a matching fund request of $3,000 for the Penn Alps Crafts Fair and Quilt Festival to be held jointly in late July.

The Board established a committee to compile a county directory of entertainers, artists and craftsmen appointing Beverly Sincell chairman and Ivan Rowe as a committee member. Additional committee members were to be appointed from the general membership of the Arts Council. The Board defined the responsibility of the committee to be the location of musicians, dancers and other performers as well as artists and craftsmen who reside in Garrett County and to record their names, addresses and other information in a directory to be made available to the public.

Another topic discussed was the possibility of an annual historical pageant to be written and performed by county residents.

Other members present at the meeting were Bernadine Friend, Pam Hardesty, Mary Bowman, Robert Trantham and Joan Crawford.

Garrett County Ranks Seventh In Milk Production

Dairy herds in Frederick County produced 428.0 million pounds of milk in 1979. This output is 28 percent of the state's milk production, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Other top milk producing counties include Carroll with 249.0 million pounds, Washington with 207.0, Harford with 107.0, Cecil with 76.0, Montgomery with 76.0, Garrett with 72.5 and Kent with 60.0 million. These eight counties account for 84 percent of the production in Maryland during 1979.

Maryland's milk production totaled 1,520 million pounds in 1979, one percent below the 1978 production of 1,540 million pounds.

Reading Clinic For Children Set At Frostburg

A free Reading Clinic for elementary school children will be held at Frostburg State College this summer beginning July 22 and continuing until August 20, it was announced recently by Dr. Roger S. Dow, clinic director.

Dr. Dow said some junior high school students will also be admitted to the clinic on a space availability and need basis.

Clinic assessment will be conducted this Spring before the clinic begins. This assessment involves informal interviews with the child's parents, and diagnostic screening. High risk children, children who have been identified by the tri-state school systems as being likely candidates for reading failure, are given first priority. Second, priority is given to develop mentally disabled readers who need an extra push to get them started in the Fall on the right foot.

The number of children in the Clinic is determined by the enrollment of clinicians available from the diagnostic courses at the College. Each clinician is assigned a case load. Depending on the nature and severity of the difficulty, each clinician may have one, two, or more children for whom they are responsible. Each clinician keeps extensive records of the reading progress of the child, and a summary report is presented to the parents. In addition to this report, the clinician has a direct responsibility to communicate significant data to the parent via telephone or personal interview.

This year, there will be mini-courses for parents held during clinic hours. Topics will include comprehension and reading acquisition.

Additional information about the clinic and enrollment procedures can be obtained by calling 689-4294 or 689-4303 during the day. An evening answering service number, 689-4358, may also be called.

Hiatus doesn't mean vacation for stars

By RUTH THOMPSON

Question: Why do television stars talk about being on "hiatus" instead of on vacation?

Answer: Because during the break — a period of often up to four months between production seasons of an ongoing series (which is known in the industry as a hiatus) — only a few performers take real vacations. Most of them moonlight by doing strawhat stage productions, television movies, club dates or state fairs.

One of the few who's taking a real get-away-from-it-all holiday is Richard Bull. On television he's the henpecked Mr. Oleson in NBC's "Little House on the Prairie." In real life he is congenially married to Barbara Collette of whom he says, "She is such a good actress. I know she should work more. When we appeared in California in 'The Gin Game,' a critic compared us favorably to Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy, and that's praise indeed. But Bobbie and I both love to travel so much that we're not going to do any stage work this summer. We're going to travel the whole summer in Europe, and we're adding a new stop: Wales. No, neither of us has roots there, just it's a place we haven't seen before."

Except for a couple of weeks at his old Kentucky home (a farmhouse built by his great grandfather) Gary Sandy, who has an even higher energy quotient off-screen than as Andy, the program director on CBS's "WKRP in Cincinnati," will be out on the summer circuit in Ohio and Michigan co-starring with Lorna Luft in "Grease." It's a change of pace, says Gary, so he loves the idea.

Greg Evigan, on the other hand, wants no part of the stage during his hiatus from NBC's "BJ and the Bear." He especially would not want to do "Grease," because he had his fill of it as the lead in a Broadway and Chicago cast that also included John Travolta.

He and his wife Pam Serpe, who is his manager, agree that this is the summer to stay home in their country-French spread in the Hollywood Hills. But not to laze around. Greg, who has been composing music since his teens, has an album deal pending and what used to be their guest house is now a fully equipped studio to speed the recording project to fruition.

Besides, Greg has some summer variety specials coming up on television, guesting for "Pink Lady" and later "Debby Boone."

Gene Shalit (l.), Jane Pauley and Tom Brokaw inform and entertain NBC viewers Mondays through Fridays on "Today," the nation's longest-running morning news television program.

Hyde-White, of ABC's "The Associates," and Katherine Helmond, of "Soap."

Melissa Gilbert is another of TV's young talents who won't be idle. Between now and when she's called back to her Laura Ingalls role on "Little House on the Prairie," she will star in a new NBC television adaptation of "The Diary of Anne Frank." It's her second heavy dramatic role, the first being last summer's re-make of "The Miracle Worker."

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soapsters prove able to cope with strike

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — As anyone who has watched television news lately knows, the Big Apple had transportation troubles last month, to say the least. Effects of the transit strike affected the daytime scene, and all the New York-based soaps juggled chauffeured limousines and cars in order to get all their actors to the set on time. The strike also caused the postponement of the 17th anniversary party for "The Doctors."

However, at least three castmates of "TD" weren't daunted by the lack of subways and buses. Kim Zimmer (Nola Aldrich) and Larry Reilly (Calvin Barnes) were seen zooming into the NBC building via wheels of their own, roller skates that is. And Nancy Pinkerton (Vivica Strand) announced that she'd purchased a Margaret Rutherford bicycle, explaining "The bike has three speeds: slow, medium and fast. It goes uphill, downhill and includes two baskets to carry scripts and such. What more could I have asked for?" Once again, New Yorkers proved that "necessity is the mother of invention."

Soap opera fans came in droves a couple of weeks ago when "Soaps Alive" presented a benefit performance, sponsored by the Baltimore Department of Promotions and Tourism, at the Baltimore Civic Center. Spotlights were the musical talents of Ruth Warrick (Phoebe on "AGT"), Don Stewart (Mike on "GL"), Joel Crothers (Miles on "EON") and Colleen Zenk (Barbara on "ATWT"). TV columnist Jon-Michael Reed emceed the musical extravaganza.

New cast additions include Ron Harper as Taylor Hollis on "AW," Edgar Daniels as Sebastian on "Y&R," Geraldine Court (ex-June Laverty on "AW") to "GL," as Jennifer Richards, and Kristen Vigard as Jennifer's daughter, Morgan. Frank Runeyon and Peter Reckell as Stavros (Steve) Andropoulos and Eric Hollister joined "ATWT," and Tom Urich joined "TD" as Jim Nelson. Tom is the real life brother of Robert "Vegas" Urich.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

GLAMOUR QUEEN — I saw Barbara Stanwyck on "Charlie's Angels," and after the show the family got to talking. I remember she was once married to Robert Taylor. Was she ever married to anyone else? — A.H., Evansville, Ind.

Yes, she was married first to actor Frank Fay, who created the role of Elwood P. Dowd in "Harvey." They married in 1928 and divorced in 1935. They had a son Dion. She and Taylor married in 1939 and divorced in 1952. He died in 1969.

POINT OF REFERENCE — Can you tell me if Jerry Lubbock, Texas.

Well, it depends on where you are standing. To 83-year-old George Burns, Lewis, who is 54, is young. To Justin Healy, the little boy in "Kramer vs. Kramer," he is old. You know how old you are, so now answer the question yourself.

ABOUT THE DUKE — I have made a bet with a friend that the man who played Patty Duke's father on her TV series, the one where she played two roles, is the man she married. Am I right? — K.D., Cupertino, Calif.

You are wrong. William Schallert, now the president of the Screen Actors Guild, played Patty's father. He was on "Operation Petticoat," "The Addams Family" and "In Dickens, He's Faster." He also directs, and together he and Patty do theater.

TALL BARITONE — My friend and I have been having an argument about Robert Goulet's height. She says he is around 5-foot-6, and I disagree. Please settle this. We're good friends otherwise. — R.C.C., Anchorage, Alaska son remarked that Cash's decision to let him perform was "at a great sacrifice to the show, and an act of great courage." And he added that 1972 performance "started my whole career."

'Cash started my whole career' — Kris

Kristofferson's joy at being on the stage with Johnny Cash was evident, and he was proud to present Cash with a special award the CMA issued to honor Cash on his silver anniversary.

Kristofferson said, quite simply, "I'm sure I never would have been a performer if it weren't for Johnny Cash."

When Kris Kristofferson appeared on the stage of the Grand Ole Opry House with Johnny Cash to help celebrate Cash's 25 years in the music business, the audience squealed with delight at seeing two of their favorites performing together.

According to Kristofferson, who will appear on the 90-minute special, "Johnny Cash: The First 25 Years," to be broadcast Thursday, May 8, on CBS, much of his success as a performer is due to the encouragement of Johnny Cash.

"I can't overestimate the importance Johnny Cash had on my career," Kristofferson said. "He and his people have been my models."

Kristofferson was on his way to a teaching job at West Point when he decided he would take a stab at songwriting and headed for Nashville instead. He worked as a bartender and also as a janitor at CBS Records, meanwhile convinced there had to be some way to bring his songs to someone's attention.

Kristofferson was a member of the National Guard when he landed a helicopter on Cash's lawn. "I was training on the weekend and just happened to have a tape of 'Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down' with me," he recalled. "The unusual tactic paid off. Cash listened to the tape, loved the song, recorded it and made it a hit. Kristofferson was on his way to becoming one of Nashville's most gifted writers. Kristofferson went on to write many more hits, such as 'Me and Bobby McGee' and 'Help Me Make It Through the Night.' In 1970, the Country Music Association named him Songwriter of the Year. But for all the recognition and fame, he was still relatively inexperienced as a performer. That's when Cash helped him again."

Cash was scheduled to perform at the Newport Folk Festival in 1972. Each performer was allotted a specific, limited amount of time. Cash insisted on giving Kristofferson the lion's share of his — something Kristofferson is still grateful for. Kristofferson

THURSDAY

Emerson Marshall (Wilfrid Hyde-White, l.) congratulates the new partner of the law firm, Eliot Streeter (Joe Regalbuto, r.), but the news leaves William Simmons (John Getz), shocked, on ABC's "The Associates," Thursday, May 1. (Simmons wears on the right to make last-minute changes.)

Carol imports lashes; Manilow keeps NY pad

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Carol Channing sends to Korea and Hong Kong for those smashing false eyelashes of hers, in case you want to know where she gets them. — LA's Barry Manilow on why he keeps a pad in NYC: "Because the Big Apple's craziness makes me cook, that's why!" — Raquel Welch was semi-unfriendly when an undiplomatic clod told the sex symbol of the Western world he'd met her big, strapping son, who's 19. — Bruce Jenner and the musus, Chrystie, are now about as close as the Ayatollah and Billy Graham.

Greg Peck's new passion is energy conservation. The hang-up is he's spending too much energy on it. — Question: If Gerald Ford were running for president, do you think he'd pardon Jimmy Carter???

Real classy moment in running into Claudette Colbert. We discussed the last time we'd been together. I suggested it was at some benefit luncheon in honor of some person and then I asked, "Do you remember who we were honoring that day?" Cool Colbert smiled and said, "Yes, dear. Me." Ugh! — Ruth Gordon is to co-star with Clint Eastwood and his lady, Sondra Locke, in "Any Which Way You Can." Needless to say, Ruthie ain't got the love scenes — Kiss rock star Gene Simmons took Chastity Bono to dinner, and the kid cleaned up two portions of chocolate cake. She even drowned the second piece in maple syrup. — Playboy wanted to stick Miss Piggy on their cover, but creator Jim Henson nixed the idea. — Paul Anka is collaborating with Burt Bacharach for the flick, "Together," starring Jacqueline Bisset and Maximilian Schell. — "Midnight Express" Brad Davis razzberry'd the longtime gold hoop-earring he always wore. He's running hot these days, so the new hoop is platinum.

Tony Curtis reconciled with wife Leslie. — Pope John Paul II owns two copies of "The Pope in America" books. — Ali MacGraw: "I'd rather live with a guy than marry him. Financial dependence is not sexy." — Lay Ullman: "To marry isn't so bad. It's better than waking up with someone and wishing you were hundreds of miles away." — Bert Parks will sing the "Chock Full O' Nuts" jingle. — Burt Reynolds is looking to write his memoirs and maybe include a little about Dinah, Sally and whoever else he hasn't missed.

Heavy lies the head that wears the crown and thin lies the hair. — Bonnie Prince Charlie is getting thin on top. — Bob Hope: "Somebody said I'm worth $500 million. If I had that kind of money I wouldn't have gone to Vietnam. I'd have sent for it!"

TV TATTLE

Paperback tie-in

Bantam Books has acquired the United States and Canadian book publication rights to Lorrimer's "Dallas" and "Knots Landing" and will produce a line of books following the saga of the Ewing family. According to Rollene W. Saal, Bantam's editor-in-chief, "We are working toward launching the publication of the first 'Dallas' paperback, timed to coincide with the series' return to CBS in September."

Hope's eighth

The eighth and last of the Bob Hope specials for the 1979-80 season — a final 90 minutes in a 16-hour seasonal output by Hope — is being planned as a combo 77th birthday celebration to honor the performer and a salute to the USO. According to daughter Linda Hope, the show's producer, the special is scheduled to shoot at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs on May 18. NBC will air the program May 28.

Comedy pilot

"Fisherman's Wharf," a half-hour sitcom pilot for NBC about a pair of feuding Italian-American families in San Francisco, has been taped by Columbia Pictures Television before an audience. The story concerns two families, the Barberas and the Famucis, whose feud dates back 70 years to an incident in Sicily. When the Barbera daughter, Nina — the divorced mother of a 10-year-old son — decides to remarry and has the temerity to pick Tom Famucci, the feud is reheated to the boiling point.

Junior soap

Meredith Broadcasting and Alan Sloan Inc. will produce a TV soap opera aimed at junior high kids. Five half-hours will probably be taped in sequence and then run as a late afternoon or prime access strip on the five Meredith stations (Pittsburgh, Phoenix, Kansas City, Syracuse and Bay City, Mich.) in September. After that, the producers look for syndication of the soap.

Gary Coleman stars

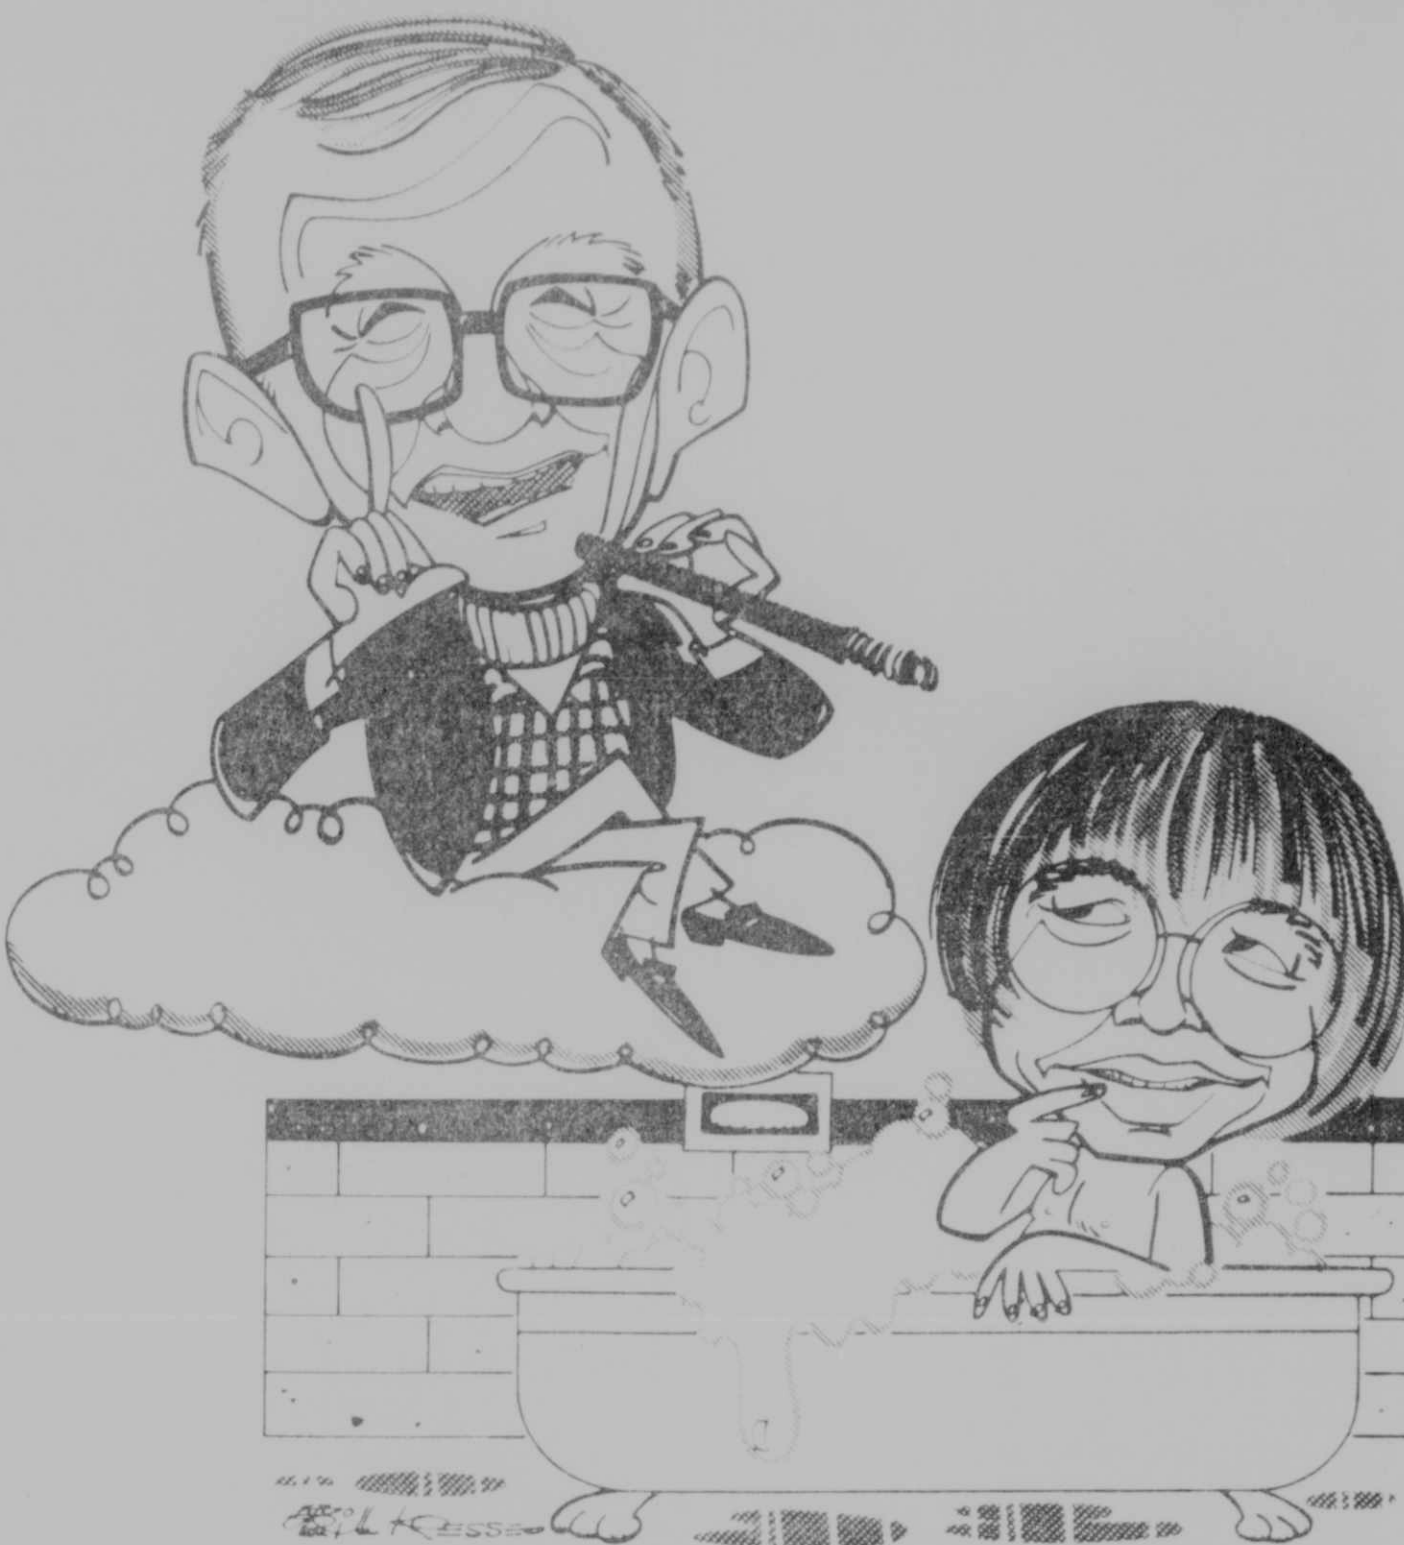

Production has begun on "Scout's Honor," a two-hour TV movie for NBC starring Gary Coleman, 12-year-old star of the network's "Diff'rent Strokes." Also starring in the film are Katherine Helmond ("Soup") and Wilfrid Hyde-White ("The Associates"). Coleman portrays Joey Seymour, an orphan shuffled constantly from one foster home to another, who wants more than anything else to be a Cub Scout.

Tilton producing

Charlene Tilton, 20, star of CBS's "Dallas," will produce her first film project with her manager, Jon Mercedes. An experimental film, titled "Pale Horse, Pale Rider," it will be a 30-minute short based on the short story by Katherine Ann Porter. Ms. Tilton and co-star Cliff Skoglund have been filming almost around the clock on weekends due to her series commitment during the week. Blonde Charlene will appear as a brunette in the film.

Costumes donated

Costumes from five years of "The Electric Company" have been donated to the Costume Collection of the Theater Development Fund by the TV program's producer, the Children's Television Workshop. The Costume Collection provides low-cost costumes and costume-related services for non-profit performing arts organizations across the country. The donation filled 45 large cartons and ran the gamut from work clothes to ball gowns to gorillas.

George Burns and John Denver star in "The Sunday Night Big Event: Oh, God," a comedy about a grocery store clerk to whom God suddenly appears, on Sunday, May 4, on NBC. It also stars Teri Garr.

The Tri-State Community Concert Association will conduct its membership campaign for the 1980-81 season from May 5 through 9.

The series will be comprised of five concerts, for which no single admissions will be available. Three definite programs have been scheduled at this time, including Toccatas and Flourishes, an organ-trumpet concert on October 23; a performance of the Victor Herbert opera, Naughty Marietta, on November 21; and the Young Americans in a Gershwin Festival on March 5. Dates for two additional programs will be announced at a later date.

The Concert Association will maintain headquarters at the Holiday Inn in Cumberland during the week of the campaign. For the convenience of people living in Garrett County, Mrs. Robert Stanton, Oakland, and Mrs. Robert Sincell, Mt. Lake Park, will handle memberships and supply additional information about the Association and the programs for next year.

CCC Interest Rates Announced

Paul A. Crowl, chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee announced that interest rates on all crop loans made by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) will be 13 percent.

Crowl said the new rates are based on the cost of borrowing money from the U.S. Treasury. Continuing interest rates at the earlier level would result in losses to CCC.

Farmers who had applied for loans before April 15 would not be affected by the new interest rate, Crowl said.

The interest rate for 1979-crop commodity loans had been nine percent. The interest rate for farm storage facility loans had been 10.5 percent since March 22, 1979.

Crowl added that all producers are eligible for farm storage facility loans, regardless of program participation. Commodity loans are available to all 1979 program participants and those nonparticipants who agree to immediately enter the Grain Reserve.

For additional information persons should contact the County ASCS Office, said Crowl.

Amusement Tax Revenues Higher

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reports admission and amusement tax distributions to Maryland's counties, cities and towns were up nearly 25 percent for the quarter ending March 31, 1980.

"Checks totaling $2,719,918 have been sent to the subdivisions as their share of admissions and amusement tax revenues for January, February and March 1980. That's a considerable increase over the $2,172,265 returned to the subdivisions for the same period of 1979," Mr. Goldstein said. Garrett County received $18,557.96.

Tax revenues from night club entertainment and admissions to athletic events, motion pictures and shows and exhibits all posted gains, while the theatre, opera and concert category posted a decline, when compared to the same period of last year.

For the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1980, the subdivisions have received a total of $8,379,849 in admissions and amusement tax revenues, up 16.7 percent from the $7,185,178 distributed for the first three quarters of Fiscal Year 1979.

Admissions and amusement tax rates are set by local elected officials. The tax revenue is collected by the State Comptroller's Office and distributed to the subdivisions on a quarterly basis.

Farm Bureau To Sponsor Energy Idea Program

Maryland Farm Bureau is joining with the American Farm Bureau in a new program to acquire new ideas for conserving and producing energy, according to a release from the state Bureau.

The Energy Idea Search is for innovative ideas and technology that will save energy in farm buildings, farm operations, or produce energy needed for agriculture.

The search program consists of two categories, "Energy Saved," and "Germ of an Idea."

In the "Energy Saved" section, any Farm Bureau member who has already developed a way to conserve energy in a farm building, operation, or around the house, is encouraged to share the idea with the state Farm Bureau office. If the idea is selected for publication in the monthly Farm Bureau paper, the member will receive a cash award.

The "Germ of an Idea" category is designed to surface new inventions, modifications or concepts that have the potential to conserve or produce energy for some part of a farm operation, but which have not yet been constructed or implemented. Entries will be forwarded direct to AFBF. From those entries, ten members will be invited to present their ideas at a national Energy Symposium in November, 1980. They will receive travel expenses and a $500 cash award.

Any Farm Bureau member wishing to submit an entry in either category should request an entry form from the Maryland Farm Bureau office.

Theft Heads Court Docket

In Garrett County District Court last week, a Swanton man was found guilty of battery in connection with an incident on March 28.

Jessie James Tichnell, 23, Swanton, was found guilty of battery charges filed against him by Raymond E. Guy, Chief of Police, Luke, MD. According to Harland Tichnell, arresting officer, Garrett County Sheriff's office, when the defendant was stopped for a routine traffic violation, he became uncooperative, kicking the officer in the leg, and resisting arrest. Tichnell was fined $25.

In a separate incident, Paul William Keplinger, 32, Arthur, W. Va., was found guilty of breach of contract charges filed by Susan Robinette, Oakland. According to the complainant, Keplinger entered into a home improvement contract with the Robinette family to perform renovations to a dwelling. Before completion of the project, the defendant ceased to perform further work, and has yet failed to complete the contract. Judge Lewis R. Jones found Keplinger guilty of the charge, and imposed a $250 fine.

Albert C. DeWitt, Jr., 31, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of a theft charge filed by Richard Weeks, Radio Shack, Oakland. The incident occurred March 28, when, according to the complainant, DeWitt was observed removing a CB microphone from a display in the store, after which he left the store without paying, and drove away. The license number of the car was taken at that time. The defendant was fined $50, ordered to make restitution to Radio Shack, and sentenced to ten days in jail. The sentence was suspended and DeWitt was placed on 12 months unsupervised probation.

In other court business,

Sandra Karen Switzer of Deer Park brought charges of theft against Kay Offutt, Oakland. According to the complainant, personal articles, tools, and furniture were taken from her apartment. The defendant claimed the articles were being held for back rent payment. Mrs. Offutt was found not guilty of the charge.

Four cases were declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney, James L. Sherbin. They included charges of theft, battery, and destruction of property.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

The final program of the 1979-80 Tri-State Community Concert Season will be Bob Greene's presentation of The World of Jelly Roll Morton on Tuesday evening, May 6, at Fort Hill Auditorium in Cumberland.

Jelly Roll Morton claimed that he invented jazz when he took ragtime and made it hot. He and his Red Hot Peppers, the band he formed in the mid-20's, left their mark on American music. But until director, narrator and pianist Bob Greene became interested in Jelly Roll the only access to his technique was through recordings, since he left no written music.

Bob Green began as a self-taught amateur musician. Following graduation from Columbia University he became a scriptwriter for ABC and CBS, and he worked with Edward R. Murrow on the Voice of America. His career as a jazz musician developed in 1968, when he appeared at the New Orleans Jazz Festival playing the piano in a style developed through listening to Jelly Roll Morton recordings in 1972 he formed a band, and since that time has toured the country and made appearances in New York's Lincoln Center and Carnegie Hall.

The program in Cumberland will include a commentary on Jelly Roll Morton's life and music, in addition to music that was played by his band, and other numbers interpreted as he might have done them. The program should prove both informative and entertaining. The public may purchase tickets at the door.

Entries for the contest may be submitted after April 21, but must be received or postmarked no later than August 1 in the Office of Natural Resource Assistance and Information on C-4 of the Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401.

PROPERTY TAX LOSES AT POLL

According to a recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation for the U. S. Government on the average citizen's opinion on taxes, it will come as no surprise that the results showed that the least popular tax of all was the property tax. The purpose of the survey was to find out attitudes on the proposed value-added tax, property tax, income tax and sales tax.

Although no particular tax received a resounding approval, it was a clear-cut message that Americans' major complaint with our fiscal system lies with the property tax. When queried as to which tax was the "least fair," 45 percent selected the property tax, the federal income tax placed a far second with a 19 percent disapproval.

On the subject of raising more state revenue, 71 percent preferred increasing taxes on sales or income. On raising more federal funds, 70 percent of those polled indicated the best method would be to eliminate tax loopholes.

Dianna Beeghly Becomes Bride Of Roger Timmerman March 29

Wedding vows were exchanged March 29, 1980, by Dianna L. Beeghly and Roger E. Timmerman at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren. Reverend Verne Leininger officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a mid-waisted gown trimmed with lace, long sheer lace-cuffed sleeves and curving to a sweeping chapel train in the back. A single strand of pearls was borrowed from the groom's mother. Her Juliette cap was trimmed in lace and pearls, from which fell a veil of sheer illusion. She carried a nosegay of yellow jonquils and white daisies. The altar was decorated with candles and Easter lilies.

Miss Robin A. Woods, Ursina, Pa., friend of the bride, served as maid-of-honor. She wore a sheer yellow floor-length gown with a pleated skirt and a corsage of yellow daisies.

The groom wore a light-brown three-piece suit with a white shirt and wore a white and yellow daisy cluster boutonniere.

Serving as best man was Kevin Callis, Deer Park, friend of the groom.

Brian Richter, nephew of the groom, served as the ringbearer. He carried a heart-shaped satin and lace pillow. The ushers were Ronald Richter, the groom's brother-in-law, and Freddie Callis, the groom's friend, both of Deer Park. All wore white and yellow boutonnieres.

Soloist Miss Lisa Frazee sang "You Light Up My Life" and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Leininger, who also played the "Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding March".

The bride's mother wore an off-white suit, street length, with brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue suit, street length, with beige accessories. Both were given white and yellow daisy corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church recreation room. Centering the table was a four-tiered wedding cake, trimmed in yellow jonquils and white daisies and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The vanilla and chocolate cake was served by the groom's great aunt, Mrs. Naomi Merrill, assisted by his sister, Mrs. Gayle Richter.

Serving the punch and coffee were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Helen Judy, Manassas, Va., Mrs. Pauline Beeghly, the bride's grandmother, and were assisted by Stephanie Smith, friend of the bride, both of Oakland, and Mrs. Mildred Woods, from Ursina, Pa.

The bride chose a brown pant-suit with rust accessories as her going away ensemble. The couple took a weekend honeymoon and now reside in Piper's Trailer Court at Rosedale.

Miss Davis Weds Mr. Tasker

Wedding vows were exchanged between Mildred Cheryl Davis and Dennis Carlton Tasker on January 18, 1980. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Sharp at the Assembly of God Church in Kitzmiller.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Davis, Swanton. The groom is the son of the late Mr. Clarence Tasker and Mrs. Vivian Tasker, Shallmar.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert E. Davis. Rena Woods, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Steyer, sister of the bride, and Rita Kimble, sister of the groom.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my dear mother, Grace D. VanSickle, who passed away one year ago, May 3, 1979.

You can only have one mother patient, kind and true. No other fragrance in all the world will be as true to you. For all her loving kindness she asks nothing in return. If all the world deserves you, to your mother you can turn. Friends think I have forgotten when at times they see me smile, but little they know the heartaches my smile hides all the while. For the precious memories are treasures no one can steal; but death is a heartache no one can heal. So all I can do, Dear Mother, is go and tend your grave and leave behind a token of love to the best mother God ever gave.
Sadly missed by your daughter Mary and family

Secretary Of The Year Awards Luncheon Held

The Second Annual Secretary of the Year Awards Luncheon, sponsored by the Business and Continuing Education Divisions of Garrett Community College, was held last week at Will 'O the Wisp, in conjunction with Secretaries Week, April 20 through 26.

The luncheon was open to all secretaries and their employers throughout the county. The sponsors encouraged employers to "take their secretary to lunch." Approximately 83 people attended the buffet-style luncheon, and awards were presented for "Secretary of the Year," in three categories. Secretaries were nominated by their employers to receive awards. According to Tamara Garber, Assistant Professor of Secretarial Science, GCC, "many secretaries didn't even know they had been nominated."

The winner of the first category, secretaries having over 10 years experience, was Priscilla Wolfe, secretary at Southern Middle School. Ms. Wolfe was nominated by Nancy Turney, school counselor.

There were two winners of the second category, secretaries having 10 years or less experience, as the judges' decision ended in a tie. Deborah Frantz, secretary at Juvenile Services Administration for the state of Maryland, and Deborah Georg, secretary at First National Bank, received the awards. Ms. Frantz was nominated by Wayne Wilt, Supervisor of Juvenile Probation. Ms. Georg was nominated by Francis Grimm, Vice President of First National Bank.

Susan Stem, administrative secretary to the President of GCC, was the winner of the third category, reserved for GCC secretaries. Ms. Stem was nominated by Dr. Donald Ruhl, College President.

Each winner received a pewter Jefferson Cup. According to Ms. Garber, secretaries were judged on "skills and personal qualities which make them efficient secretaries." The awards were presented by the winners of last year's competition.

Following the awards presentation, Ken Richmond, Garrett County Memorial Hospital Administrator, was introduced as the guest speaker. Mr. Richmond's speech was entitled, "If You Do Exactly What You're Told To Do, No More and No Less, I Wouldn't Change You For The World! But, I Wouldn't Hire You Either." According to Ms. Garber, the speech, addressed to secretaries and employers, centered around the thought that secretaries should show initiative and professional development; and employers should further utilize their secretaries and take advantage of their capabilities.

A secretarial workshop was conducted at the Oakland Center of GCC, prior to the luncheon. The three-hour workshop, conducted by Rick Briggs, Career Counselor at GCC, centered on "Human Relations in the Office." There were approximately 33 people in attendance.
